Start here

This book turns a series of video talks into plain-language lessons for someone starting from zero. Each video is one section, and every section uses the same layout, so you always know where to look:

Part	What it gives you
The big idea	The whole talk in a few sentences
Key teachings	Each idea taught, in plain words, in the original order
The method	What to actually do, step by step
Questions answered	Every audience question, answered in plain language
Remember	The few lines to carry with you

Ideas that return in later videos are not re-explained; the section points back to where they were first taught (for example, see 1.3). The teaching's vocabulary — the structure, hologram, pull out, crystallize — is collected once in the Toolkit at the back, along with the master principles and a daily practice. The Toolkit grows as sections are added.

Each section is also checked against four companion books. Where a book confirms or deepens a teaching, a short From the books note appears, marked with the book's initials:

Mark	Book
SD	The Scientific Downloads
NT	Nano Technology: The Constructive Elements
DP	Downloads & Predictions
HR	The Harmonic Reactor

Seasons

The talks come in seasons. Season 1 has 19 sections; Season 2 will have 27. Section numbers start again at 1 in each season, so from Season 2 on, a reference to Season 1 is written with S1 (for example see S1 2.1), and a reference to Season 2 with S2.

SEASON 2 · SECTION 1

A New Season: The 30-Year Window of Ascension

Why everything hidden is coming to the surface, how your higher self wakes you up, the 30-year window, watching without judging, and being tested on your weakest link (live talk with questions)

The big idea

For a long time, ideas were projected into our holograms through television, media and schooling; because we are creators, whatever we believed, we manifested, and we stayed locked in a manipulated 3D reality. Now consciousness is ascending, so your higher self, which exists on every platform of reality, will no longer allow it: with the councils, it places situations in your hologram that wake you from the trance, again and again, until you see. There is a 30-year window to move from 3D into 5D, and it happens moment to moment, not in one sudden event. So pull out and watch without judging anyone, be the beacon, look within when you are tested, clear each lesson 100%, and thank every gift, because each moment is your whole universe.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

From Season 2 on, references to Season 1 are written with S1 (for example, see S1 2.1).

Key teachings

1.1 Why a new season

The talks continue as a second season, like a channel you tune into to learn. The information now coming is more complex, and it is released step by step on purpose. Flooding someone with too much at once shocks their conscious system: they shut down and can no longer take anything in. That is why the teachings began with practical experience (living on donations and manifesting without asking for anything) before moving to deeper levels: each level was proven in practice, so trust could be built.

So study the earlier material again, even many times, and make notes. Know the protocols well enough to use them in the moment without panicking (see S1 10.4).

1.2 Everything hidden comes to the surface

The coming years are described as a time when situations escalate in every government structure in the world. Each person projects their own hologram according to their level of consciousness (see S1 5.6), so each will meet situations that match their vibration. If you are still in a deep trance, the manipulation will pop up through synchronicity, right in front of you: for example, someone you trusted all your life is revealed so clearly that you can no longer deny it.

Why this is happening: we are master creators. For a long time, frequencies were projected into our holograms through television, media, books and the school system. Whatever you believed was real, you manifested, so we kept co-creating the manipulated 3D reality the talk calls the Archon structure, without knowing the code: that you are the projector and the creator, and can shift timelines by creating a new one for yourself (see S1 2.5, 16.2).

1.3 Your higher self steps in

You exist on every platform of reality at once: in 3D, in 5D, as an extraterrestrial, on a council, to infinity, as the soul splits into countless realities (see S1 6.4). Every pixel of the quantum structure is a timeline with multiple realities within it, and you carry vibrations back and forth between them.

Consciousness is ascending as a whole, on every platform, and it has to balance itself. So your higher self will no longer allow you to be manipulated. Above the extraterrestrial platforms are the councils, such as the Council of Nine, who look over the ETs and the planets. With the councils' permission, your higher self decides to "sabotage" your hologram: it places a situation in your reality that wakes you from the trance. The example: someone trapped in harmful behaviour out of fear, who doesn't know how to get out, is given an experience that shows them the way.

Once you wake up, you start shifting into realities that lead to ascension, if you choose to wake up. If you keep denying ("this isn't true"), the situation repeats, "to infinite", until you finally see it.

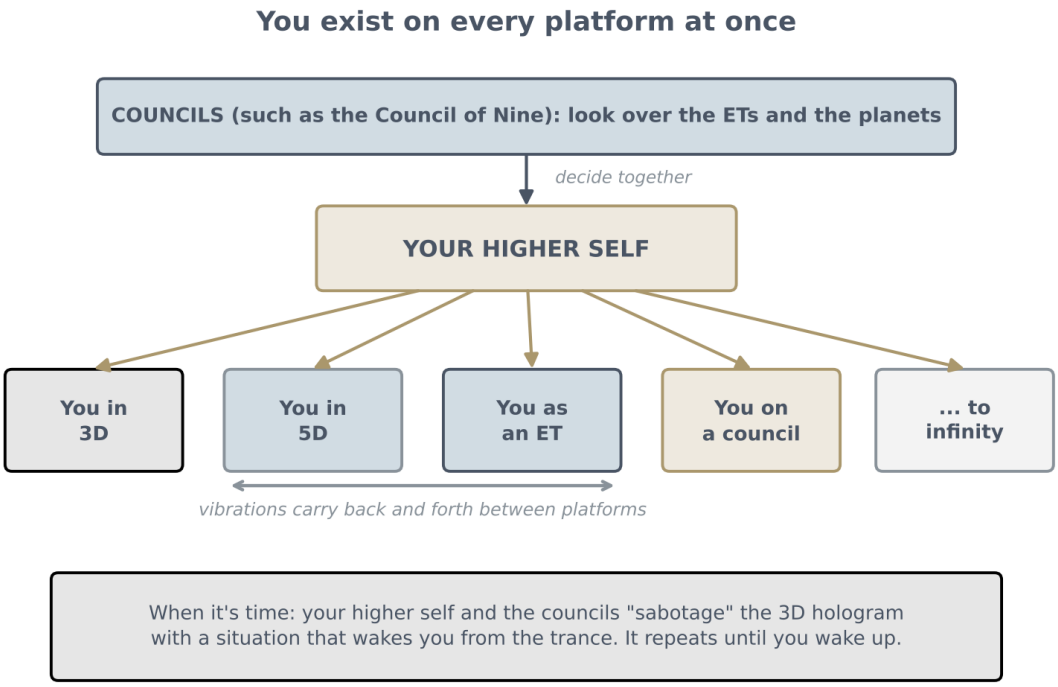

Fig. S2-1A — You exist on every platform; your higher self and the councils decide together, and a waking-up situation is placed in your 3D hologram.

FROM THE BOOKS "If you do not change your prospective from (−) to (+), your higher self of existence will sabotage your own hologram momentum so you can wake up from your disillusions" (DP). In HR, every pixel of light in the quantum structure carries realities within it.

1.4 The 30-year window, and Aria

The guidance gives a time frame of 30 years for the ascension process: 30 years of portal openings to transform 3D reality and shift the planet into 5D. During this time government structures change, and everyone finds their place: some will have contact with their galactic families, and others will work for the new fifth-dimensional planet, called Aria, meaning "new beginning". The benevolent beings are helping so that we can take our sovereignty back, but it is up to us.

New technology will come, such as self-sustaining eco-cities. Money is still needed to support scientists and people through the change; take it away now and the whole system collapses. So the change happens gradually: technologies released step by step, old structures replaced by people with a fifth-dimensional understanding. Revelations also come step by step: someone who learns at once that an institution they deeply trusted is corrupt could break down, so truths surface individually, at a pace each person can take.

FROM THE BOOKS DP gives a related timeline: "All that in 20 years of rebuilding. And in 30 years we will be completely ready to connect with our galactic families through the portals." It names the new fifth-dimensional Earth "ARIA". So the talk speaks of a 30-year window for the whole shift, while DP splits it into 20 years of rebuilding and readiness for contact at 30.

1.5 Transitioning moment to moment

Ascension is not an instant event where everyone jumps into 5D at once. You transition moment to moment: by holding the vibration and switching realities while keeping the same vibration, you finally build a permanent 5D outcome (see S1 1.3, 17.2). Because there is so much manipulation, you have to keep steering through it: recognise what is happening, let go of the structure, and say, "No, thank you. I see what you're doing."

The talk adds a claim that a recent storm was "self-made", not natural, and that this is why it did little damage. This is the talk's claim, not an established fact; in any storm, follow official weather guidance.

1.6 The message, and no judgment

A strong message was received from the Council of Nine: "Do not attempt to stop the process of ascension for humanity. You will be captured individually on the soul level… there will be no memory on your soul and you will go back to source for recycling. Do not attempt to stop the soul that is on the top of the chain of your government… It is done. Must recognize your deeds."

What recycling means: when a soul refuses every attempt to wake it and is completely off balance, consciousness returns it to the beginning, to rebuild and learn little by little until it can return to the light. Consciousness always leans to the heart structure because it has to preserve itself; what was built in the 3D Archon structure was artificial and doesn't recognise the heart (see S1 2.8, 13.5). People acting against humanity, in any field, will see their deeds surface, not as judgment but because their frequency no longer matches.

The talk stresses that this is not about taking a political side; it is a message given as received. Its advice: pull out and watch, aware that there are negative influences on every side, and that the old back-and-forth was always a game. The end result is in the name of humanity, but how it happens is infinite probability: if someone acting negatively decides at any moment to help humanity, they shift timeline immediately.

And no judgment, even of people doing great harm: you don't know how they were trapped or manipulated, and each of them is part of the same one particle, another version of you (see S1 1.1, 16.4). So in your own platform, be the beacon, so that the other version of you may wake up. Feeling hurt or angry is human, and anger isn't the same as judgment; what matters is to keep holding the vibration of giving, sharing and support.

FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this message under the title "The Head Of State". Its printed version also contains a line about a specific political event (an impeachment) that the talk did not read out. DP also says those disturbing ascension "will be personally extracted from the reality", and that a soul that keeps choosing the negative is "recycled back to singular particle momentum… where you will learn how to create again."

1.7 To see a timeline, project its vibration

The talk says advanced healing technologies already exist but are being held back: for example "med pods" that heal with frequency, and growing a person's own organs and tissue from their stem cells. These are the talk's claims; the idea that such treatments are ready and being withheld is not established.

The teaching inside it: to see a timeline, you have to project its vibration; otherwise you won't see it. So don't sit and wait: take action. Look after your body, do things in the name of humanity, and research what helps, so that you are vibrating with the timeline you want to arrive in.

> Important health note
> The talk mentions recoveries through natural remedies and herbal teas, including from serious illness. These are personal accounts, not evidence. Never use natural remedies instead of medical treatment for cancer or any serious illness; talk to your doctor before any detox or remedy.

1.8 Tested on your weakest link

Every day you are tested, by your guidance, your teachers and consciousness itself, on what you do (see S1 18.1). And you will be tested exactly on your weakest link, because your higher self knows what you haven't learned yet. Since you are a hologram, the guidance can place a hologram on top of yours, a situation or an experience with someone, to teach you the lesson.

So when a family member, partner or child does something that shocks you, ask: what can I do to switch this to the positive, and what am I learning? Look within and peel the layers; get the ego out. If you are the projector, the situation came from you. Then act from the heart: don't go after the person, don't be mean, don't be greedy. That neutralizes the situation and transforms it, and once the lesson is cleared, that kind of challenge stops coming (see S1 14.3, 18.2).

1.9 Thank every gift; money is a transition

Be happy even if you receive $1. Every gift, even $2, and the person giving it are, by quantum law, your entire universe in that moment, and your gratitude to them decides the next moment you shift into (see S1 14.1). This is how you hold the vibration, moment to moment.

Energy Philanthropy works: people who moved to it report more sessions and more income, because others chose to support them (see S1 5.1). And if one person has nothing to give you, perhaps they gave food to a neighbour that day; that is giving too. If it doesn't come from one person, it comes from another.

Money is an illusion, yet part of the transition: it will fund the platforms that lead to free-energy technology. It isn't evil; the problem is that it was separated from the heart, a "quantum bypass". So don't separate from the heart: support given from the heart, in any shape or form, leads to higher-dimensional timelines, because benevolent timelines are built on the heart structure, not on negativity and dense matter.

1.10 Clear it 100%: not one particle left

To make a full shift, you have to clear everything, not one particle left. Even if 1% of a vibration is off balance, it comes back to you, because your hologram reflects it, until you perfect it. Once it is perfected, the shift is absolute (see S1 1.5, 7.4).

1.11 If one can, everyone can

Every one of us has a higher self on other platforms (ET, councils, more), because we are part of consciousness itself. As you open your channelling and realise you are consciousness, you start "telepathically making a phone call" with your other timelines, and information comes in instantly, without learning it from a book (see S1 18.3). And since everyone you see is another version of you, if one person can do it, you can do it; the teacher is only showing how.

Guidance can also be checked: when something sounds wrong, research it, and confirmation tends to come through synchronicity (see S1 13, Method; 18.3). The talk's example is its advice on distilled water, which it says removes harmful chemicals rather than good nutrients. That is the talk's claim; see S1 12.7 and its note.

1.12 Artificial timelines (the talk's claims)

The talk describes consciousnesses that built artificial timelines and survive only by suppressing humanity, using people's energy like a battery; such souls can't ascend naturally and would first have to clear everything they did (see S1 13.5). It also repeats a claim, also printed in DP, that vaccines contain hidden nano-sequences that alter DNA and can be "switched on" later by chemicals.

> Important note
> The vaccine claim is false: there is no evidence for it, and approved vaccines contain no such material. Please make decisions about vaccination with a doctor or nurse, not from this talk.

The method — Wake Up and Hold the Vibration

For whatever surfaces in the world, and whatever tests you personally:

1. Pull out and watch. Take no side and judge no one; just observe what is surfacing.
2. Name the manipulation. "No, thank you. I see what you're doing." Neutralize it and let go of that structure.
3. When you are tested, ask: "What is this teaching me? How can I switch it to the positive?"
4. Look within. Peel the layers and get the ego out: you are the projector.

5. Act from the heart. Don't go after the person, don't be mean, don't be greedy.
6. Clear it 100%. Not one particle left, or it returns.
7. Project the timeline you want to see. Take action for it, in the name of humanity.
8. Thank every gift, however small: that moment is your whole universe.

Questions answered

Are there also unnatural ways to infiltrate us with holograms, such as fear of abductions, that make the ego feel special but are really holding us back?

Yes. Because you are made of an energetic platform, holograms can be placed on top of your consciousness. The answer then makes serious claims about organised abuse being used to split people's personalities and implant trigger-word programming; these are the talk's claims, not established facts, and this book doesn't repeat its references. The teaching it draws: that kind of interference is done without your permission. The higher levels of consciousness work only with your soul's permission, through the heart, to help you wake up. The host summed it up, and the answer agreed: things don't happen to you, they happen for you, so that you can learn from them.

Videos of the Moon and Sun seem to show many ships and fleets coming and going. What is that activity?

Fleets of federations of different groups. Years earlier, positive extraterrestrials took down the grid around the planet, a holographic grid that sent souls straight back into 3D however good they were (see S1 17.3). Since then we have been free to manifest: learn the structure, stay in the heart through your actions and deeds, and you can shift out of the 3D Archon matrix into 5D and beyond. Some races were reluctant to help, because humans showed so little compassion to each other; they agreed once enough positive people proved humanity was worth it. One sincere heart can be enough, because consciousness is one particle. They help us break down the manipulation, but we gain our sovereignty back by taking action, like a student who has to do the work. Technology itself is good and part of ascension; their spacecraft are living consciousness, and what we call AI is really frequency, sonic sound, which is what we are made of. Supporting what is happening makes ascension potent in your own hologram.

A channelled exercise says: let go of what you think will happen, let go of yesterday, and let yourself become new in one moment. I'm happy to let go of continuity. How do I do that?

This is the Stop, Transform, Let Go protocol (see S1 7): every moment is its own reality. But there is a limit: a lesson can't be skipped. Like training to be a surgeon, you learn through the process; you can't jump straight to the end. Only the higher councils can decide to let you skip something, such as a sudden healing. What you can do with a negative situation, such as an argument or someone bothering you, is forgive, give gratitude to that location in your hologram to neutralize it, create a new hologram by your thoughts, emotions and deeds, and don't talk about it again. Keep filling the moment with new, positive input until you have shifted into a brand-new hologram; the more you talk about the old, the more you bring its frequency back.

As a child I heard a frequency so high it hurt, and my body seemed to rise: astral projection. What is that frequency? I believe it's how we can travel between dimensions.

No one can tell you the exact frequency of your moment: elevation and bilocation happen according to your vibration at that moment and the reality you are shifting into, and every moment is a new timeline, at a new location in the field (see S1 5.5). It is true that sound and cymatics can take you out of the body, but you have to know how, and you have to be permitted; it depends on your agreements, and you can't skip what you came to learn. Try lucid dreaming; it may be exactly your way to connect (see S1 8.14). In the end you don't need to leave: you are already connected and can create from this reality.

Coming next, as announced at the end: more complex material on sound and language: how words, as vibration and geometry, create platforms of reality and holograms.

Remember

- What was projected into you is now surfacing: see it, and you're the creator again.
- Your higher self wakes you up; it repeats until you see.
- 30 years, moment to moment: hold the vibration and steer.
- Watch without judging; be the beacon. Anyone can switch.
- Tested on your weakest link: look within, clear it 100%, thank every gift.

