SPECIAL GUIDE

The Step-by-Step Detox and Juicing Guide

The practical companion to Season 3, Section 38 (the detox talk): weaning off heavy foods, restoring the gut, what goes into the green juice, how to juice it, and the fruit juice that is always made separately (a written guide, not a talk)

Why this section matters

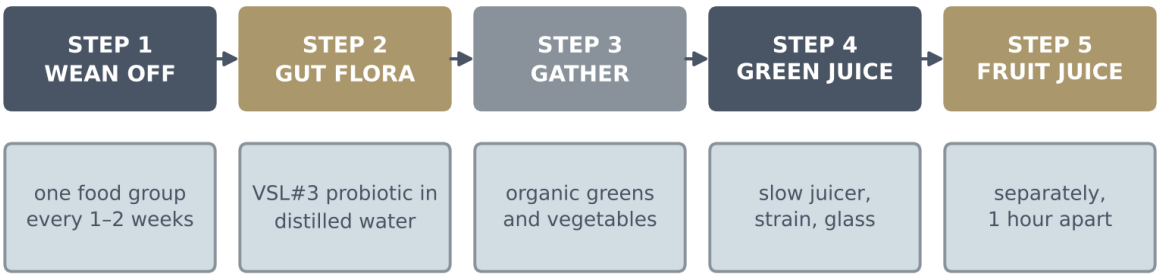

Season 3, Section 38 gave the reason for the detox: your body and consciousness rise as one unit, and a cleaner body lets the molecules spin faster and hold the new frequency without getting sick. This section is the kitchen manual: the exact order of steps, the ingredients and the juicing technique, so you can actually do it, slowly but surely.

Added safety note (not part of her guide)

This is her own protocol, shared as her experience. See a doctor and a nutritionist before you start, and have an allergy test and blood work, then regular tests as you go (see S3 38.4).

Check with your doctor first if you: take a blood thinner such as warfarin (kale, chard, collards, broccoli, bok choy and spinach are very high in vitamin K and change how it works); have kidney disease or kidney stones (chard and spinach are high in oxalate, and juices are high in potassium); have diabetes (fruit juice raises blood sugar fast); are pregnant or breastfeeding; have an eating disorder; or take any medication.

Juice is an addition to food here, never a replacement for it: don't go on juice only, water only or fasting (see S3 38.6, S3 40.7). Never stop prescribed medication.

Before step 1: doctor, nutritionist, allergy test and blood work (S3 38).

The five steps of the guide, in order. Nothing in the figure goes beyond the guide.

The five steps

Step 1: Wean off heavy and toxic foods gradually

Before starting a full detox, you need to wean your body off processed and heavy foods to prevent shock and minimize detoxification side effects (such as rashes).

Timeline: wean off items over a period of 1 to 2 weeks per food category.

What to eliminate:
• Processed foods, artificial chemicals, and GMOs.
• Starches and bread.
• Meat and fish.
• Dairy products and cheese (which irritate the gut flora and are toxic during a cleanse).

How this fits Season 3, Section 38

The talk gave the same slow principle with a slightly different pace: about two weeks per food (beef, then chicken, then pork, then bread and gluten), and about four weeks per item for vegetarians. Both say: one thing at a time, and if you feel unwell, go back a step (she returned to fish, potatoes and salad for a few weeks).

Added safety note (not part of her guide)

A rash, itching or swelling may be an allergy rather than "detox": stop the new food and see your doctor. Get urgent help for swelling of the lips, tongue or throat, or trouble breathing.

Step 2: Restore the gut flora (if you've taken antibiotics)

If you have taken antibiotics, your gut flora and protective stomach lining will be compromised, leading to inflammation.

Select the right probiotic: use VSL#3 in powder form, purchased from the refrigerator section (not over-the-counter).

Timing: take it at least 2.5 hours after taking antibiotics so the medication does not kill the beneficial bacteria.

Preparation:

1. Pour about half a cup of distilled water into a glass (always use clean distilled water, as regular tap water chemicals can interfere with live bacteria).
2. Pour the VSL#3 powder into the water and stir thoroughly.
3. Drink 2 to 3 times a day if you are actively experiencing gastrointestinal pain or toxicity, or once daily for maintenance.

Her detox talk adds (S3 38.5)

In the talk she explains that VSL changed the formula, and the doctor took the original formula to Visbiome, "the company that I end up using". So this guide names VSL#3, and her later talk names Visbiome as the original formula.