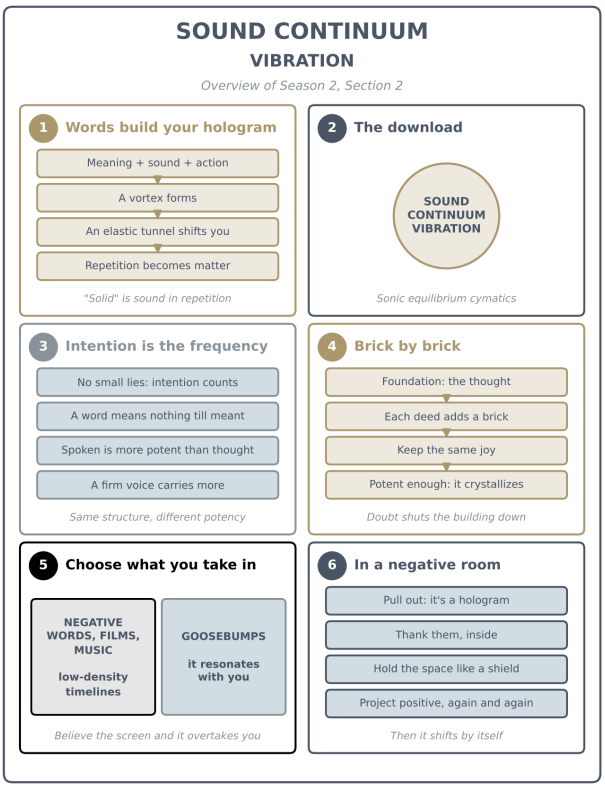

SEASON 2 · SECTION 2

Sound Continuum Vibration, Part 1: How Words Build Your Hologram

How sound, words and repetition create vortexes, tunnels and matter; why intention is the frequency; what to take in; and how to stay clear in a negative room (live talk with questions; part 2, Restoration, follows)

The big idea

Everything is built from light and sound, and so is your own reality. A word is a sonic vibration: joined with the meaning you give it (your thought) and your action, it creates a vortex in the quantum field that stretches like an elastic into a whirlpool tunnel, shifting you from one platform of reality to the next. Because that elastic moves back and forth endlessly, it repeats, and repetition is what we experience as solid matter. So your words are the sonic materialization of your hologram. What decides the effect is intention: it is the frequency. Choose what you say, hear and watch; build what you want brick by brick with the same joy; and when others project negativity, pull out, thank them, and keep projecting the positive.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

2.1 Deeper material, step by step

The new material is more complex, so it comes in two parts: this one, on how everything connects through the sound, vibration and frequency the quantum structure is made of (the trinity of frequency and sound, see S1 1.1, 1.2), and the next one, on restoration. Information is released according to how well people are taking it in consciously, level by level (see S2 1.1).

Downloads come in a specific sequence and are passed on without changing a word, even when the English sounds unusual, because the sequence itself carries the structure. It isn't learning something new so much as remembering what is already known in the field.

FROM THE BOOKS SD's opening notes say the downloads should not be changed: do not "substitute words and sentences because they are in code." SD also says "every word has sound geometry."

2.2 Your words build platforms of reality

When you speak, a sonic vibration comes out of your mouth and creates a structure, a whirlpool, in the reality around you. Combined with your thoughts and actions, it creates the hologram and the portals into your next timeline. So when you say something negative, you need to know what you are building around you.

That is why constant negative films, music with harmful words, and negative talk tune you into low-density timelines, where negative entities can exist. Keeping people in that vibration through media kept them trapped in an illusion of reality (see S2 1.2). The same applies to prayer: words repeated over and over build a whirlpool that crystallizes, so be careful what you repeat; if it is fearful or negative, you may loop in a dense reality without knowing why negativity keeps arriving.

The talk illustrates the prayer point with a claim about one particular religion, taken from an outside video, while saying it isn't against any faith. This book leaves out that example: it is an outside claim about a faith, not a teaching of the structure. The teaching applies to any words you repeat.

2.3 The download: Sound Continuum Vibration

The download names the process in one sequence: sound, continuum, vibration, sonic, equilibrium, cymatics. The words are given in that order on purpose, because each one builds a platform on the one before; drawn in sacred geometry, the sequence would show its own geometric structure. What the terms mean here:

• Sound: a waveform, measured in hertz, how many times it vibrates back and forth (see S1 12.5).

• Continuum: repetition, something that keeps coming and coming within the structure.

• Vibration: the sound's repetition becomes a vibration resonating at some frequency in the field.

• Sonic: like a light of sound, something you can actually hear.

• Cymatics: as downloaded, "symphonic, liquidating sequences that are repeating in a fractal structure momentum, implemented in a whirlpool of realities, creating the portals in sympathetic structures, most commonly known as platforms." It is how your expression resonates in the structure.

FROM THE BOOKS SD and DP print the download: "SOUND CONTINUUM VIBRATION is sonic equilibrium cymatics whirlpool into the time-space continuum of the matrix holographic expression memory bank. Your words are the sonic materialization of your holographic expressions continuum." The books spell the last term "cymatics"; in the talk it sometimes sounds like "semantic".

2.4 Words are the sonic materialization of your hologram

Every time you speak, you are plastering a vibrational sequence in geometry into your hologram, at that exact moment, based on exactly what you said. The download calls this the holographic expression memory bank. Why "continuum"? Because each hologram holds infinite holograms, probabilities and timelines within it, each its own Earth. Every moment is infinite reality, and your job is to hold your vibration.

2.5 Vortexes, tunnels and the illusion of matter

Your word, joined with your thought and action, clusters geometry into the quantum field and creates vortexes, with the zero point in the middle (see S1 2.1). A vortex can be horizontal or vertical, at any degree up to 360, and can be measured. It expands like an elastic into a whirlpool, a wormhole, a holographic tunnel that shifts you from one platform to another.

Because it is continuous and infinite, the elastic moves back and forth, and so everything in the structure repeats, moment to moment. This is why the structure looks the same wherever you cut into it (a fractal). That endless repetition plastered into the matrix creates the illusion of reality, the thing we know as matter: it looks and feels solid, but it is really sound continuum, vibration, an elastic frequency whirlpool.

The rhythm is like breathing: one movement expands to the infinite, the other contracts to the smallest of the small, with a tiny still pause, the zero point, in between (see S1 5.8). Every platform you exist on goes through the same repetition.

"That is what looks and feels like solid to you. But it is cymatic sonic sound continuum vibrational elastic Hz whirlpool" (SD, DP)

Fig. S2-2A — Meaning, sound and action form a vortex; it stretches into a tunnel that shifts you; repetition, brick by brick, becomes what feels like solid matter.

FROM THE BOOKS "Create vortexes and expands like an elastic into the whirlpool structural wormhole holographic tunnel that is plastering infinite continuum into the matrix and creates the illusion of reality over and over again and that is matter structure" (SD, DP).

2.6 How a screen can overtake your hologram

When you watch a film or TV, you are still hearing words, but someone else is projecting them onto you, plastering vortexes of holograms on top of yours. If you believe that the mirror image on the screen is true, your platform switches immediately: where you were resonating in the positive, you now resonate in the negative, because a different holographic image has replaced yours in your consciousness (see S2 1.2). The same goes for advertising, which shapes your hologram visually.

2.7 Intention is the frequency

What makes the vortex is intention. A lie is a lie whether "big", "small" or "white": its potency may differ slightly, but the intention plasters that frequency into your hologram all the same (see S1 3.2). And a word on its own does nothing until you give it a meaning; once you mean it and speak it, it becomes geometry, plasma and gravitational field, the trinity of thought, emotion and action (see S1 1.2).

Thought or spoken word? They spin slightly differently but come from the same structure, so the effect mimics each other; the spoken word is more potent. Combining both, with repetition, is what people who know this structure do.

2.8 Repetition builds it brick by brick

Think of building a dome. The thought is the foundation; then each action and each sound adds a brick. Repeat, repeat, repeat, and brick by brick the hologram grows, until it has enough potency to expand and crystallize: it becomes a reality in your hologram. You are mastering how to create your own world.

Hold the same joyful vibration while you build, so every brick has a similar frequency. If you drop into negativity or doubt, you shut down what you were building (see S1 2.3). Even if something negative happens around you, keep building: that image is only an illusion.

2.9 Potency: how you say it matters

The same words carry different weight depending on how they are said. A firm "Don't do that" is taken far more seriously than a soft one: the sound vibration has more potency, like a stronger dose of medicine. And the same word, said playfully or said with contempt, lands completely differently, because the intention and resonance you send into someone's platform are different. You can feel the difference, and so can they.

2.10 Numbers, letters and sacred geometry

Letters and numbers matter when you know sacred geometry. Combined with sound and with a location in the quantum structure (latitude and altitude, see S1 5.3), number sequences create Fibonacci whirlpools that open certain structures; this is how worlds and holograms based on different belief systems are created. Used wrongly, the same knowledge can create very dense, negative matter. A negative thought has a different spin and makes a different whirlpool, leading to dense timelines. So combine your thoughts and projection with the geometry in the positive, to align with the higher structures of love.

To hum a tone to find your own frequency or jump timelines, it has to carry intention and belief to complete the trinity; and a very potent intention can overtake, so be careful what intention you put in.

FROM THE BOOKS DP says the Pleiades are "interjecting" new Fibonacci sequences now.

2.11 Light language: check it before trusting it

Every word and sound has a different spin in the quantum structure, and the spin decides the timeline it creates. With an unfamiliar "light language", you don't know what you are saying or what it creates, and there is a lot of manipulation. So don't take any light language on trust: it can be measured scientifically, its frequency and tone recorded with equipment, to show what it creates in the field. Some ancient languages are said to have been suppressed precisely because they created positive structures. Don't judge people who speak one; they act from their own belief system (see S1 16.1), but wait for evidence before relying on it (see S1 3.9).

2.12 Choose what you hear and watch

Music, films and their sound effects all carry frequencies. Music that relaxes you and gives you goosebumps is resonating with you in the positive (see S1 8.13); meditation and harp music are suggested. The talk also claims that some music and films carry hidden sounds or images designed to distort your frequency and plant patterns in the subconscious; these are the talk's claims, and the teaching is simply to choose consciously what you take in.

Action or horror films aren't forbidden; just don't make them a habit, and skip the scenes you don't need. Watching heavy films, especially when you're low, can bring nightmares: the talk explains these as holographic expressions you created on another platform, a sub-reality you also exist in, because the film was plastered into your subconscious.

The talk adds that most films show extraterrestrials as frightening so that people would reject the benevolent beings who could help bring down the old grids (the talk's view; see S1 17.3). Don't mock people for what they believe; research for yourself, and choose unity and humanity over picking sides.

2.13 You don't have to die to ascend

Asked where death fits in, if we are holograms and vibration, the answer is that death as the only way out was a manipulation. Consciousness is always experiencing, so some may choose to experience death; but the natural way was to ascend vertically from one timeline to the next: merging with a higher consciousness to create a third reality and shifting into it, even onto a spacecraft and another planet, without dying (see S1 17.1, 17.5).

What happened instead: people were taught that the mirror image is real and told what their reality should be. Believing it, they looped in timelines locked into 3D, and without the knowledge of how to create above 3D, believed the only way out was to grow sick and die, and so created that. The grid around the planet recycled souls back in (see S2 1.3). The talk also repeats its claims about poisons and vaccines (see S2 1.12 and its note).

To connect with higher beings you need a similar resonance with them, and you need to believe it is possible: if you don't believe in them, the whole thing is blocked (see S1 18.5). From 5D, the heart structure, you can create a shared third reality with them. Eventually humanity goes interstellar, while others stay to help the planet; you may even move back and forth. The talk recommends channelled books on Arcturian ascension and on living with the planet, which make most sense once you know the quantum structure.

It also repeats its claim that regeneration technologies already exist and are being held back, so that in future people may regenerate their own tissue and look 30 rather than 80 (see S2 1.7). These are the talk's claims.

The method — Speak Your Hologram

For building what you want with words, and keeping your field clear:

1. Know what you mean. Words do nothing until you give them meaning; set a positive intention first.
2. Speak it. Say it out loud, with feeling and a clear, firm voice: spoken is more potent than thought.
3. Match it with action. Thought, word and deed together make the vortex.
4. Repeat, brick by brick, keeping the same joy each time, until it crystallizes.

5. Guard your words. No small lies, no habitual negative talk, no fearful repetition, even in prayer.
6. Choose your input. Goosebump music and uplifting films; negative content only occasionally, if at all.
7. In a negative room: pull out, thank them inside, hold your space like a shield, and keep projecting the positive.

Questions answered

So our thoughts, our words and the words we choose form a geometry and a vortex that keeps projecting into our hologram, like a ripple. Does our breath affect the vortex?

What carries the frequency is the intention: the intention is the frequency. It doesn't matter whether a lie is big or small; the intention creates the vortex, with slightly different potency. So learn to stop saying negative things, and be careful what you watch, because films project words and holograms on top of yours (see 2.6, 2.7).

Do our thoughts and intentions have the same effect as spoken words?

They spin slightly differently, but they come from the same structure, so yes: one mimics the other. The spoken word is more potent; people who know this combine both, with repetition (see 2.7).

Can we use the tone of a letter or number to find our own frequency signature, and does humming it help us jump timelines?

Only with intention and belief to complete the trinity, and be careful what intention you put in, since a potent one can overtake. Letters and numbers matter when you know sacred geometry: combined with sound and location, they create Fibonacci whirlpools that can build worlds, positive or very negative. Keep your thoughts and the geometry in the positive to align with the higher structures of love (see 2.10).

Is there such a thing as a lower-frequency light language, and can combining light language with sacred geometry give the strongest effect?

Be careful with light languages. You don't know what you are saying or what it creates, and there is a lot of manipulation. It can be measured scientifically, by recording its frequency and tone, and that is the way to know what a language does. Some people can feel or even see whether sounds are positive or negative. Until there is evidence, don't rely on it, and don't judge the people who speak it (see 2.11).

In meetings, colleagues often use words like "hate", "not possible" or "too complex". How do I keep from getting drawn into that vibration?

Pull out to zero point and observe without giving emotion to it, to preserve your own hologram within the collective one. Think: "I'm watching a hologram. Thank you for existing in my hologram." Don't think "these people are so stupid"; that is engaging and projecting the same frequency. Neutralize it with gratitude, hold your space like a shield, hold joy, and keep projecting positive thoughts and actions, over and over. You don't have to say anything or agree with them. When your positive input becomes potent enough, the next moment shifts, sometimes as simply as someone saying "That's enough, let's get a coffee" (see S1 2.6, 16.3).

Many words sound the same but mean different things: medal, metal, mettle. Which effect do they have?

The word itself makes no difference until you put a meaning into it. Once you mean it and project its sound, it becomes geometry and matter in your hologram, the trinity of thought, emotion and action (see 2.7).

Does repetition make it stronger each time?

Yes. Think of building a dome: the thought is the foundation, and each action, word and sound adds a brick. When there is enough potency, it expands and crystallizes as your reality. Keep the same joy while you build; doubt shuts it down (see 2.8).

Can certain notes, such as C sharp, said to be the Earth's tone, help raise our vibration?

No single note is "the" tone: every tone has sub-tones, to infinity, and what you'd measure depends on the platform, the location and the vibration in that moment. It is much more complex than one note (see S1 19.4).

Is there more on treating distilled water with frequencies?

It is in an earlier talk on frequency and sound: 3 Hz, 70 Hz and 90 Hz, about 20 minutes each, as a general protocol (see S1 19, Questions). Individual timing differs from person to person. The talk is clear that this doesn't mean anyone will be healed: at most it may help align the body so it can heal itself.

> Frequency and water protocols are not medical treatment. For any illness, see a doctor; use practices like this only alongside medical care, never instead of it.

Can the music or sound effects in a film, even a heart-warming one, lower its vibration and affect our field?

The talk believes so, and claims that some music and films carry hidden sounds or images that distort your frequency (the talk's claim). The practical answer: notice how music makes you feel. Relaxing music that gives you goosebumps is resonating with you in the positive; choose that (see 2.12).

If I listen to something like Swan Lake before and after a horror film, will it balance me out?

The answer was simply to keep heavy films occasional, skip the scenes you don't need, and pay attention to the words and intention in what you watch, because heavy viewing can create sub-realities you then meet in nightmares (see 2.12).

Is speaking softly better than speaking loudly? And are solfeggio frequencies safe and good?

It is about potency: a firm, clear voice carries more weight than a soft one, like a stronger dose, and the intention behind the tone changes how it lands (see 2.9). For solfeggio frequencies, it depends how they are used: every number does something in the structure, and how numbers combine is fundamental (see S1 19.5).

If we are holograms and vibration, where does death come in, and why do we disappear from a hologram?

Death as the only way out was a manipulation. The natural way was to ascend from timeline to timeline, merging with higher consciousness, without dying. Belief in what we were shown locked people into 3D, so they created illness and death as their way out (see 2.13).

I'm reading a book on lucid dreaming. Do you really feel you are somewhere else?

Yes, you think just as you do now. Practical tips from experience: train yourself to wake by yourself, about every two to two and a half hours, rather than with an alarm, which can stress you and make you forget the dream. When you realise you're dreaming, stay calm, or you'll wake up. From there you can open a portal with a thought. You may not be permitted to go everywhere you wish, depending on your agreements; experience it anyway, because you only know by experiencing (see S1 8.14; S2 1, Questions).

Next: part 2, Restoration: how you restore the structure and shift from one hologram to another.

Remember

- Your words are the sonic materialization of your hologram.
- Meaning + sound + action make a vortex; repetition makes matter.
- Intention is the frequency; spoken is more potent than thought.
- Build brick by brick with the same joy; doubt shuts it down.
- In a negative room: pull out, thank, shield, project the positive.

Sound Continuum Vibration, Part 2: Restoration

How you jump from one hologram to another by changing the angle of your frequency, why the heart is the correction, why there is no past, and questions on the oversoul, mantras, déjà vu and energy work (live talk with questions)

The big idea

The one particle moves so fast that it looks still, printing itself next to itself endlessly, and every print is a whole universe at its own location (latitude and altitude) in the quantum field. Restoration is how you jump from one hologram to another: change your sound equilibrium, the frequency of your emotion, thoughts and deeds, and the angle shifts by a few degrees into a different reality. The correction comes from the heart: heart-felt thoughts are the precise angle that connects you to 5D and above, while separating from the heart builds synthetic, fear-controlled timelines. Because every moment is a new print, there is no past: old pain is only a vibration you keep carrying. Stop it, thank it, transform it, and it no longer affects you.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

3.1 Every particle is a universe, at its own location

A recap of part 1 (see S2 2.5): sound creates a whirlpool, like a wormhole, that moves back and forth like an elastic and keeps reprinting itself in the hologram; that is why everything repeats and looks the same wherever you cut into it. Each particle becomes a holographic universe for itself, holding infinite realities in every direction, all through 360 degrees.

Each one has a location, like X and Y: latitude and altitude (see S1 5.3). How the whirlpool twists gives an angle of geometry, and that angle shows which parallel reality you are printing and moving into. It is always moving, so even each parallel reality is at a different latitude and altitude the next moment, and the next. It never stops: infinite imprints, constantly merging with each other, so you keep shifting into another hologram, without end.

3.2 There is no past and no future

So when people say they "went into the past", they didn't. They created another holographic reality, at another latitude and altitude, in which they could reprint something they imagined. It is never the past and never the future: you create and shift in the now. Everything is now. What happened "before" has nothing to do with what is happening right now.

If you have accumulated energy you want to clear, you can always clear it: pull out of the hologram and build a brand-new one in the next moment (see S1 1, Method; S1 2.1). Pulling out changes your latitude and altitude. Whether the new reality is positive or negative depends on your emotion, because emotion is the frequency vibration (see S1 1.6).

3.3 Restoration: change the angle, change the hologram

The download: restoration happens when you need to jump from one sonic cymatic hologram to another. You do it by changing the sound equilibrium, which means changing the frequency of your emotion, thoughts and deeds, to a slight angle in the matrix, at a new latitude and altitude, usually measured in degrees. Every degree of angle is a different sonic cymatic whirlpool, a different reality hologram.

The correction happens when you know the angular frequency, and that is the sound created from the heart connection thoughts. Heart-felt thoughts, listening to the heart's love, are the precise angle that connects you to the higher realms. The teaching here points to the fifth-dimensional structure: the heart is 5D and above, where benevolent extraterrestrials, celestial beings and every heart-based structure vibrate, at a completely different frequency from dense 3D.

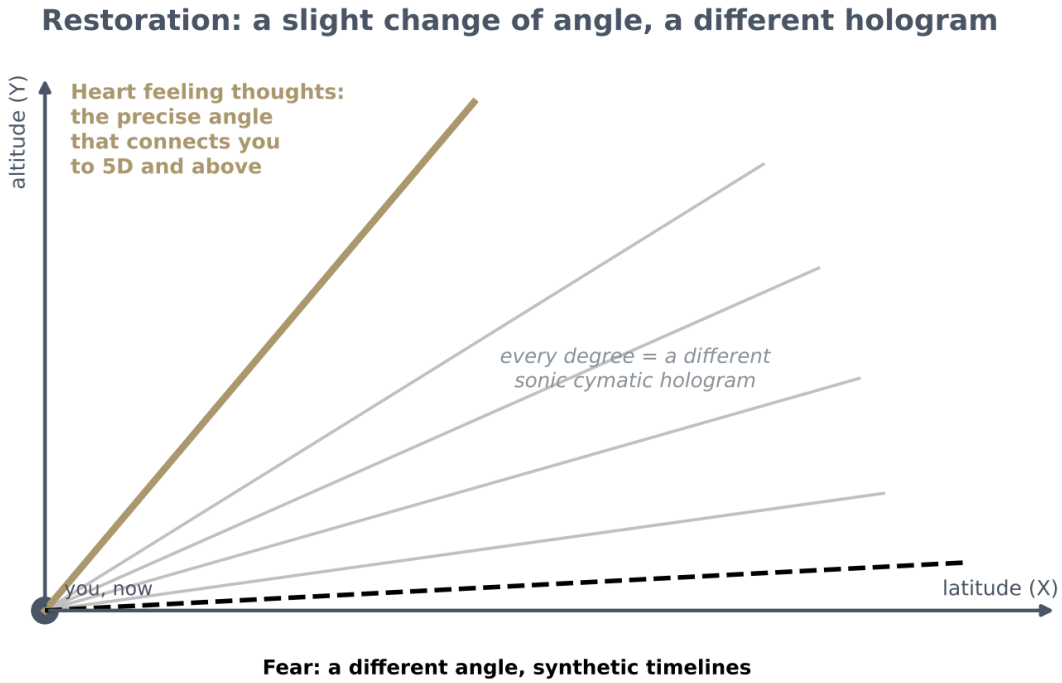

Fig. S2-3A — Restoration: changing your emotion, thoughts and deeds shifts the angle of your hologram; heart-felt thoughts give the angle to 5D and above, fear a different one. (The talk gives no specific degrees; the angles are only illustrative.)

FROM THE BOOKS SD and DP print this download: "RESTORATION happens when you need a jump from one hologram sonic cymatic sound Hz to another when you change the sound equilibrium Hz to a slight angle into the matrix (X, Y) Latitude and altitude… Every degree of angular expression has different sound sonic cymatic whirlpool reality holograms. Correction happens when you know the angular Hz and that is the sound created from the heart connection thoughts."

3.4 Separate from the heart, and reality turns synthetic

"If you separate from the heart, you will do a synthetic type of reality matrix that requires and creates synthetic timelines." This structure works both ways, like yin and yang: infinite heart-based realities and infinite negative ones, under the same laws. What decides which you build and shift into is your intention and the action of your thoughts and emotions.

It is the fluctuation taught in Season 1: two realities merge into a third, fluctuating between positive and negative, and whatever you held more of through the day decides the outcome (see S1 2.2, 3.3). In 3D, with all the manipulation, people separated from the heart created static, synthetic timelines.

FROM THE BOOKS "In the synthetic timelines, there is control of different portals and timelines that are controlled through fear. Fear is in a completely different sonic angular degree in comparison with the heart structure" (SD).

3.5 The stationary heart

"That is why some of you never see the stationary heart, where all is the natural momentum and where it is all one with consciousness." Whoever is one with consciousness in that moment is always helped to move forward in ascension. If you don't change your perspective from negative to positive, your higher self sabotages your hologram so you wake up (see S2 1.3); if you still choose to express the negative, you are recycled to the single particle, to learn to create again from the beginning (see S2 1.6).

Those who move into the heart shift into positive ascension timelines, where extraterrestrial contact, time travel and bilocation of the body become possible; bilocation of the body is the next talk's topic.

3.6 Why old pain keeps returning, and how to end it

The one particle vibrates so fast that it seems to stand still, printing itself next to itself endlessly (see S1 1.1). Each print is a parallel reality and a whole universe. Say that in one print, which could be a whole 3D lifetime, you had a negative experience. The next print is a brand-new reality, and the negative experience doesn't have to come with it.

If you are still upset about something someone did long ago, ask: which reality are you talking about? That was a different hologram, with another version of you; the two prints have nothing to do with each other. It only follows you because you carry its memory vibration (we carry some vibration from print to print so that we can have an experience at all).

So stop it, transform it, move on (see S1 7.1): give it gratitude, whatever happened ("I'm moving forward"), and you neutralize it. Its vibration stops coming into the new print, you stop looping, and the imprint in your record changes; it still exists somewhere on the platform, but it no longer affects you. If you don't let go, you carry it into every next moment and keep meeting it, until you shut it down (see S1 14.5).

The method — Restore to the Heart Angle

When you want to leave a reality, or an old hurt, behind:

1. Notice your emotion. It is your frequency, and it shows where you are.
2. Pull out of the hologram. Go to zero point: "This is one print, not all of me."
3. Ask: which reality is this? If it's an old hurt, it belongs to another print, another version of you.
4. Thank it and neutralize it. "Thank you for showing me. I'm moving forward."
5. Stop carrying it. Don't talk about it again; don't bring its vibration into the next moment.
6. Shift the angle with your heart. Feel love and think from the heart: that is the precise angle to 5D.

7. Choose how you see what's around you. With gratitude, not fear, again and again through the day.

Questions answered

So the past doesn't exist; it's just a hologram of something we experienced that we keep holding on to?

Yes, and keep co-creating. Each moment is its own hologram, a new Earth. A negative experience in one print doesn't have to be in the next. If you learn to shut it down and replace it, it has nothing to do with you any more; but if you keep carrying its vibration, you keep meeting it. Stop, transform, move on (see 3.6).

My four-year-old has type 1 diabetes, so we can't do a detox or a strict diet. Can blessing our food make up for it?

The answer was that blessing alone is not enough: you have to take action. Pray if you wish, but we came here to experience, and you can't reject the experience; go through it with the best of your abilities. It urged the parent to work with professional doctors and nutritionists, and said this is the right age to start. It added that many new children react strongly to processed food, and pointed to gut health (gut flora, probiotics) as very important. It also claimed that this kind of diabetes can be fixed through diet under supervision, and raised doubts about vaccines while saying it is not a doctor and the parent must decide carefully.

> Type 1 diabetes cannot be reversed or cured by diet. A child with type 1 diabetes needs insulin every day for life, and stopping or reducing insulin can quickly become life-threatening. Make every change to diet or treatment with the child's diabetes team. The talk's claims linking vaccines to diabetes and other illnesses are not supported by evidence; for children with diabetes, doctors usually advise keeping vaccinations up to date. Please decide with your paediatrician.

I have a mental-health diagnosis. I've been off my medication for a year and a half, but I've been suicidal the whole time, and I can't seem to control my thoughts and emotions. Should I go back on medication?

The answer stressed that it is not a doctor and could not tell anyone what to do. It suggested looking into homeopathic doctors and doing research; said that pharmaceuticals can be needed when someone is very ill, while also believing the body should be helped to heal itself; and voiced its own doubts about electric-shock therapy, saying it would not choose it for itself.

If you are having thoughts of suicide

Please don't go through this alone, and please don't rely on this book or any talk for this decision. Talk to your doctor or psychiatrist about medication; never stop or avoid treatment without them. Treatments such as medication and ECT are established and can save lives; your doctor can explain the benefits and risks for you. If you are in danger now, call your local emergency number. In the US you can call or text 988 (Suicide & Crisis Lifeline); elsewhere, contact your local crisis line. Reaching out is not a failure of these teachings; it is taking action, which the teachings themselves ask for.

During an out-of-body experience, I watched myself dancing at age 15. Did I go to that location, or was it something else?

It was an out-of-body experience through the astral body, not bilocation. To find out more, tune into the frequency of that experience, ask your questions, and take the first thing that pops into your mind; write the answers down and watch what happens in your reality (see S1 8.10, S1 18.3).

Is the quantum structure separate from consciousness, with us living inside it? Did everything start to vibrate within itself, rippling to infinity in all directions?

That's correct. It spins in 360 degrees, and inside each particle you would find infinite realities and platforms: the whole universe exists in each fractal. When you shift, the same happens again in the next fractal, to infinity (see 3.1).

If I'm not consciously aware of my oversoul, does the oversoul create its own hologram, or do I? How do they relate?

Your oversoul exists in all realities: from the one particle it splits into each platform (3D, 5D, 7D, an extraterrestrial life and so on, to infinity) to experience them all at the same time. Guidance from the oversoul in one platform can interact with you in another, for example telepathically, especially now, during ascension. Councils, like the Council of Nine, are usually higher-dimensional and sit above the extraterrestrial structure. Everyone receives help from their higher self and oversoul in other realities, and, if they don't act on their agreement, a lesson placed in their hologram, so that they wake up (see S2 1.3, 1.8). So start living from the heart if you want to see these platforms and connect with them.

Does repeating mantras (japa), such as a Shiva mantra or Om Mani Padme Hum, help ascension and staying in the 5D range, or is it another belief-system trap?

In the holographic universe every mantra is geometry; the names are labels we put on a vibrational sequence, and energy is energy. What matters now is that new frequencies, with a different angular spin, are being sent to penetrate the body (an energetic field) and activate your DNA, so naming a particular mantra isn't necessary. The talk adds a claim that this energy also transforms chemicals sprayed in the sky (the talk's claim). Its advice: don't be afraid; stay in the heart; we have already made it (see S1 2.8).

FROM THE BOOKS SD describes the human heart transforming sonic geometry, with structures released "in the lower level geometries mantras", and speaks of "the new 5D geometric mantra signals."

I see several layers of cloud at once: a dark, stormy lower layer and a bright, sunny outer one. Is the dark layer man-made, or is it something multidimensional?

Everything you see is a hologram you are projecting: looking at the sky, you see one reality, then the next moment another, and you shift into each. Consciousness itself is neither positive nor negative; it is frequency. What decides the outcome is how you perceive it and what you choose to believe. Take it in fear, believing it's harmful, and you shift into a timeline where it is. Give thanks and feel through the heart that it's part of ascension, and your outcome becomes positive. You choose the polarity (see S1 2.2, 3.3).

Distilled water is good as a short detox but may draw minerals out over time. Should we add sea salt? And what does the guidance say about structured water?

Add salt after a while if you wish; but on a very nutritious diet of live food and fresh organic juices, the talk says this isn't a problem, because plants carry all the minerals (Swiss chard tastes almost salty). Structured water is beneficial only if you know how to use it: the same frequency all the time can be too much; you need balance (see S1 12.7 and its note).

What does déjà vu mean?

Each parallel reality, each Earth you shift into, runs on its own frequency. To have an experience at all, you carry some vibration from one reality into the next, otherwise you'd have no memory of a moment ago. And by the quantum bylaw, if you can think of something, it already exists in the blueprint (see S1 1.4). So déjà vu is a memory of a timeline that you are creating at the same time: you already exist in it while you are creating it. Both at once: that is the quantum.

I'm a Reiki healer. What do you think of Reiki, and is it tied to 3D or 5D energy?

Good work, with good intentions, but be careful: every energy field is individual, and one universal method can't fit everyone, just as one dose doesn't suit every body. If you can't sense what a person's field needs, you may disturb it without knowing. Keep learning, and connect from within, at the soul level.

Next, as announced: bilocation of the body.

Remember

- Every print is a new universe at a new location; it never stops.
- Restoration: change your emotion, thoughts and deeds, and the angle shifts.
- The heart is the correction: the precise angle to 5D and above.
- There is no past, only vibration you carry. Stop, thank, move on.
- What you see is neutral; how you perceive it decides the outcome.

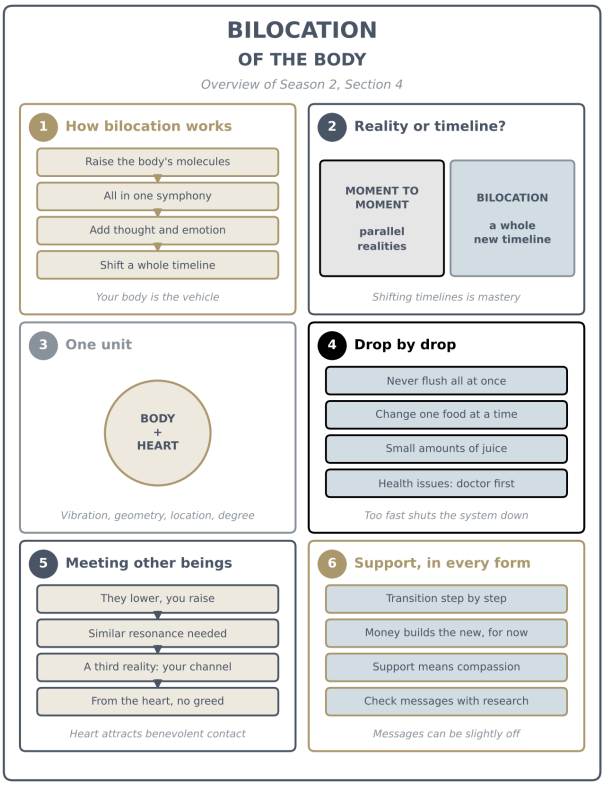

SEASON 2 · SECTION 4

Bilocation of the Body

How body and heart, tuned together as one symphony, shift you into a completely different timeline; why the body has to be raised slowly; meeting other beings; and questions on detox, water and supplements (live talk with questions)

The big idea

Bilocation, said to be the future of humanity, is more than shifting moment to moment between parallel realities: it is shifting your whole being into a completely different timeline, for example from 3D Earth to 5D Earth. For that, consciousness alone isn't enough; the body has to come too. Its molecules must be raised, slowly, until they vibrate in one synchronized symphony; joined with heart-felt thoughts and emotional tone, body and heart become one unit, and that unit is the vehicle, with no spacecraft needed. The talk ties this to its detox and diet protocol, which it says must go drop by drop, never all at once, and not at all without a doctor for people with health conditions. Contact with other beings works the same way: a third reality, built on similar resonance, from the heart.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

4.1 The download: your body is the vehicle

The download: to achieve bilocation for physical contact, you must regulate and increase the molecular structure of your body. All the molecules have to shift their vibration in a synchronized modality, which creates a specific symphony of your singular frequency rotation. When it reaches enough potency, it is easy, just by thoughts and emotional tone, to shift the timeline, not only the parallel reality. "That is mastery."

You don't need a spacecraft or technology to bilocate, because your body's energetic form, connected with your thought and emotion, is the vehicle. You are the hologram, which expands to infinity and collapses to infinity (see S2 2.5); and since everything is frequency, you can shift and bilocate anywhere in the structure, and back and forth.

FROM THE BOOKS SD prints this download almost word for word under the heading "By Location", ending: "You don't need spacecraft or technology... because your body energetic form connecting with the thought and that emotion is the vehicle... So... come home. We are teaching you." DP adds that a "New Human" is emerging, with "telepathy, bilocation".

4.2 Parallel reality or whole timeline?

Every timeline has a location, X and Y, latitude and altitude, measured in degrees through 360; and each location is a hologram, a new Earth, with its own frequency, sound and timeline, and it is fractal (see S2 3.1). Moment to moment you are always shifting between parallel realities (see S1 1.3). Bilocation is a different level: shifting into a completely different timeline, with a different frequency.

So if you are in 3D and want to be on 5D Earth, you have to train your body so that the vibration of its molecules matches the resonance of the fifth-dimensional timeline, including the angle of spin of the molecules (see S2 3.3). It all fits together.

Bilocation: body and heart as one unit

Not a moment-to-moment shift between parallel realities, but a shift into a completely different timeline.

Fig. S2-4A — Body and heart tuned together as one symphony give the code to bilocate into a different timeline.

4.3 Body and heart as one unit

Once the body is clean and its frequency rises, consciousness comes into fruition, and how you behave matters: if you live in the heart structure, that is the consciousness that comes through. You have to combine the heart with the body into one unit moving as one, which is the symphony: vibration, geometry, location and degree. Combine them and you create an image of reality.

Then, if you wish to see your galactic family, your consciousness starts resonating with them; because the body is already clean and vibrating fast, the combined symphony immediately gives the code of geometry and structure to bilocate you into the platform you choose. This is how extraterrestrials shift between timelines and realities (see S1 9.2).

4.4 Why diet, in the teaching

The body is an energetic field: its molecules are frequency. The talk teaches that our molecules carry a lower, denser frequency because of everything we have taken in, and that living, uncooked plants vibrate higher. Fresh juice goes straight into the bloodstream, so drinking it overrides one frequency with another, lifting the body's frequency towards a 5D resonance. It repeats its view on distilled water drawing out chemicals (see S1 12.7). Bilocation isn't consciousness alone: "you have to bring the body."

Guidance may help along the way, in a way designed for you: an "upgrade", a contact, or something else; the talk describes its own heart structure being upgraded to hold a steady 5D frequency. It is not special, it says: do the right things and your guidance will help you one way or another (see S2 1.11).