Added safety note (not part of her guide)

Finish any antibiotic course exactly as prescribed. If you are seriously ill, have a weakened immune system or a central line, ask your doctor before taking probiotics. Regular stomach pain means stop juicing and see your doctor and nutritionist (see S3 38.5).

Step 3: Gather organic ingredients

Prepare your daily supply of fresh vegetables using a masticating juicer (such as the Omega 3000, which extracts more juice than shredders).

Greens & veggies	Amount
Swiss chard (green or red)	not given
Green kale or dinosaur kale	not given
Collard greens (organic)	not given
Broccoli	not given
Bok choy	about 2 large leaves
Carrots	4 to 5
Zucchini (green or yellow)	1
Cucumbers (organic or GMO-free, peeled if needed)	2
Spinach (to add a smooth texture)	about 2 handfuls

Supplements & water:

- Raw powder capsules (pure chlorella and spirulina, e.g., taking about 10 capsules).
- Pure distilled water (due to its negative charge helping pull out chemicals).

FROM THE BOOKS From her books (HR, SD): she was guided to detox "with a lot of green and fruit juices" and still drinks six cups of green juice and two to four cups of fruit juice a day (HR), the same total as the eight to ten cups in S3 38.2. On water (SD): distilled water "appears to be neutral", but on meeting the toxins in a spinning human body it "recharges in the negative".

Added safety note (not part of her guide)

Follow the label dose for chlorella and spirulina, buy brands tested for contaminants, and ask your doctor first if you have an autoimmune condition, take a blood thinner, or are pregnant. Distilled water has no minerals, so get them from your food, and ask your doctor before drinking only distilled water long-term.

Step 4: Make the green juice

1. Chop everything into small pieces so the juicer processes the vegetables smoothly without burning out.

2. Start with the cucumbers: put cucumbers through the juicer first because of their high water content.
3. Recirculate the pulp/juice: as the juice extracts, take the extracted liquid/moisture and run it back through the juicer 3 to 4 times to extract all available water and nutrients.
4. Add greens progressively: feed in the bok choy, spinach, kale, collard greens, and broccoli while using the cucumber content to push everything through.
5. Strain the final juice: because masticating juicers leave tiny vegetable particles, pour the finished green juice through a fine strainer to remove excess pulp.
6. Storage: this process yields about 6 cups of green juice. Pour it into glass bottles: drink half and store the rest in the refrigerator for later in the day.

The order for the green juice, from the guide.

From her detox talk (S3 38.2), not this guide: start with no more than one cup, finished within about ten minutes, on a day off near a bathroom; get used to the bitterness; fresh, not powder.

> Added safety note (not part of her guide)
> Fresh juice spoils quickly: keep it sealed in the fridge and drink it the same day. Wash produce well.

Step 5: Make the fruit juice separately

Never mix fruits and vegetables together: fruits ferment faster than greens; combining them causes nutrient loss and gas.

Timing: if you drink both, wait at least 1 hour between finishing your green juice and consuming fruit juice.

Fruit juice recipe:

1. Take 1 to 2 cups of frozen organic berry blend from the freezer.
2. Dice 4 organic apples.
3. Blend the berries and apples together (add a small splash of distilled water if the mixture is too thick) to yield your daily fruit juice.

The method — One Day of the Guide

1. On your current weaning step: 1 to 2 weeks per food category (Step 1).
2. VSL#3 in distilled water, at least 2.5 hours after any antibiotic (Step 2).
3. Juice the greens: cucumbers first, recirculate 3 to 4 times, add greens, strain, glass bottles (Step 4).
4. Drink half; store the rest in the refrigerator for later in the day.
5. Wait at least 1 hour, then have the fruit juice (Step 5).

Questions answered

This is a written guide, not a talk, so there were no audience questions. Her answers on juicing, shakes, the elimination diet and the gut are in S3 38.

Her guide is given here in her own words. Only the grey "Added safety note" boxes, the blue boxes (from her detox talk and her books) and the italic line from her detox talk are not from this guide; the table says "not given" where she gives no amount.

Remember

- Wean off: 1 to 2 weeks per food category.
- VSL#3 in distilled water, 2.5 hours after antibiotics.
- Cucumbers first, recirculate 3 to 4 times, strain, glass.
- Never mix fruits and vegetables: at least 1 hour apart.