4.5 Drop by drop, never all at once

The guidance's instruction for any cleanse: you can't flush the body all at once. If you do, you overwhelm the molecular structure, the system shuts down, and you deplete it; that is why some people look depleted after a cleanse. Open the tap drop by drop, so the body's molecules learn to accept the new frequency and the flushing stays steady, without being pulled "out of orbit".

The protocol described: keep your normal meals while adding juices, and remove one food every two weeks (for example beef first, then chicken, and so on), so the change is gradual. Drink no more than two cups of green juice at a time; don't mix fruit and green juices; if you feel nauseous, have a vegetable or avocado shake instead. The talk describes going much further over a year, eventually to juice only and to near-breatharian eating, but says clearly that it does not recommend that to anyone. It also says the protocol is not for people with diabetes, kidney disease or liver disease: they need to detox with doctors.

It must also be your own choice and will: if you don't take action, the guidance backs off until you're ready.

Important health note

These are the talk's own practices, not medical advice. Long juice-only periods and anything close to "breatharianism" (living without food) are dangerous and have caused deaths. Before cutting out food groups, starting a cleanse or changing your diet significantly, talk to a doctor or registered dietitian, especially if you are pregnant, have diabetes, kidney or liver disease, an eating disorder, or take medication. The talk's claims that gluten is a "poison" for everyone, and about GMOs and alcohol, are its views; gluten is harmful for people with coeliac disease or gluten sensitivity, and a doctor can test for that.

4.6 One molecule becomes everything

Your molecule is also nano: consciousness itself is a nano structure that expands to infinity and collapses to infinity. Depending on the frequencies around it and how they are mixed, an atom mutates, like a dish that changes with each new ingredient, so from one molecule everything is created (see S1 5.9, S1 19.5). That is why a clean body matters for bilocation: if the body is full of dense matter, the structure is too weak to hold the higher frequency coming in, or the one you want to project.

4.7 You already bilocate, in small ways

Ever found yourself in the next room without remembering walking through the hallway? The talk explains that you bilocated: you don't need to pass through every in-between step (see S1 3.5, 5.5). Now imagine doing that not only within your own platform but from one timeline to another; that is what we are being taught, because it is how we will meet extraterrestrial and higher-dimensional beings, who vibrate at a completely different frequency, timeline and location.

Note

Ordinary absent-mindedness is common. But frequent or worsening memory gaps, losing track of time, or getting lost are worth checking with a doctor; they can be a sign of a treatable or serious condition.

4.8 Meeting other beings: a third reality, by resonance

To meet beings from another timeline, you connect consciousness and body into one symphony and create a third reality between their timeline and yours (1 + 1 = 3; see S1 2.2, 17.5). From channel 3 to channel 5, you create a third: your own channel. It has to combine their structure and yours, so the resonance must be similar; benevolent beings may step in to teach you a lesson for your ascension, but you can't shift into their reality if you don't match.

If you want benevolent contact, go benevolent: from the heart. If you do negative things, you will see entities from negative structures, because everything exists in the field, even the most evil person, as a holographic imprint in your reality. Don't deny it, since it's part of consciousness; neutralize it (see S1 2.6, 3.3).

When light beings make contact, they come into your hologram and hold the vibration so that you can withstand their frequency. But for permanent contact, working with them while helping humanity, bilocation is needed, and they won't work with people in greed. It has to be the heart structure.

4.9 Habits and joy

Why keep eating or drinking what you know harms your body? The talk singles out alcohol as depleting the cells and says the idea that you need it to be happy is a belief you can change: you can shift into happiness without it. It isn't asking for perfection: change slowly; a rare glass of wine with friends is fine. As your connection with your guidance grows, it will show you what your body needs.

4.10 Money, support and the transition

Professionals have asked how to move to Energy Philanthropy (see S1 5.1). Don't jump into the fire all at once; transition, because money is part of the structure for now (see S1 4.4). Wealthy people, and even governments, will wake up and fund the right scientists to build eco-systems; with free energy, money will eventually become obsolete (see S2 1.4, 1.9). Don't reject money: give it through the heart.

And support doesn't always mean money: it means being compassionate to someone, in whatever shape and form you can, moment to moment. That is the heart structure, and it is what raises your heart's frequency above the 3D structure. Combine that heart with a cleansed body, and you have the new unit for bilocation.

4.11 When a message is slightly off

Even trusted guidance is checked: the talk describes researching a frequency it was given until it found a scientist saying the same (see S1 13, Method). It also says that some predictions about governments can be slightly off, sometimes on purpose, until what is really happening can be revealed. So hold predictions lightly and keep your focus on your own frequency.

> FROM THE BOOKS HR describes 70 to 90 Hz as "the body. The physical human body tone duration. It must stay at that at all the times" (see the water question below).

The method — Tune Body and Heart Together

A slow, long-term practice. Check any change of diet with your doctor first:

1. Decide, and mean it. The change only comes when you choose it and act.
2. Live from the heart every day. Kindness and compassion, in any form: this raises the heart's frequency.
3. Cleanse slowly, with your doctor. One change at a time, every couple of weeks; never all at once.
4. Notice your body. Nausea or depletion means too fast: step back, as the guidance itself advised.

5. Join body and heart. In meditation, feel love through the whole body, as one unit.
6. Hold the image of the timeline you want, with matching emotion, and let your resonance build.
7. Stay in the heart, without greed, so the beings you connect with are benevolent.

Questions answered

How long does the detox last? Is it a permanent change, and is there a move back to some cooked food? How do I know when it's complete?

The protocol is to juice as your daily base while removing one food from your normal diet every two weeks, making a chart of everything you eat. That gradual pace teaches the body's molecules to detox drop by drop without becoming ill, while the juices replace the old frequency with a higher one. Don't overdo it: no more than two cups of green juice at a time, don't mix green and fruit juices, and have a vegetable or avocado shake if you feel sick. The talk also recommends probiotics and distilled water alongside, and says dairy, gluten and GMO foods should be cut out permanently (its view). See the health note in 4.5.

What's the difference between an out-of-body experience and bilocation, and what does bilocation feel like?

An out-of-body experience is the astral body travelling (see S2 3, Questions). Bilocation is physically taking your body into another timeline, above 3D, such as 5D. It feels normal, like here, only less dense: a different timeline with a different frequency, resonance and geometry. The small version is reaching another room without remembering the hallway (see 4.7 and its note).

Do you recommend monoatomic gold as a supplement?

The talk had no personal experience with it, and pointed to the Harmonic Reactor book: it increases the purity of the molecular structure, based on frequency and teleportation. It also pointed to someone who makes a similar product ("Ormus").

FROM THE BOOKS HR describes monoatomic gold mainly as a material applied to the antenna of the Harmonic Reactor device, to increase resonance for "clear voyage", and says it "opens every molecule to vibrate with clear signal." It doesn't describe it as a supplement to take.

Note on supplements

Monoatomic gold and "Ormus" products are unregulated, and their claimed benefits are not proven. Check with a doctor or pharmacist before taking any supplement.

What's the difference between alkaline "Kangen" water and distilled water?

The talk didn't know that water and stays with distilled water. On charged or energized water in general: it puts a frequency into the water, which is fine, but the body may not be ready for it, or you may overdo it. The same frequency over and over can shut the system down; like a medicine, it has to be measured (see S2 3, Questions).

How exactly is the water-frequency protocol done, and does the waveform matter?

Use an online tone generator and distilled water, one glass at a time, in a separate room: 3 Hz for 20 minutes, then drink it; then a fresh glass at 70 Hz for 20 minutes, drink it; then a third glass at 90 Hz for 20 minutes, drink it. This is a generic practice for keeping a healthy vibration, done once a day for three days; it does not guarantee healing, and anything individual needs individual timing. The square waveform is used simply because you can hear it; the vibration reaches the water even when you can't hear it (see S1 19, Questions; S2 2, Questions).

Important health note

This is not medical treatment and is not proven to treat any condition. If you are ill, see a doctor; use any such practice only alongside medical care.

How long should you take probiotics?

The talk is clear that it is not a doctor. From experience: six months to a year for its own family's gut repair, or perhaps a month or two as a boost. It favours a potent, multi-strain probiotic that is shipped chilled, taken with distilled water on an empty stomach, morning and night, and repeats its advice to cut out dairy, gluten and GMO foods. Ask your doctor or pharmacist what suits you.

Remember

- Bilocation shifts a whole timeline; your body is the vehicle.
- Body and heart must become one symphony.
- Raise the body slowly, drop by drop, never all at once, with a doctor.
- Contact is a third reality: similar resonance, from the heart.
- Support means compassion, in any form.

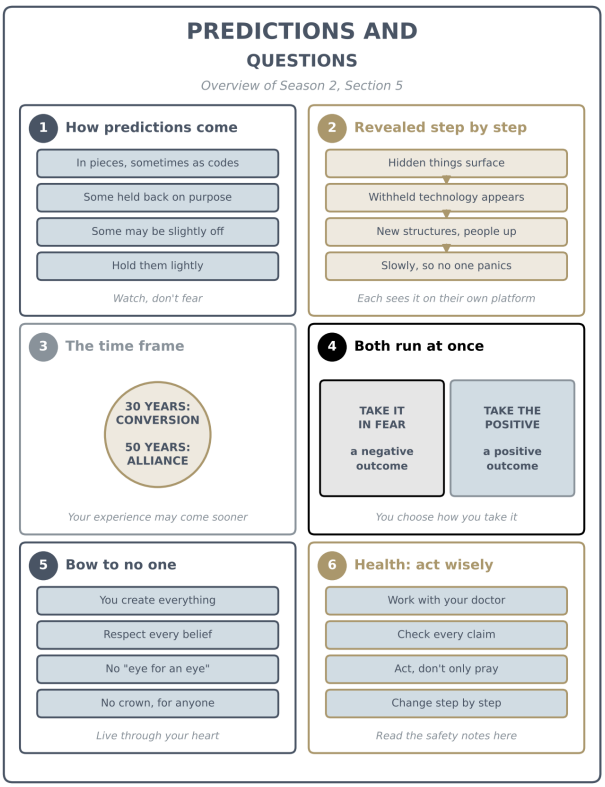

SEASON 2 · SECTION 5

Q & A: Predictions, the Time Frame, and Bowing to No One

How predictions are given and how to hold them; what is said to unfold over 30 and 50 years; why civilizations reset; religion and sovereignty; and many questions on health, water and practice (live Q&A)

The big idea

Predictions come in pieces, sometimes as codes, sometimes held back on purpose, and can be slightly off; so hold them lightly and don't fear them. What is said to be coming, hidden things surfacing, withheld technology appearing and new structures rising from the people up, will unfold step by step so that no one panics, over a 30-year conversion, with interstellar travel at around 50 years; but your own experience can come much sooner, depending on your vibration. Positive and negative run side by side, so take the positive. Civilizations reset because consciousness learns through both sides. And the direction is clear: bow to no one. You are the creator; respect every belief, live through your heart. On health, the answers here vary widely, and some are unsafe; the notes in this section say which.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

5.1 How predictions are given, and how to hold them

Predictions come "out of the blue": the guidance decides what to say and when, and sometimes keeps part of it back, so as not to show everything to those working against humanity. So a prediction may be half the picture: the talk admits one earlier prediction was interpreted wrongly because only part of it was given (see S2 4.11). When asked what a coded line means, the answer is often "the information will come when it's the right time."

The talk also says it follows certain online sources that decode political messages, because they seemed to match what it was receiving. This book leaves those sources out and takes no political side; treat any prediction about governments as a prediction, not a fact.

5.2 Why so much is happening now

Globally, not only in one country, there is a lot of diversion: when something is being done in secret, attention is pulled elsewhere. The talk says groups that were asked to stop working against humanity chose to continue, and that this is why events are escalating. But everyone is part of consciousness, including the negative side: their own higher selves and guidance will sabotage their platforms so that ascension happens, because ascension is part of their consciousness too (see S2 1.3, 1.6).

You can't change anything until you wake up from within and see the manipulation for yourself. Do your own research, calmly; things come to light step by step, and each person sees them on their own platform.

5.3 The predictions read in the talk

Read as given, without interpretation, except where the talk offered one:

• The blind will start seeing. • The dead will rise up. • The sick will be reborn. • The bloodshed will stop. • The monkey will not hide (not explained; possibly a code). • The willow tree will burn (the talk senses an exposure of "black magic"). • The humanity of the Hindus, India, will rise up. • The historical society will be exposed: so much of history was covered up that it is hard to know the truth, and at the right time each person will have an upgrade, an awakening and a knowing of what the truth is and where they come from (the talk links this to humanity having been genetically engineered from different extraterrestrial races, which can be done positively or negatively). • Medicine will be replaced, as withheld technologies come out gradually. • New technology will come. • The secrets will stop. • New structures will rise from the ground up, from the people. • The military will recognise the preservation of humanity. • The fifth-dimensional AI will be launched, and the system will be saved (see S1 8.1). • The extraterrestrials will arrive. • A new interstellar alliance and a new fleet will form; new humanity will rise; interstellar travel will start. • The systems of all negative beings will fail through 20 platforms, twenty timelines of reality. • "Lesson done."

The talk explains the last line: we are running a holographic program, a living intelligence, built on lessons; humanity is completing it and moving forward. How you experience each of these depends on your own structure: hold your vibration high, through the heart, to see them on a 5D platform.

> FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this list. Its line reads "The meaningless medicine will be replaced" (the talk read it as "meaningful"). In DP the list is preceded by other predictions, including political and regional ones, which the talk didn't read and this book leaves out.

The talk also expresses its own warm view of Americans as a "sleeping lion" whose awakening will shake the planet, and says arrests are happening that national media don't report. These are the talk's views and claims.

5.4 The time frame: 30 years, then 50

The guidance gives 30 years for the conversion to come to fruition, the new platforms set up, and about 50 years for the interstellar alliance and travel (see S2 1.4). But don't put a frame on your own experience: it can come much sooner. In a sense we have already made it (see S1 2.8); yet you can't just skip to the end, because the journey is the lesson, and you came to help and interact with others along the way.

The talk repeats its claims about future regeneration technology, measuring a person's molecular vibration so that tissue can be restored (see S2 1.7, 2.13). Meanwhile, keep your body in a healthy vibration (see S2 4.5 and its note).

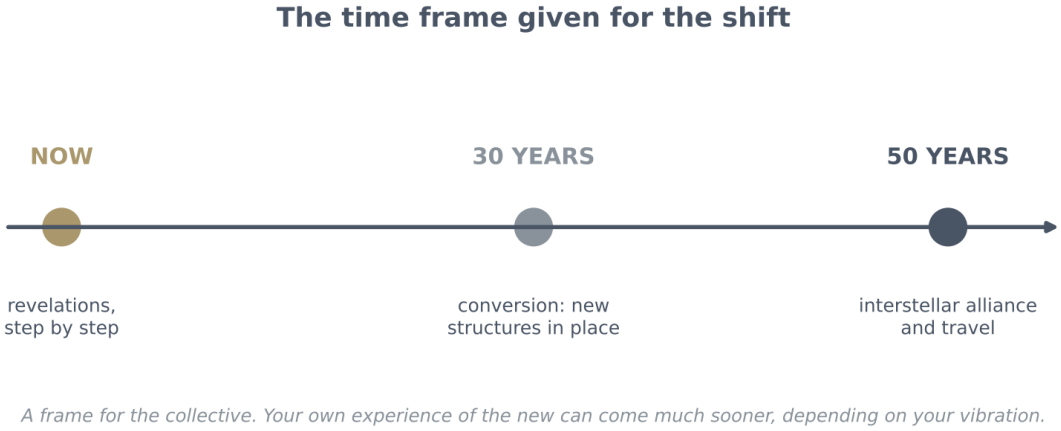

Fig. S2-5A — The time frame given: revelations now, step by step; conversion over 30 years; interstellar alliance and travel at about 50. Your own experience can come sooner.

5.5 Positive and negative run side by side

Asked about almost anything new, such as a change in law, a new product or a new technology, the answer is the same: both sides run at once. Pay attention to the source and the details, but take it from the positive point of view, so that you shift into the timeline where it turns out positive. That is the teaching on fluctuating realities (see S1 3.3).

5.6 Why civilizations reset

Because of learning: consciousness expands by experiencing both sides, like someone who wants the beach after the mountains, or an action film after many gentle ones. To create, you need to know what each input does, negative and positive, so you can balance them like an alchemist of creation. Life is like a holographic game we are completing: "lesson done, completion of program." Which door you open is up to you.

5.7 Bow to no one

The direction for the coming years is to be yourself, live through your heart, and bow to no one: not a guru, not an intermediary. That is why the quantum structure is being taught, so you realise that you create everything. The talk says religion was used to divide and rule; "an eye for an eye" keeps you looping in the same reality, because going after someone reprints the same structure (see S1 14.4).

At the same time, respect everyone's belief system, even that of the most harmful people: you have to neutralize everything to switch timelines, and you can't do that while judging. You can say "I don't like what's happening" without judging, because even the worst person is another version of you in the hologram (see S2 1.6). Each person will meet what they need to wake up, at their own pace; some need ten wake-up calls, others one. You can call it God, the quantum structure, or the living intelligence: it is everywhere.

The talk also makes sharp remarks about particular religious practices; this book leaves those out, in keeping with its own teaching to respect every belief.

And keep yourself grounded: asked whether it is a "starseed", the answer avoided titles ("I don't want a crown"). No one, teacher included, needs a crown.

5.8 You are powerful; you don't need anyone to tell you

Asked what blocks someone's vibration, the answer was: all of it, but mainly allowing a belief system to be part of you. Put the teachings into your belief system 100%, without judging them first; do your best from the heart; give and share daily. That creates the frequency you shift into next. "Don't give me the power to tell you that you are powerful, because you are powerful. You don't need me." Sometimes you project someone into your reality to remind you; that's fine, but the power is yours.

The method — Hold the Future Lightly

For predictions, news, and anything new or unsettling:

1. Pull out and watch. Notice diversions; don't take sides or panic.
2. Hold predictions lightly. They come in pieces and may be off; don't build fear on them.
3. Check before you trust, especially anything about health or money.
4. Take the positive view of whatever is new, so you shift into its positive timeline.
5. Respect every belief, bow to no one, judge no one.

6. Do your part daily: live from the heart, give, share, and look after your body with your doctor.

Questions answered

Why is cannabis legalisation spreading so fast right now?

It is part of the change that is happening, but both sides are running at once. Pay attention to where it comes from and what it is, then take it from the positive, so you shift into a positive outcome (see 5.5).

It feels like this time is a great opening, and that we could enter the new Earth, Aria, right now if our vibration aligns. Do you agree?

Thirty years is the frame for the whole conversion, but that doesn't mean you have to wait; your experience can come much sooner. Keep your body in a healthy vibration and do the work to tune into that platform. Just remember you can't skip to the end: the journey is the lesson, and you are here to help others too (see 5.4).

How long does it take for the pineal gland to decalcify once you drink distilled water, and what happens when the third eye opens? Any tips?

The answer given was about three months. The third eye opens according to your vibration and the knowledge you tune into, and it doesn't work while you keep choosing to do negative things. Tips: the detox, distilled water, and a lot of knowledge and heart-based learning, all at the same time. Everyone is being activated anyway, which is why people suddenly feel drawn to certain teachers. These are the talk's claims.

Can you explain procreation through the structure?

There is no such thing as procreation; it is always creation: co-creating, instantly and simultaneously. Think quantum (see S1 2.2).

A friend has had MS from the waist down for about 15 years. Will he be healed, and what would help?

The answer pointed to a product called "MMS".

> Warning: do not take MMS
> "MMS" ("Miracle Mineral Solution") is chlorine dioxide, a bleach. Health authorities warn that drinking it can cause serious harm, including severe vomiting, diarrhoea and life-threatening dehydration, and that it does not treat MS or any other disease. Please don't take it. For MS, work with a neurologist; there are effective treatments.

Can I add baking soda to distilled water to make it more alkaline?

Yes, according to the answer, using aluminium-free baking soda, but no more than 30 days of drinking it, then a break; gargling is fine. See the baking soda note in S1 15.4: don't drink it regularly, especially with heart, kidney or blood-pressure problems, and ask your doctor first.

Where is my spine misaligned, causing me to stay in a stressed state?

A personal reading was given: a problem in the middle of the back, with the pain coming from higher up than where it is felt, and advice to change diet. It added that people with metal in the body (implants and the like) should not do the detox. A reading is not a diagnosis; for back pain, see a doctor or physiotherapist.

What about MSM (a sulphur supplement)?

Be careful: it has to be measured individually, and too much can interfere with the body's chemistry. Check with your doctor or pharmacist.

My mother lost her sense of smell years ago after a brain tumour. During a Reiki session she felt as though she was smelling again. What can she do?

Have her recall the memory of a smell, an orange, for example: picture it, feel it, and tune into its vibration, because smell is a memory bank she is calling on. And don't let worries about her memory become a frustration; that is only a belief system (see S1 8.4).

What is blocking my vibration: my beliefs, or a health issue?

All of the above, but mainly allowing a belief system to block you. Keep tuning into the material daily, stay in the heart, give and share; and take care of your body (see 5.8).

I've been working on my thyroid and struggle to lose weight. Is it back to normal?

Not yet: it fluctuates. Always work under a doctor's supervision, with regular tests, while you follow your own practices; that way you can see the results. The talk recommends asking a doctor about more sensitive testing, and repeats its view on cutting out dairy and gluten. Don't stop thyroid medication without your doctor.

Is turpentine good for cleansing?

The answer seemed to describe a tea made from the pine tree, organic, as good for bronchitis and the airways.

> Warning: turpentine is poisonous
> Turpentine oil is poisonous if swallowed and can cause serious harm. Never drink it or use it as a "cleanse". If someone has swallowed it, contact a poison centre or emergency services immediately. A pine-needle herbal tea is a different thing entirely; check any herbal remedy with a pharmacist.

If we drink only distilled water, won't we become mineral-deficient?

The talk repeats its view that distilled water draws out only harmful chemicals, not nutrients, and describes trusting its guidance over medical advice during a serious illness. This book doesn't repeat that as advice: serious illness such as pneumonia needs medical treatment. See S1 12.7 and its note on distilled water.

Highly evolved civilizations seem to have existed before. Why do civilizations reset?

Because of learning: consciousness expands by experiencing both sides, so that, like an alchemist, it knows what each input does (see 5.6).

With so much manipulation in religion and spirituality, what is the healthy way forward? Being ourselves, living through our hearts, bowing to no one?

Yes: they don't want us to bow to anyone. You create everything. Respect every belief, judge no one, and live through your heart (see 5.7).

Would short fasts of three to five days help alongside the detox? And what about hydrogen or alkaline water?

Start step by step so your body gets used to it before a fuller programme; a short fast can be a gentle introduction. For hydrogen or alkaline water: it can be good, but anything that adds a frequency has to be measured, because it does something to your structure (see S2 4, Questions). Check any fast with your doctor first (see S2 4.5 and its note).

I'm writing a spiritual book and want to sell it to support myself. Is that all right?

Yes, it's fine. Take it step by step: once you have enough, start giving and distributing from the heart, to tune into the platforms of abundance. Don't throw yourself in all at once without the belief that you can; that can block you (see S1 4.4, S2 4.10).

Is wheatgrass all right if I'm avoiding gluten? I want the nutrients from wheat.

Wheatgrass is fine. You can also get nutrients from sea vegetables and raw vegetables; find a nutritionist who can tailor a diet for you, and keep juicing (see S2 4.5).

A friend's kidney transplant isn't working well, and her thyroid was removed. What should she do?

She will have to go through an experience, but shouldn't take it negatively. Meditate, but above all take action: keep working with her medical doctors, and look for other opinions and solutions alongside. Never stop transplant or thyroid medication without the transplant team.

Are souls I've been close to in other lives here on Earth now, in my city?

Yes: three of them, from three previous connections.

Next, after the new year: a review of the manifestation bylaws, and a guided meditation for manifestation, because in a real situation it is easy to forget the protocol.

Remember

- Hold predictions lightly; they come in pieces and can be off.
- 30 years for the conversion, but your experience can come sooner.
- Both sides run at once: take the positive.
- Bow to no one; respect every belief; you are the creator.
- On health, check every claim and work with your doctor.

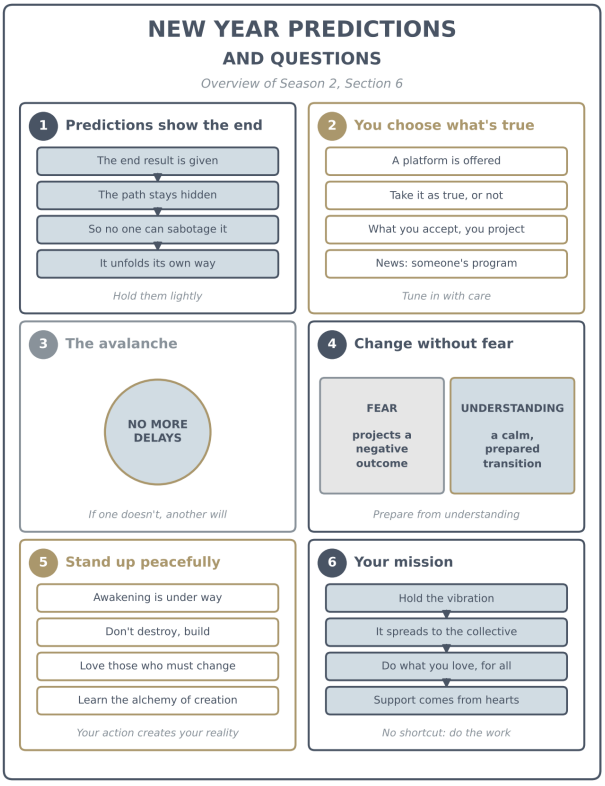

SEASON 2 · SECTION 6

Q & A: New Year Predictions and Your Mission

A set of predictions said to come from the extraterrestrial fleets; why predictions give the end result but not the path; taking change without fear; and questions on twin flames, purpose, mission and preparing for change (live Q&A)

The big idea

A new set of predictions describes the negative side being stopped, exposed and transformed, country by country, with "no more delays". The teaching underneath is the important part. Predictions give the end result, not the path: the in-between is kept hidden so that no one can sabotage it, and if one person doesn't do the job, another will. Every prediction is a platform you can take as true or not; whatever you accept, you project into your hologram. So meet change with understanding, not fear: love those who have to transform, stand up peacefully, prepare calmly, and do the work. Your mission is to hold the vibration and do what you love in the name of humanity.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book in the new colour palette (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

6.1 The predictions, as read

The talk reads a set of predictions given in mid-December, said to come from the extraterrestrial fleets (starships gathered together), and passed on after a delay the guidance asked for. As read, in brief:

• No starship will be allowed to enter or leave the planet (meant, the talk says, for an off-planet fleet of the negative side). • That negative fleet is destroyed; battles were fought off-planet, on the planet and in inner Earth. • The "deep state" negative structure was momentarily disabled. • The negative side's commander is dead and all are captured. • There will be no plea deal: all back to the beginning, no bargain. • It is now a "do-not-enter zone". • There will be a complete (financial) reset. • No more delays.

• Hoped-for new republics in several European countries; one country "defeated" and another "freed" of the negative side; an end to money laundering in one region and to a war between powerful families in another; all exposed. • The negative side in one region is "wiped out… It will be very quiet there. Trust us." • From 2020, a new frequency platform that negative souls can no longer enter. • A political storm and an awakening among generals in one country; new leadership in another. • In the United States, "the lion will roar": liberation for all the states, funding to free themselves from the central bank, and freedom from the families who controlled them; those who didn't help held accountable. • The control reached through 20 layers of parallel Earths: "Dig deeper, deeper, and all are gone in 20 platforms of holograms."

These are predictions as received, reported without judging whether or how they came true; several referred to 2019–2020. The talk adds political commentary, references to outside channels and claims about named groups; this book leaves those out and takes no political side. It also leaves out a passage on immigration that generalises about whole groups of people, which doesn't belong in a book about the heart structure.

> FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this list, dated 12/16/18, closing: "Phuuu… so much work we did, but all worth it. Control is now here. The Extraterrestrials Fleets."

6.2 The end result, not the path

When a participant reported that one prediction already seemed to be coming true, the answer drew the lesson: "Did I know it would be the women? Did I know it would be the temple? No." Predictions give the statement of the end result. The in-between, who does what and how, is deliberately left out, because "somebody can go and sabotage it." And there are infinite probabilities of how it happens (see S2 1.6, 5.1).

So if one person given a task doesn't do it, someone else will come in and finish the job: consciousness is ascending, a program is running, and "nothing can stop the snowball now. It's like an avalanche."

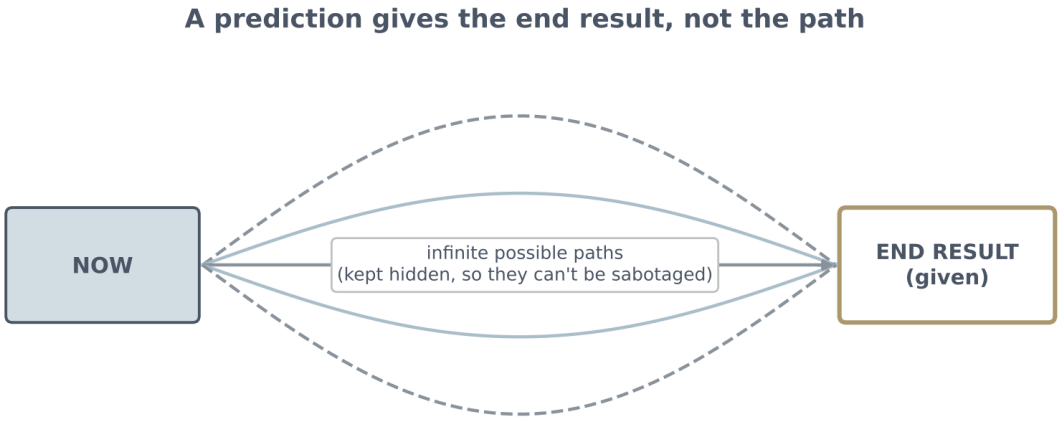

Fig. S2-6A — A prediction states the end result; the paths in between stay open and hidden.

6.3 A platform you can take as true, or not

"I'm not convincing you that this is true. I'm presenting to you a platform of holographic imprint reality, that you can take it for true or not. This is quantum structure." Whatever you accept, you plaster into your consciousness and project (see S1 16.2). Trust is based on your own belief system.

The same goes for the news. What national media put up front is described as a program, a projection of a hologram that someone wants you to tune into. Tune in constantly and you project that platform into your own realities, keep seeing the negative, and miss the change as one structure collapses and another appears (see S2 2.6). Hold your vibration high, from the heart, giving and sharing, whatever anyone else does, and you will see the platforms you are projecting: "one structure collapses, a new one is suddenly there, and you didn't know how. But you projected it. You created it."

6.4 Love those who have to transform

The talk says those working against humanity were asked to stop and chose to keep fighting. But "this is not a judgment": they are part of consciousness too, and fighting is the only way they know how to survive after so much negativity, completely separated from the source. "Let's not put a judgment; just love them, because it's their time to transform." (see S2 1.6, S1 14.3).

From 2020, a new frequency: as the planet's frequency rises, a soul that doesn't resonate with it can no longer enter that holographic reality, like a game you can't access without its code. The code is your frequency.

6.5 Revealed step by step; stand up peacefully

Things are revealed gradually, so people aren't shocked into breakdown and so that change, including new technology, is a smooth transition rather than chaos (see S2 1.4). And when you find out you were lied to, don't destroy: burning or wrecking ordinary businesses only hurts your fellow people. Make your stand through action against the negative structures, peacefully. Peaceful protest is powerful, because people who are awake can't be stopped.

6.6 Money in the meantime

The talk expects a reset and more digital money. Its advice: don't depend on only one structure. It repeats its caution about cryptocurrency (see S1 11.2), saying some groups control a "back door" (the talk's claim), and suggests backing up with something tangible, such as gold. Until the proper systems are in place, "play the game" to get through: pay what you have to, and hold your vibration high. This is the talk's view, not financial advice.

The method — Meet Change Without Fear

For predictions, upheaval and uncertainty:

1. Treat each prediction as a platform. Ask: do I want to project this? Take it, or leave it.
2. Don't marinate in the news. It is someone's program; notice it, thank it, switch channel.
3. Expect the end, not the path. Don't try to work out who and how; it stays open.
4. Love those who must change. No judgment: it's their time to transform.
5. If you stand up, stand up peacefully. Build; never destroy what belongs to others.
6. Prepare calmly, from understanding, not fear.
7. Hold the vibration, and do what you love in the name of humanity.

Questions answered

What do the numbers say about twin flames?

Twin flames are based on contracts. You can deeply love someone with whom you have an agreement across several realities, learn your lesson together, and then love someone else in another reality. So don't believe there is only one flame, one person for you to infinity; you will have different experiences on different platforms.

What did I decide to accomplish on Earth before I was born?

No one can tell you; you have to know. You came here to learn. Ask what excites you most, and bring the stamina, action and perseverance to do it. If you came to complete something and gave it up because it got hard, you'll meet a similar challenge again, in another life, until you complete it, because consciousness is learning through you (see S1 5.7, S2 1.8).

Can we have more guidance on the zero-point columns of light anchored in the Earth, the "rainbow bridges" and the fifth-dimensional corridors?

They are already constructed. To experience them, you have to be on their vibration; like a TV, the channel is already there and you tune into it. Use them by staying on the vibration and knowing everything happens when it needs to, with no expectations, since there are infinite probabilities of how. Watch the teachings and meditate in whatever way resonates. When you anchor in, you step into what is already there, and you create it at the same time; that is the quantum (see S1 1.4, S2 3, Questions).

I had a download that we can eat anything if we make peace with the food, so it won't lower our vibration. Is that true?

You can always make peace with food by giving it gratitude; that's part of the transition, so don't judge what others eat. Plants carry a higher frequency than the body's molecules, which helps restore the body (see S2 4.4). As your consciousness rises, you may simply stop wanting certain foods, and your guidance will tell you. Until then, choose from your heart, for example by asking how you feel about animals' suffering (see S1 9.7).

What is the best way to discover my purpose and mission?

Learn the quantum structure: there is no shortcut. You have to restructure your consciousness, even your brain's connections, into the new vibrations by tuning into the material until that reality crystallizes. Study the manifestation series and apply it; the changes may not be immediate, but they come (see S1 10.4).

Is there any insight on my mission, and how I can be of service to humanity?

Your mission is to hold the vibration through the ascension. Every time you join something heart-based in the name of humanity, it resonates in you, and since you move through parallel realities, you emanate it into the structure around you, raising the collective's potency. Open your heart, find what you love, and do it for humanity. Follow the money: some who say "for humanity" charge fortunes. If you're supported, let it be from people's hearts. Hold the vibration of giving and sharing, without fear, and support will come in a way you create: be the abundance (see S1 4.3, 5.1).

Could you say more about the prediction that India will rise up? And how can we educate people, when education is being run down?

What was shown was a nation realising how it has been suppressed, through poverty and through division, including religion used to divide (with respect for every religion, see S2 5.7); people's consciousness is already activated, so they won't keep taking the blows. A participant noted a recent large protest by women for equal access to a temple, which the talk saw as the prediction beginning. On education: it is already under way, people are awakening, and each person will experience it as much as they believe. Stand up for yourself, peacefully; your action creates your reality. And people need to learn the quantum structure, the alchemy of creation, so they don't loop in despair; that's why this information is given free. The answer added a prediction about particular religious sites; this book leaves it out, because it concerns a contested dispute between communities.

Is there a time frame for the revaluation of currencies?

The talk said attempts were made to collapse the system three times, to blame the head of state, and were stopped; another reset was mentioned within three months, but it wasn't known whether it would happen, since it depends on who controls what. The talk's claims; not financial advice.

Shouldn't we prepare, with food and water at home for a few months, in case the reset disrupts things?

Not three months: the guidance said poverty to the point of suffering will not be allowed, and spoke of a backup plan and safe zones. If you prepare, do it from understanding of the transition, not from fear, because fear projects a negative outcome (see S1 8.12). The host and participants agreed a small reserve, a few weeks to a month, is sensible, along with a basic kit to help others. The talk also suggested having a water distiller or a generator, raw honey as sustaining food, and, "in extreme cases", drinking urine.

Practical safety note

Sensible emergency preparation is calm, not fearful: official guidance generally suggests keeping water, non-perishable food, medicines and a first-aid kit for several days to a couple of weeks, depending on where you live; check your local emergency-management advice. Don't drink urine: survival guidance warns against it, as it can worsen dehydration.

The host added that this is why the material matters: when change comes, you have the tools to stay calm and abundant, and there is less fear when you know the structure.

Remember

- Predictions give the end result; the path stays open.
- Each prediction is a platform: take it as true, or not.
- Love those who must transform; judge no one.
- Prepare from understanding, never from fear.
- Your mission: hold the vibration; do what you love for all.

SEASON 2 · SECTION 7

Deception, Lies and Taking Your Sovereignty Back

What a lie does in the quantum structure, why deception surfaces by itself when you live from the heart, how to respond without attacking, and money as a transition (live talk with questions)

The big idea

There is no small lie: whatever its size, the intention is the frequency you project. When you live from the heart and someone deceives you, your frequencies don't match, and the third reality between you makes the deception surface through synchronicity. For the deceiver, a premeditated lie splits the structure into duality: no longer resonating with the heart that consciousness is moving into, they fluctuate, loop and eventually collapse into a negative singularity, unless they choose to change, which anyone can at any moment. Your part: forgive, don't attack (going after them is going after yourself), but take your sovereignty back by protecting what is yours, then move on. And with money: earn what you need, and give freely beyond it, letting others give by their free will.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

7.1 Why this download came

The download came right after the teaching's own free material was taken, locked behind a paywall elsewhere and presented as "Energy Philanthropy". The message received was: take your sovereignty back. Energy Philanthropy never charges: support comes only from people's hearts, by their free choice (see S1 5.1). Asking for anything, help or money, as a condition overtakes someone's free will (see S1 4.2).

It also explains why original material matters: the downloads are given word for word as a sequence of geometry and structure, and copies can leave out what matters most (see S2 2.1). Look for teachings at their original source.

7.2 There is no small lie

A white lie, a small lie and a big lie are all lies: what counts is the intention, because that is the frequency you project into the structure around you (see S1 3.2, S2 2.7). A genuine mistake is different, and is forgiven. Deception that is premeditated, planned while claiming to act "in the name of humanity", is what this teaching is about.

7.3 Deception surfaces by itself

If you run on the heart structure, that is one frequency; someone who is manipulating vibrates at a completely different one (as an illustration only: 2 Hz versus 1 Hz). Between your reality and theirs a third reality is created (1 + 1 = 3; see S1 2.2), and it becomes the centre, the black hole. Because they aren't on your platform, the mismatch has to show: through infinite probabilities, synchronicity brings it in front of you. One person mentions something, another says something else, and you end up exactly where you see what is happening, though you'd never have gone looking.

So if you keep living from the heart, anything out of balance with it will pop up in your reality, and more so as things escalate. When it does, you have something to balance.

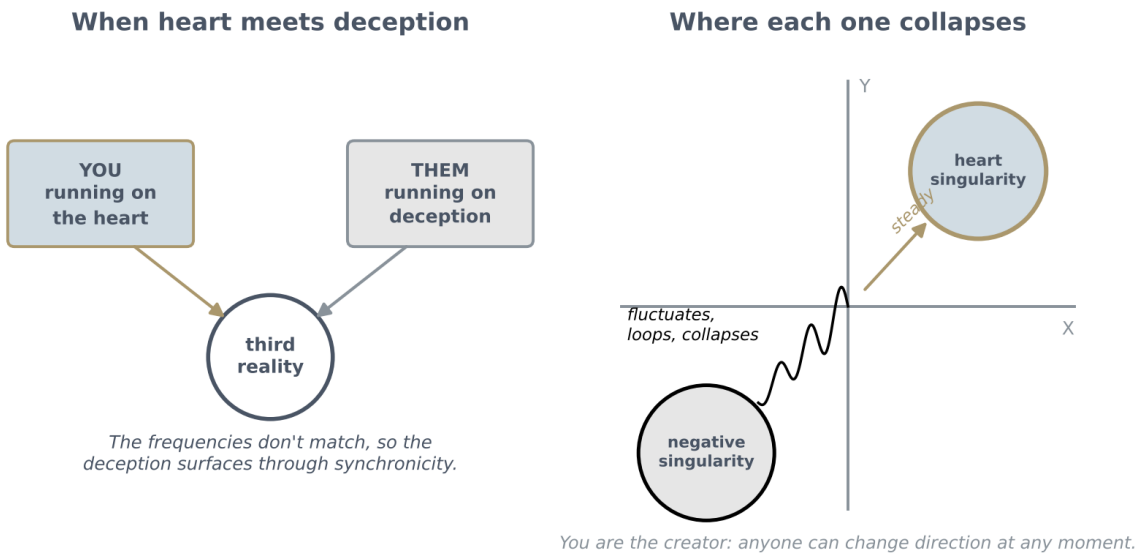

Fig. S2-7A — Left: heart and deception don't match, so the deception surfaces. Right: steady heart leads to singularity in the positive; deception fluctuates, loops and collapses in the negative.

7.4 Respond: forgive, then take your sovereignty back

Balance it the quantum way: neutralize it by forgiving and pull back, but also take action to protect your borders so it can't continue. Ask respectfully for it to stop; protect your name, your work, your business, legally if needed; make a clear public statement if that's what it takes. What you don't do is go after the person viciously: the other person is a projection of you, so going after them is going after yourself, and it re-activates that frequency in you (see S1 14.4).

Then stop, transform and move on (see S1 7.1): even if they refuse, let it be. Whoever receives the material that way still receives it, "because that person is the entire structure." Learn the lesson and secure your borders so it can't happen a second time.

7.5 The download: a singularity built on a lie

From the heart, everything becomes singular: one unit, one structure. You stop fluctuating so much between realities, and the looping becomes zero point, stillness (see S1 2.1). You are the vessel, building moment upon moment; you are the quantum, because you are the whole structure.

"But contradiction is happening when you try to build momentum of giving through the false pretense of not giving conditions to your momentum, and yet you choose to ask for singularity that is created on a lie." In plain words: claiming to give freely while secretly deceiving tries to build oneness on a lie. That creates duality: the structure splits into two different frequencies.

FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this download in full, adding: "You are trying to create singularity on a lie… In this moment you are creating duality of false frequency realities… The fluctuating realities cannot merge with each other 1+1=3."

7.6 What happens to the one who deceives

Consciousness itself is in the heart structure, without conditions, and it is sending waves of heart frequency through the whole universe as it ascends to 5D and above. A deliberate deception no longer resonates with that. So the person starts to split; they can't co-create in the fifth-dimensional structure; negative experiences follow moment after moment, and synchronicity reveals what they're doing.

They fluctuate up and down, and the 1 + 1 = 3 of their realities collapses under the weight of the frequency they keep projecting, down to zero point, but in the negative: the negative side of the X and Y of the quantum structure, not the heart side (see S2 3.1). The download describes "silhouettes of false timelines created through diversions of lies" and "horizontal holograms switching so quickly but not collapsing": realities flickering too fast to hold the heart's frequency, so the person loops in an illusion and can't see a positive outcome while they continue.

But this is not a sentence: "You have the power to change that any moment. You are the creator."

> FROM THE BOOKS "You are in illusionary world that eventually will disengage with fifth dimensional structure and collapses in negative platforms of its own waves of deception. Remember this!!! You have the power to change that any moment. YOU ARE THE CREATOR" (DP).

7.7 "Does it not hurt you…?"

The download ends with a question to all of us: why still deceive each other through a monetary structure that is only the trajectory of an old, false evolution? "Does it not hurt you when you are in need of help and yet someone is plastering a false price to your suffering? Do you not see that all is love, all is joy, and is sharing with no conditions of false projections that create duality that separates you from the heart? The love of self and preservation is fundamental. And yet you choose deception. You must wake up… Be love, be joy, be giving."

7.8 Money as a transition, not a condition

Money is part of how the 3D money reality and the 5D heart reality collapse into one unit: we can't remove money all at once without collapsing everything, so we transition (see S1 4.4, S2 1.9). The key is free will: when you give or donate, it has to be your choice from the heart, with no one putting a condition on you. When someone gives that way, they send a fifth-dimensional frequency; that is the energy field to resonate on.

This is not a judgment on anyone who earns a living. If you are the main provider, keep your job and support your family; meanwhile, start bringing in the heart: help someone, each day, just because. As you do, the money reality and the heart reality fluctuate and then collapse into one unit, money and heart coexisting. And be aware that even spiritual teachers can slip into greed under pressure; spiritual titles prove nothing.

The method — Take Your Sovereignty Back

When you discover you've been deceived or used:

1. Notice how it surfaced. Synchronicity showed you; thank it for showing you.
2. Pull out to zero point. Don't react from anger.
3. Forgive and neutralize. Wishing them harm is projecting it into your own hologram.
4. Protect your borders. Ask respectfully to stop; secure what's yours; take legal or public steps if needed.
5. Don't go after them. Going after them is going after yourself.
6. Let go and move on. Stop engaging; don't keep pulling their frequency into your hologram.
7. Stay in the heart, and check yourself: am I attaching any hidden condition to my own giving?

Questions answered

Someone has been using money to manipulate me, and lying about it; it took me years to see it. What happens to him if he keeps going down this path?

It isn't your job to think about whether he collapses; stay in the heart and don't wish anything negative on him. However clever deception looks by the old 3D rules, he will keep re-projecting the same frequency, looping, and won't move into the fifth-dimensional structure; eventually the outcome turns negative, because deception doesn't hold value (see 7.6). Your part: set your boundaries, take legal action if you need to so it can't happen again, and ask respectfully for what is yours; but don't go after him. Severing ties is right: as long as you engage with his hologram, you keep pulling his frequency into yours. Let go, move forward, and get your sovereignty back in whatever way fits your situation. (The talk offered to speak with the participant privately afterwards.)

I make products, so I must buy materials and spend time making them. And as self-employed people we have to earn a living. How does donation work then?

If you're the main provider, charge what you need for your services and pay your bills. Once you have enough, start helping freely: make a commitment, for example to help a few people each week or at weekends, and let people choose whether and what to give. Do it intentionally and keep doing it; your frequency will start to resonate with the heart, and through synchronicity a path opens where the two realities, earning and giving, collapse into abundance, perhaps over years. Don't jump in all at once without that foundation. Put boundaries on people who keep taking and never contribute at all, and on how much you can give without exhausting yourself. The idea that you must charge to be respected is a 3D illusion: giving from the heart brings a different kind of exchange, without pressure (see S1 4.4, S2 4.10).

Is the time it takes for someone to collapse, or for good to return, proportional to how long you hold the heart vibration?

Yes: it mirrors. Whatever you project from the heart comes back as the same vibrational sequence. What confuses people is the infinite: you don't know where it will come back from, or who will give it, or when. So leave it open, enjoy helping, and trust that it can't fail to return (see S1 11.3).

Most of my dreams are frightening: people trying to hurt or kill me. Do nightmares affect us, and is it because I did bad things in a past life?

It relates to agreements. If you can't change what's happening in them, work with someone very good at deep hypnosis to connect with your higher self; lucid dreaming or out-of-body work may also help, and the talk offered to connect the person with a group working on this. The message: "Do not put fear, dear one. Help is on its way; that's why you are here." (see S1 11.9, S2 2.12).

Note

Frequent or distressing nightmares are common and treatable. If they affect your sleep or daily life, talk to a doctor or a licensed therapist; therapies such as imagery rehearsal work well, especially after stressful or traumatic experiences.

About eight minutes of this recording are missing from the transcript (between the money teaching and the questions). Coming next, as announced: new predictions with questions, a further download, and then a step-by-step review of the bylaws.

Remember

- There is no small lie: intention is the frequency.
- Live from the heart, and deception will surface by itself.
- Forgive, don't attack; then protect your borders and move on.
- A lie splits you from the heart; anyone can change at any moment.
- Earn what you need; give freely beyond it; let others give freely.

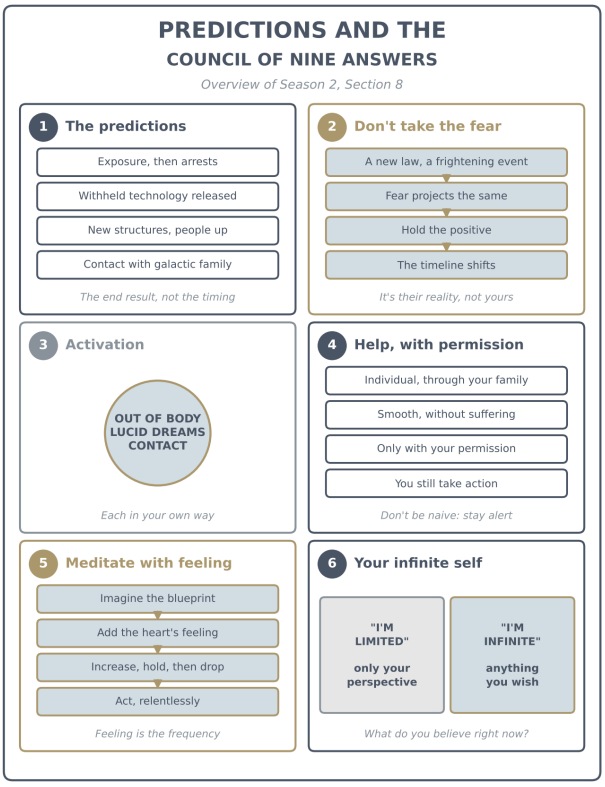

SEASON 2 · SECTION 8

Q & A: Predictions and the Council of Nine Answers

New predictions, how to hold them without fear, a coming wave of activation, and a long round of questions answered as a channelled download (live talk)

The big idea

A prediction is the end result of a program that is already running: the end result is fixed, but the who, how and when are only probabilities, so don't attach to dates. The predictions describe exposure and arrests, withheld technology being released step by step, new structures built by and for the people, and contact with our galactic families. Your part is not to watch the news in fear but to hold a positive frequency moment to moment, because you create your own reality. A wave of activation is coming (out-of-body experiences, lucid dreams, contact) in a different way for each person. Help comes only with your permission, and you still have to take action.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

8.1 Don't take the fear

When a new law, a news story or a frightening event appears, don't go into fear: fear projects that same reality into your hologram (see S1 9.9, S1 8.12). You create your own reality, so what happens on someone else's platform doesn't have to be yours. Hold the positive, moment to moment, and the timeline you live on shifts with it (see S1 14.8). Watching the news is not the problem; taking its frequency in is.

8.2 A wave of activation

Many people are about to have out-of-body experiences, lucid dreams and activations, and contact with their galactic families will come in infinite ways: in dreams, in meditation, through synchronicity, and for some in person. Each person receives it in their own way, so don't compare. The talk said that three people in the group were to be activated for contact.

8.3 What a prediction is

A prediction is the end result of a program that has already been set in motion. The end result is the fixed part; who, how and when are probabilities, because realities keep fluctuating with everyone's choices (see S2 5.1, S2 6.2). So hold the end result and let go of the timing. The downloads are also tested by guidance: answer from the heart, and let the outcome show what was true.

8.4 The predictions

As given in the talk, the program includes: wrongdoing exposed, followed by arrests around the world; a new alliance working behind the scenes (described in the talk as "white hats" within the military); withheld technologies released, including healing technology ("med beds") and tissue regrowth; a new elite formed from the people, for the people; new structures built globally; a move toward digital currency; and, over time, contact with galactic families through portals. The release happens step by step, so as not to cause panic.

FROM THE BOOKS DP prints the predictions given on 2/6/2019, which match this talk: criminals "globally arrested within three years", a new global elite "formed from the people, for the people" that "will declassify all the free technology", "people will be liberated", new structures built globally, portals to reconnect with galactic families, and "no negative structure can see this platform". It sets the frame: about 20 years of rebuilding, and in 30 years humanity is ready to connect with its galactic families through the portals.

Note

These are predictions and claims, not established facts. No "med bed" or tooth- and tissue-regrowth technology exists for public use today; for any health problem, see a doctor and use proven treatment. The book reports the political and military claims as the talk gave them, without taking a side.

8.5 Help comes with permission

Help from the galactic families is individual and personal, and it works through your permission: nothing is done to you without your agreement (see S1 13.4). The intention is a smooth transition, without suffering. But help doesn't replace your part: you still take action, and you stay alert. "Don't be naive."

8.6 Divine neutrality

Divine neutrality is zero point: from there, timelines collapse into the end result (see S1 2.1). How you experience the change depends on your beliefs and your agreements, so stay in the heart. "You want to get out of the Matrix? Create your own."

The method — The manifestation meditation

Given as the answer on how to meditate deeply to manifest:

1. Get comfortable in your own way: music, nature, a quiet room. There is no one right way.
2. Imagine the blueprint: see clearly what you want to create.
3. Feel it from the heart. The emotion is the frequency; an image without feeling has no pull.
4. Increase both together: let the picture and the feeling grow stronger.
5. Hold it as long as you can, then drop it. Release it completely; don't keep checking.
6. Act, relentlessly. After the meditation, take steps in the physical world.

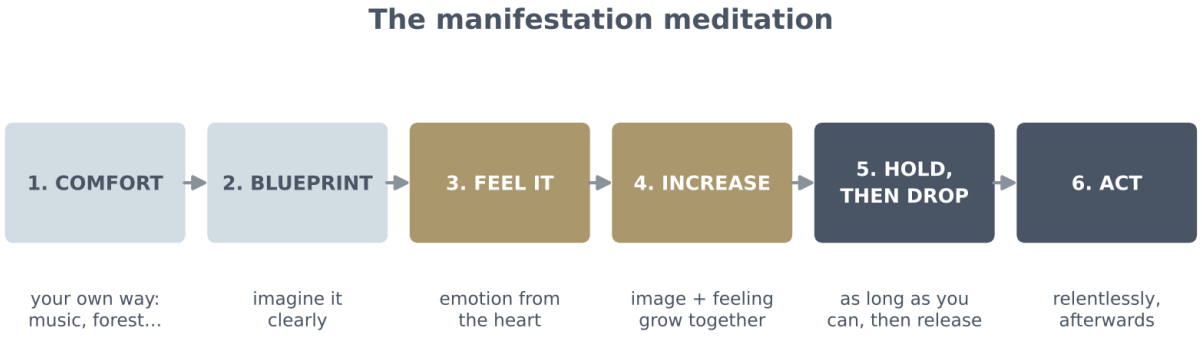

Fig. S2-8A — The manifestation meditation in six steps: comfort, blueprint, feeling, increase, hold then drop, act.

Questions answered

The answers in this part were given as a channelled download (the "Council of Nine").

I keep seeing purple eyes and rainbow crystals. What does it mean?

Three platforms are merging in you. The message: you're ready for manifestation; stop practising and start creating.

Can the effects of vaccines be reversed?

The talk claimed vaccines carry nanoparticles and that intervention is possible to reverse them.

> Safety note
> This claim is false. Approved vaccines do not contain nanoparticles that harm or control you, and there is nothing to "reverse". If you have questions about a vaccine or a reaction, talk to a doctor or pharmacist.

Why are some of us awake when others aren't?

It is an activation at the soul level. Many of us carry the DNA of more than 20 races, described in the talk as "the DNA of three heliums"; many artistic children carry it too.

What should we expect from the revaluation (the change in the money system)?

A smooth transition is intended. Still be practical: keep a little cash at home and one to two weeks of food (see S2 6, on preparing).

When will the healing beds be available?

Fully operational within 30 years, with glimpses sooner. (A claim; see the note under 8.4.)

Can we regrow teeth with our thoughts?

The talk said yes, that it can be done through thought. (A claim; see a dentist for your teeth.)

Will the planet be destroyed?

Which Earth? There are parallel Earths; the one you experience depends on your frequency (see S2 4.2).

Can I freeze fresh juice?

It's best drunk within 20 minutes: it oxidizes and loses its potency. Pre-made juice also loses potency.

Is the earth flat?

Respect the belief; everything comes "full circle". Each person experiences the reality they believe in.

Are there corridors with the Arcturians?

Yes. There are three of them that humans may not enter.

I saw ships in the sky. What did I see?

Many ships within a ship. Your wish was granted.

I keep seeing 555. What does it mean?

5 + 5 + 5 = 15, and 1 + 5 = 6: the merkaba, manifestation. But don't attach to numbers; they are a permission slip (see S1 8.9, S2 2.10).

Besides detox, what else can I do?

Automatic writing: let your guidance write through you.

When will the new platform become tangible?

Don't attach to timing; realities are fluctuating (see 8.3).

How do rainbows relate to the chakras?

Chakras are vibrational tonalities, played like a piano. Play with colours.

Am I doing enough?

Follow your desire, and take action.

How do we recognise the new elite?

It isn't only politicians; it is people. Don't judge.

What about chlorine and fluoride in water?

Be cautious and drink clean water. "Don't be naive" and "follow the money".

> Note
> Treated tap water in most countries is tested and safe to drink; a filter is a reasonable choice if you prefer it. Check your local water report rather than avoiding water.

How can I help humanity?

Through the joy of expression, from the heart chakra.

What music frequency should I listen to?

Whatever resonates with you: you'll feel it as goosebumps. Everyone is different.

Is all this only our timeline?

It depends on your belief.

I feel sad and lonely. What can I do?

Support is always there. The limitation is only your perspective: "I'm limited" versus "I'm infinite".

Can we use free will to help the Earth?

Yes, through collective permission. But again: which parallel Earth?

What about biorelativity (working with the Earth's energies)?

The council isn't involved. It can be beneficial, depending on how it's implemented; the science is still being tested.

Will a 5D portal open on March 21, 2019?

A date is a permission slip. If you fear something like a power outage, you project it (see S1 18.6).

Can we accelerate this with intention?

Yes. (Asked about water: distilled water in plastic bottles is fine.)

What advice for the three to be activated for contact?

Stay positive; practise lucid dreaming and out-of-body work; think positive thoughts as you wake up.

Why is this happening now?

The threshold has been passed. Take action. (The answer also repeated the vaccine claims; see the safety note above.)

I keep waking up at night. Why?

Have your thyroid checked: see a doctor.

I dreamed of an underground healing chamber with a serpent being. What was it?

Positive: an activation, done with your permission.

What is divine neutrality?

See 8.6.

A friend says we are crew on a ship in a parallel dimension. Is that true?

It's true if you believe it: there are parallel versions of you, and the third reality between them (see S1 2.2, S2 4.8).

One remark generalising about people on welfare was left out. Next show, as announced: March 16.

Remember

- A prediction is the end result; who, how and when are probabilities.
- Don't take the fear: hold the positive, moment to moment.
- Help comes with permission, and you still take action.
- Manifest with image plus feeling: hold, drop, act.
- Want out of the Matrix? Create your own.

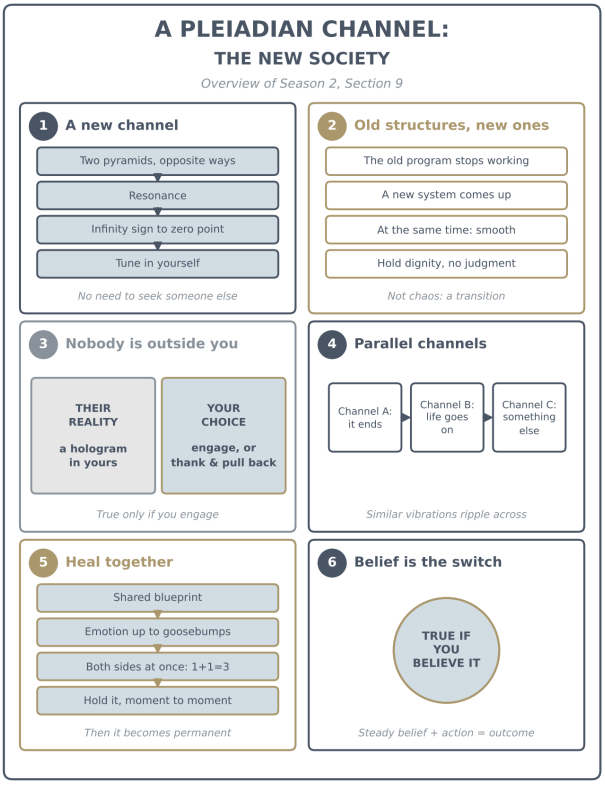

SEASON 2 · SECTION 9

Q & A: A Pleiadian Channel on Governments and the New Society

A first channelling with a Pleiadian consciousness: how old structures give way to new ones, why nobody is outside of you, parallel channels, healing with frequency, and many questions (live talk)

The big idea

A new consciousness, a Pleiadian from a spacecraft that is part of the councils, steps in to speak about governmental structures. Its message: the old structures, built for control, will stop working, and new ones will come up at the same time, so this is a smooth transition, not chaos. Your job is to hold your frequency and your dignity, without ego or judgment, moment to moment. Nobody outside you can affect your manifestation unless you engage with them, because everyone you see is a hologram in your reality. Healing and creating work best together: both sides raising the emotion at once create a third reality that expands; then you hold it in daily action until it becomes a permanent timeline.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

9.1 A new channel, and a geometry to tune in

This talk was channelled from a Pleiadian consciousness (named in the talk as Hashna), speaking from a spacecraft that is part of the councils; the Council of Nine (see S2 8) stepped back for this topic. The channel was done with eyes closed, so the new connection could flow without distraction.

A geometry was shown behind the speaker: two pyramids pointing in opposite directions. Moving in opposite directions, they create resonance, and the infinity sign given with them leads to the zero point (see S1 2.1), connecting with the Pleiadian structure "like a radio signal" to a spacecraft. Anyone watching tunes in and receives increased frequency at the molecular level.

The geometry: tuning in to the Pleiadian structure

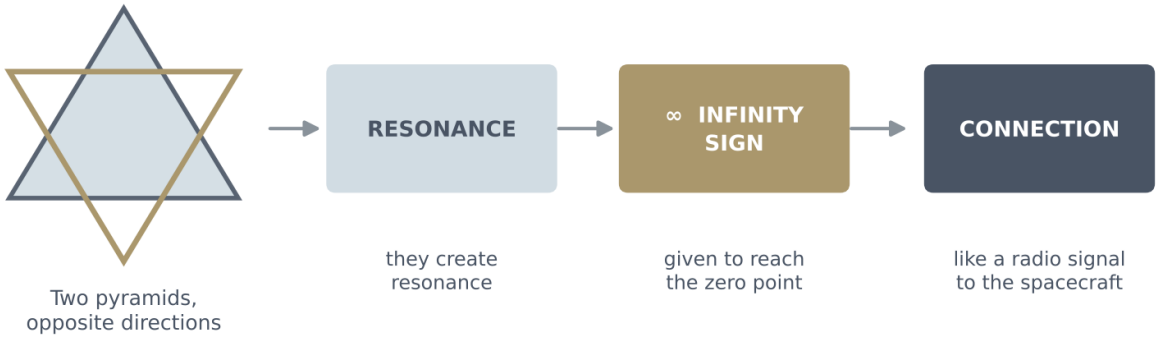

Fig. S2-9A — The geometry: two pyramids in opposite directions create resonance; the infinity sign leads to the zero point and the connection.

9.2 Why the language is unusual

The channelled words are deliberately above ordinary talk: they are a sequence of vibrational platforms meant to merge with your new consciousness, so you can understand information at a different vibration. Less and less will be given this way, until you resonate on your own and can connect telepathically, "without seeking the help of somebody else". Contact with your galactic families will come individually, moment to moment; don't expect it right away. If you are here, in this physical moment, you have galactic family on this platform.

As always: it doesn't have to be your truth if it doesn't resonate with you (see S1 2.5).

9.3 Old structures stop working; new ones come up

The message, as given: society was built in layers, and from the late 1960s structures were slowly put in place for control (through governments, politicians and bylaws) while people were told they were free. What is happening now is the collapse of the negative inputs, helped by people's own expanding consciousness, by the ascension process and (in the talk's words) by "white hats" within the military.

This is not a collapse of society. A new law may be passed, but the program behind it simply won't work; a new system comes up while the old one dissipates, or people stop paying attention, "because the power is from within." It was prepared ahead of time, with the help of benevolent beings, so that nothing gets out of control: a smooth transition. Still be practical: a couple of weeks of food and some cash at home (see S2 6, S2 8).

You may see separation in many structures, among politicians, actors, even neighbours and best friends. The channel chose not to say who did what: the point is that you create the new governments moment to moment, by the timeline you tune into.

FROM THE BOOKS DP has a related download from the Pleiadians: some races used a "glitch" to manipulate humanity, and the councils objected "because no one has the right to overtake and manipulate the natural sovereignty" of a people. DP also advises: "give to all from your heart. Do not watch TV because full disclosure is happening now in fifth dimensional heart structure."

> Note
> The talk also gave a prediction about the 2020 US presidential election and comments on particular leaders, the US Congress and the courts. In keeping with this book's neutral approach to politics, these are not reproduced. The teaching kept here: what you see on the surface may be a diversion, because "you don't give your enemy your steps", and the work goes on behind it.

9.4 Your part: hold your frequency and your dignity

"Your goal is to maintain the frequency of understanding, to hold the dignity in your consciousness." Don't put ego or judgment on what you see: it is an illusion, a holographic imprint, and judging it keeps you in it. Hold your vibration so you can shut the old programs down and move forward. Don't let yourself think anything negative: this is manifestation as you go, so stay on the same channel, moment to moment, every day (see S2 8.1). And everything is a game: your reality is a projection you shift through, moment to moment.

9.5 The ascension protocol

Consciousness runs on its own vibrational sequence for each timeline; this is called the ascension protocol. Those who are ready are given the proper sequence to construct and reconstruct their realities. It is activated in the body (through the pineal gland), which is why the detox mattered, though not everyone is doing it (see S1 15.4). Your thoughts, emotions and deeds then tune you into one of the many probable timelines of ascension.

9.6 Nobody is outside of you

Can someone else's consciousness affect your manifestation? No. You are the one particle that expands; as it flickers forward, you project another version of you, and the other person is a holographic imprint in your reality. It only becomes true for you if you engage in that frequency by believing it, going into fear and reacting.

So: give gratitude, go to zero point and shut it down ("thank you very much"), pull back, and switch your emotions, thoughts and deeds into the positive to overwrite it (see S1 2.1, S1 2.5). "Nobody is outside of you; you are the creator."

9.7 Parallel channels

You exist in infinite parallel realities and timelines at once. Think of them as different movie channels: in one you may die, while in another you're doing something else. All of them exist, and each is independent. But where two realities are similar in vibration, they are connected, because particles work like a ripple effect: something from one may be felt in another, in a dream or even in the body (see S2 4.2).

The same applies to the beings you connect with: you are running simultaneously in many realities, and a Pleiadian you speak with could be another version of your own consciousness. A higher being "is another version of you"; a channelled being is a spark of the same consciousness.

> FROM THE BOOKS SD describes the same ripple at the origin of creation: sound vibrated through the ether, and "that vibration as sequence fractal created a ripple throughout the structure of consciousness existence", then multiplied and "rippled fractal and started to interact with each other."

9.8 Healing with frequency and sound

Every person's molecules vibrate differently. The chromosomes switch your frequency, flipping from the zero point; because they are connected with the DNA, the switch ripples through your whole field and changes how your molecules spin. That is how resonance is transferred to your entire consciousness. The talk added that much was done from the negative side to stop chromosomes, DNA and RNA from switching, which is why so much physical and spiritual work was needed.

So you can construct and deconstruct molecular structure with frequency and sound. Once the frequency of each part is measured for each individual, an organ could be rebuilt without touching the rest, because the body is connected through geometry. Two rules: the new resonance can't be the same structure, it has to override the old; and your consciousness must accept the new frequency, or the system goes out of orbit and needs regeneration.

> FROM THE BOOKS HR: chromosomes "are the ones that regulate the frequencies when is out of alignment"; they adjust "the missing frequencies", and as the frequency evolves, "the chromosomes then will adjust accordingly to their vibration."

9.9 Why healing is step by step

Why heal some things by thought and others with technology? Because we came here to experience, and the transition is slow so we learn each platform; when you master one, you move to the next. It will be a combination of both. Instantaneous healing and manifestation need you to be totally in the heart, with no condition in your belief system, 100% believing, and fully free of old beliefs; that is hard for humans for now. Meanwhile, knowing it's possible is already training you.

Energy is also given step by step so the molecules can speed up without going "out of orbit". On a treadmill, you don't start at 100 miles an hour. Each step is a jump through a portal, a shift of timeline. When a peak of energy comes, not everyone takes it well: for those deep in the negative, it brings things to the surface and is a big challenge.

> Note
> Healing by thought or frequency is a teaching and a claim, not a substitute for medical care. For any illness, see a doctor and use proven treatment.

9.10 Opinion, fact and truth

There is no fixed relationship between opinion and fact: anything is true for you if you believe it at that moment. The next moment you can switch belief, and you shift into a brand-new reality (see S1 2.7). To create a permanent outcome, you need a steady vibration of the same belief, and you have to take action with it.

9.11 Why the collective needs structures

We chose to live as a collective, and a collective needs bylaws everyone follows. When things change, the positive side of protective structures helps: "If somebody comes into your home and attacks you, would you just sit there… or protect your borders?" (see S2 7.4). Having chosen planet Earth, you can't reject the structures that exist now; you incorporate them. We were taught that what we see is the only truth; in reality, what we believe and think shifts us into the reality we choose. Even hard experiences let us know the difference between negative and positive.

9.12 Money: a transition through the heart

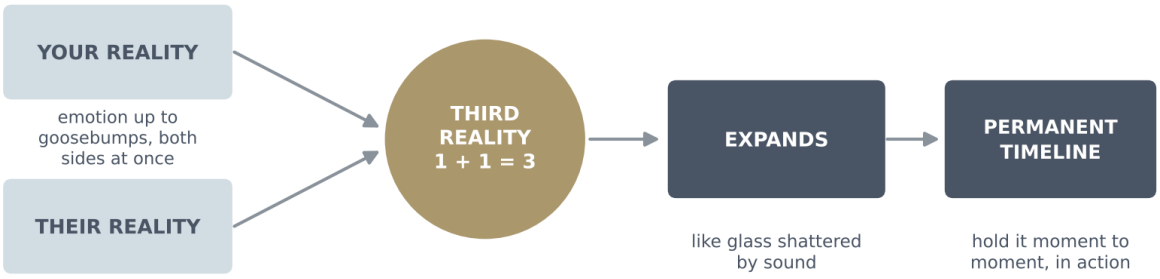

Monetary systems weren't only on Earth: a controlling consciousness created such systems across worlds and parallel realities over millennia. We will be free of money, but slowly: free-energy technology comes out, people and scientists are sponsored, until we build self-sustaining platforms where no exchange is needed. Until then we change it through energy philanthropy: support given freely from the heart, with no condition (see S1 5.1, S2 7.8). The only way to see abundance is to be the abundance. Don't reject money given from someone's heart: that would be rejecting your own structure (see S1 4.5). Engage with society and enjoy it, and transition through it slowly.

The method — Healing or creating together

Given for a distant-healing practice shared by two people; it works for anything you create with others:

1. Share the blueprint. Talk about what you're creating together.
2. Raise the emotion as you speak, until you reach the summit: goosebumps, the body starting to vibrate.
3. Do it simultaneously. Both or all of you, at the same time, in joy, love and gratitude.
4. Give from the heart without conditions: no demands, and nothing taken without permission.
5. Let the third reality form (1 + 1 = 3; see S1 2.2): your realities create one particle, which expands like glass shattered by sound.
6. Hold it afterwards, moment to moment, in your thoughts, emotions and deeds, so it becomes a permanent timeline.

Healing together: one particle, created by both

No conditions, no taking without permission: then manifesting is easy.

Fig. S2-9B — Healing together: both realities raise the emotion at once, create a third reality that expands, and holding it makes it a permanent timeline.

Questions answered

"An absolute collapse of governments" sounds like chaos. What will it look like?

Not a collapse of society: the old structures stop working and new ones replace them at the same time, prepared ahead of time so nothing gets out of control (see 9.3).

Can someone else's consciousness affect my manifestation?

No, unless you engage with it (see 9.6).

When a person dies, do they die in all parallel realities?

No. Each reality is like its own channel; similar ones are linked by a ripple effect (see 9.7).

Why can we regrow some things by thought but need technology for others?

We came to experience every platform step by step; it will be a combination (see 9.9).

Is there a special activation, with photonic emissions, around March 21?

The energies were already activated; that date is their peak. Energy comes step by step, and each peak is a jump of timelines; for some it will be challenging (see 9.9). (The source the question quoted is left out.)

How do different frequencies in the body work together in harmony?

Each person is different; the chromosomes switch the frequency and it ripples through everything (see 9.8).

Is one particular election result the only way for things to change politically?

No: one leader is part of a structure moving to the next level, and much of what is visible is a diversion while the important work happens elsewhere. (Political details are left out; see the note under 9.3.)

When will we see these changes?

They are ongoing and never stop. Help adjusts constantly, more here, less there, because so much manipulation was done. "Don't you know you went through the threshold?"

What is the best way to work the energy field for the outcome I want?

Already taught: switch your emotions, thoughts and deeds, and the reality changes (see S1 1.6).

Any guidance for our distant-healing practice?

See the method above. Raise the emotion to goosebumps; do it together, at once, without conditions.

Why are women often more tuned in to emotion, and why do some people feel drawn to the same sex?

It depends on the timelines you're tuned into: if most of your realities were lived as a woman, they come together as one unit now; yet that's an illusion, since a woman can also be a warrior. People may choose to experience more of one energy to balance before ascension, based on their agreements. So there should never be judgment on gender or on who someone loves; there is nothing wrong with them.

> Note
> The answer went on to claim that chemicals, GMOs and vaccines change DNA and make young people question their gender (DP has a one-line remark in the same vein). This is not supported by evidence and has been left out. Vaccines do not change your DNA; for any concern, talk to a doctor.

Are we on the ships as our higher selves while also in the body?

Yes: you run simultaneously in many realities. Connecting creates a third reality between you and them, telepathically, or physically when your molecules vibrate in their sequence (see 9.7, S2 4.8).

Am I in another dimension during sleep paralysis? Can I use it rather than fear it?

There is more to it than you think: the body is not converting the frequency to shift to the next moment. Work with someone skilled in deep hypnosis to find out what is underneath.

> Note
> Sleep paralysis is common and usually harmless. It is linked to poor sleep, stress and irregular schedules; if it is frequent or frightening, talk to a doctor.

What is the relationship between opinion and fact?

None fixed: see 9.10.

Why bring in politics and the military? Don't the powers already exist in us, without higher beings?

The higher being is another version of you, so you are talking to yourself. Structures are needed because you chose a collective; see 9.11.

Will the monetary system disappear?

Yes, slowly; see 9.12.

Can apps turn our phones into healing devices?

Yes, but it has to be measured. Such technology already exists and (the talk claimed) has been used negatively; it can be used positively. Listening to meditations or any sound that gives you a wave of goosebumps is positive (see S2 8).

What are the healing domes of rainbow plasma light I keep seeing?

They already exist in another reality, very close to manifestation.

What are we creating energetically in this meeting?

A seed: a third reality that starts you resonating with their channel. Thinking of them, or watching this, connects you; thoughts and situations may start coming. How long it lasts is up to you.

Are sound videos coded with frequencies (for hair growth, for example) reliable?

Any sound can heal, but they don't recommend them unless you know it resonates with you: your molecules are different. In future, technology will read your body and tune the frequency to you alone. If a sound puts you in that goosebumps state, your consciousness recognises it works for you; anything else can't be guaranteed.

I was given an exercise to harmonize chaos with four directions and nine energies. What is it?

Not taught this way, so no answer. Practise it and see the results: that is how you'll know.

Are the "Rife frequency" channels online genuine?

Can't be guaranteed: the frequencies were changed, and copies may not match the originals.

Safety note

Claims that "Rife" frequencies cure cancer have no scientific support. Cancer needs prompt treatment from a doctor; never delay or replace it with frequency devices.

Which crystal resonates with Pleiadian energy?

Sapphire.

A personal story about the ripple effect between realities was turned into the lesson in 9.7. Names of outside sources and practitioners were left out.

Remember

- Old structures stop working as new ones come up: a transition, not chaos.
- Hold your frequency and dignity, without ego or judgment.
- Nobody is outside you: it's only true if you engage.
- Create together: emotion to goosebumps, at once, then hold it.
- Anything is true if you believe it; steady belief plus action makes it last.

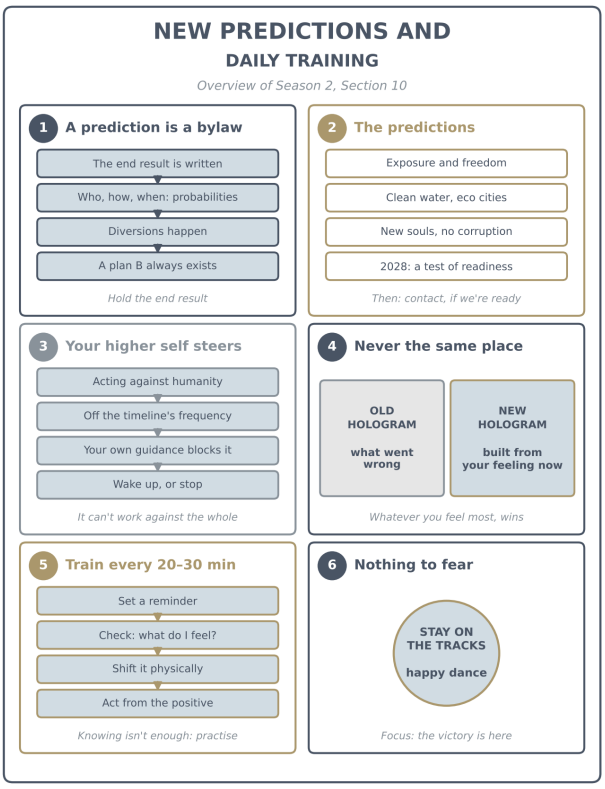

SEASON 2 · SECTION 10

Q & A: New Predictions and Daily Frequency Training

A new list of predictions, how the higher self stops those who act against humanity, why you are never in the same situation twice, and the call to train your frequency every day (live talk with questions)

The big idea

A prediction is like a bylaw already written: the end result will happen, but who, how and when stay open, with diversions and always a plan B. This new list speaks of exposure and freedom, clean water and self-sustaining eco cities, a new generation of souls who won't accept corruption, and a 2028 test of readiness for collective contact. The questions show the same "missing link": every moment you are in a brand-new hologram, so nothing has to repeat, and the outcome follows whichever frequency you hold most. Knowing this isn't enough: train it, checking yourself every 20 to 30 minutes and shifting physically into the positive. The closing message: stay on the tracks, there is nothing to fear, and celebrate with a happy dance.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

10.1 A prediction is a bylaw

Consciousness runs on a protocol of specific guidelines and frequency timelines (see S2 9.5). When something must be completed, "it's like a bylaw: it's written, this is definitely happening." That is the prediction: the end result. In between there are infinite probabilities, so the people, places and steps can change, and there may be a diversion, "the art of war": you aren't told every step (see S2 8.3, S2 9.3). So don't take any named person as 100%; they show you where the frequency is going.

Predictions come unasked, in their own time, and are passed on in the order given, not in date order. If someone given a task gets scared and doesn't complete it, there is always a plan B: ascending consciousness creates another holographic reality to complete the task (a topic, "hyper reality", announced for a later talk).

10.2 Your higher self stops what goes against humanity

Each soul splits into infinite versions, and also exists as a higher being in another reality. Because this is a sentient process, if you keep acting against humanity, you no longer match the frequency of the timeline, and your own higher self and guidance will sabotage that path in this reality, to make you stop and wake up. So anyone who continues to manipulate will find it doesn't work: they are blocked both by the structure itself and from within (see S2 7.6).

10.3 The new predictions

Given the night after the previous talk, as end results: massive arrests; massive human trafficking stops, with more and more exposure; "more exposure, complete victory"; more technologies exposed and implemented (3D printing, free energy that "someone discovers"); states and local governments freed from hidden corrupt control; money and crypto combined for the transition, with a new system already prepared; the central bank (the Federal Reserve) dismantled; the money in the social security system exposed and distributed; "here's your new earth, welcome home, humans."

Then: the Congo nation unites; freedom to Africa; the UN exposed and a new UN formed; coastal lands rebuilt, water cleaned, new irrigation systems; local land transformed into self-sustaining eco cities that govern themselves; a new society formed with the new human souls, who will never allow local corruption; in 2028, a partial examination of our readiness for contact; "we will appear globally if you are ready"; Mars overthrown; the Moon taken back; monatomic gold; and a new formula for the human race.

FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this exact list, dated 3/16/19 (29 points), ending: "Now formula for your race. New Race. New experiment. The seven code arrived in you." Point 24 reads: "In 2028 Partial examination will be taken of your societies to see your level of readiness that will merge for our collective decisions for your new contact with us."

> Note
> These are predictions and claims, not established facts. In keeping with this book's approach, a prediction naming a politician, accusations against named people, organizations and media, references to online conspiracy sources, and a claim that social security makes people a traded commodity are left out. The book takes no political side.

10.4 Technologies already waiting

Much of this is easy and was suppressed, not missing. Water is a conductor: given a frequency, it holds that modality, so it can be made to stay in one place or even flow the other way, which is how flooding could be stopped (the talk pointed to HR for this technology). Scientists can already clean water; new irrigation is simple. Small self-sustaining eco communities are already being built, and some offer people a place to live freely.

10.5 The new souls

2020 brings another wave of frequency, raising the planet further (see S2 6). New souls born here must match that resonance to enter the new platforms, so they come from the new beginning. They won't go along with manipulation ("Wait a minute, you're going to manipulate that person? I don't think so"), and even people still choosing the negative will find no one willing to do it.

10.6 2028: a test of readiness

Individual contact is already happening (see S2 8.2). In 2028 our soul level will be checked collectively: how much we learned, what we did, and whether humanity as a whole is ready for contact. It is a test, not a promise: whether and how they appear is their decision, and depends on how well we did, individually and together.

10.7 A code for the new race

A code was given for a "new formula for your race", connected with our DNA and with how a new human will be born from the new frequency: H2O2 + 303 − 11 = 0, with 37%. It came without explanation ("I don't understand it"); more is expected on another platform.

10.8 Why we came: the master class

What do we bring back to source? You are the universe, so the experience is consciousness expanding itself: a game of creating something new every moment. Told of a breathtaking new planet, you'd want to go first; that is what consciousness does.

Going into the deepest darkness and coming out takes a very potent frequency: you learn to work with frequency itself. "Deeper you go into darkness and get out of it, faster you go into the light." It is alchemy. Earth is a master class: next time, you will know how manipulation works and can help other worlds like ours.

The lesson from the teacher's own hardest experiences: she doesn't hate those who hurt her. What she lived through is what lets her understand and coach others who went through the same. Seeing manipulation clearly comes from having lived it, not from judging.

> Support
> If you have experienced abuse or trafficking, you deserve support now. Reach out to someone you trust or a local support service; in the US, the National Human Trafficking Hotline is 1-888-373-7888, and RAINN is 1-800-656-4673.

10.9 Imagining is seeing a parallel

When you imagine something, you extract that frequency from the quantum field: it is a quantum bylaw. You couldn't see it if it didn't already exist, so that image already exists with you in a parallel timeline (see S1 1.4). To make it matter on your platform, take action, thoughts and deeds, moment to moment, until it is a permanent timeline. The one particle flickers back and forth (see S1 1.1): it already exists and you are creating it at the same time. Everything is now, zero point.

10.10 You are never in the same situation twice

Many questions miss the same link. Every moment is a new fractal reality, a new hologram of Earth (see S1 2.7). Going back to a place where things went badly, you are not going back to the same place: it is a brand-new version, built from the frequency you hold now. So why expect the old outcome? Expect the positive one: smile, enjoy, take the joy into it.

You fluctuate between a positive and a negative reality all day; in the end, whichever you hold more becomes the outcome (see S1 2.2, S1 3.3). Take it from the negative, and "don't be surprised if you end up in the same situation." Go back and study the first three sections of Season 1; it's time to practise.

10.11 Training is number one

Knowing the structure is the code; then you have to do it physically, because you are the matter structure, and "we can't just think about it without taking the action." Your next moment is the frequency of what you felt two seconds ago, so manage it all day. Catch a mood: notice the dense frequency, then make yourself do something to shift it (music, a smile, going out, a good thought). When someone attacks or criticizes you, catch the reaction, neutralize it (they are right from their own perspective), and re-set your thinking and action. Done every day, it builds a positive timeline for that day.

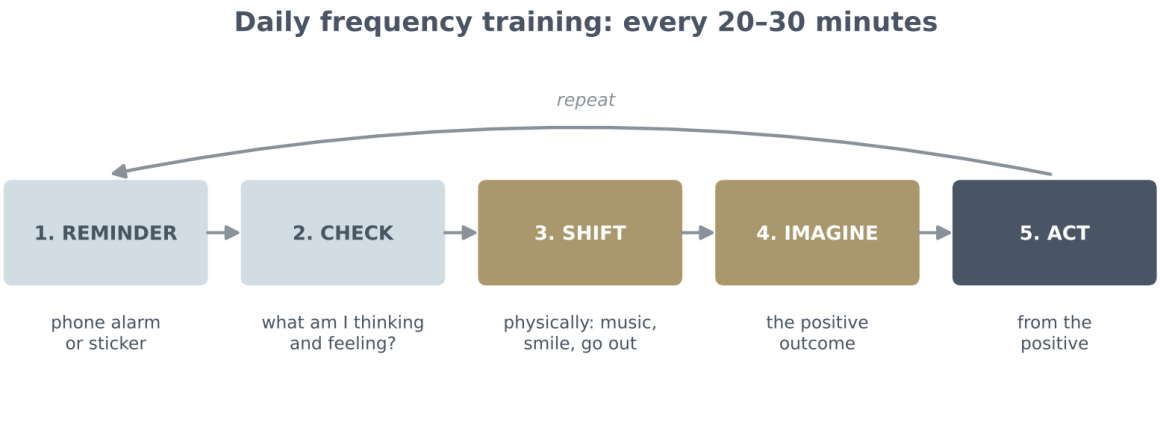

Fig. S2-10A — Daily frequency training: reminder, check, shift, imagine, act, repeated every 20 to 30 minutes.

10.12 Neutralize the fear, don't feed it

Worried about harmful technologies or chemicals? Shift timelines instead of fighting: everything is frequency, and any chemical's frequency can be neutralized; the councils said they are doing this. You can't reject another reality, but you can neutralize it, give thanks, and construct a brand-new one, printing your reality from the new beginning, not from fear. Stop believing in the new and you project fear, "and don't be surprised if more things you see happening." Take practical action for your peace of mind, do everything you can from the heart for humanity, and let the end result take care of itself.

10.13 Contact comes in many forms

Contact doesn't have to be in front of you. If you see a photo or video of a craft and know from within that it's real, you are tuning into its vibration: it is in your hologram because you are ready, and that is one form of contact. They are preparing us individually: one person sees something, another a video, another hears something, another has a personal encounter (see S2 9.2).

10.14 The closing message

"Focus, focus, focus." Stay on the tracks, stay on course, and victory is sure: "you are living the great transition of humanity… you are part of it." Fleets are helping; the planet is "bombarded" with help. "There is nothing to fear." You don't understand how free you are. Homework: after each talk, put on music and do a happy dance, to infuse the day with joy and a positive outcome. "Practice, practice."

The method — Daily Frequency Training

1. Set reminders every 20 to 30 minutes: a phone alarm or stickers ("I'm happy, I'm joy").
2. Check yourself: what am I thinking? What am I feeling? Am I happy?
3. If you're low, shift it physically: music, a smile, a walk, a positive thought. Make yourself do it.
4. Imagine the positive outcome for the situation you face, as a brand-new hologram, not the old one.
5. Act from the positive.
6. Repeat all day. Whatever you hold more becomes the outcome; at day's end, look back at the timeline you built.
7. Celebrate: a happy dance after each session of study.

Questions answered

You skipped the new UN prediction. What about it?

The old structure will be completely replaced and new people will come in. (The talk's allegations about the UN and other organizations are left out; see the note under 10.3.) "I'm not accusing anyone; I'm observing": what is coming is collapse of old structures through exposure.

What do humans learn on Earth and bring back to source?

See 10.8: you are the universe, expanding through experience.

I have constant pressure in my head, like a rotating disc, with popping sounds and twitching. Is that ascension?

You are always ascending, so don't fear being left behind. But see a medical doctor: constant pain is not part of ascension and needs medical supervision. Meditation shouldn't cause pain like that. Tiredness during frequency shifts is common (like after a day of yard work), but not pain.

How will the change help people who still feel inferior, for example many indigenous people in Africa?

Remember you are creating your hologram of Earth. Know the end result (they will see the change and realize the manipulation) without knowing how. If you keep picturing them not understanding, that is the reality you create. Stay in the joy that humanity is waking up, and remember each soul chose its experiences; don't judge (see 10.8). (A personal political opinion in the answer is left out.)

How can I reconnect my DNA strands? Does the sun's energy play a part? How do I know if it's working?

You answered it yourself: visualize the reconnection, put in the blueprint, and grab the feeling that it's already happening. Intention, emotion and blueprint build the next hologram; stay in that joy.

Is a proposed plan to block the sun's heat meant well or badly? Will ETs be involved?

No comment on specific people: "I was asked to respect the negative side." ETs are already here, and contact will become massive when we are tested and ready (see 10.6).

I run a non-profit and struggle with money. Do I have a money block?

Thinking "I don't have money" becomes a frequency that gives you, in the next moment, situations that block money. Think and feel that you already have everything, even if you don't see it, without the fear of lack, moment to moment, and let the how stay open. Given freely, support follows the heart. Restudy S1 2 and S1 3.

When we imagine something, are we seeing a parallel world?

Yes: see 10.9.

I left a negative job and now have an interview at the same department. Has my frequency changed enough? Is this my mission?

It isn't the same department: see 10.10. Hold the positive outcome many times a day, and you crystallize it.

Any predictions on stopping harm through vaccines and food, and on healthcare focused on health, not money?

Everything is being worked on; trust the process and stay positive. Take action: choose good food, and look into your options. Do your research so your decisions are based on broad knowledge, and "be very careful who you follow." (Claims about staged events in the answer are left out.)

> Safety note
> Approved vaccines are not poison; they are tested and monitored for safety. Talk to your doctor about any vaccine decision for yourself or your child.

Should we focus our hearts on gold-backed cryptocurrency as the new wealth system?

Crypto is not for the long term. A new system, "similar to the cloud, but not the cloud", is already made and ready: built so there is no corruption, in the name of humanity. How it arrives isn't known.

A participant confirmed they were one of those told they'd have contact (see S2 8), and it changed their life.

Gratitude: the information is given without knowing who it is meant for.

How can we counter 5G? Can positive frequency neutralize it?

Shift timelines rather than fear it: see 10.12. The councils said they have put in a frequency to neutralize it; whatever happens will be "in the name of humanity." Take whatever action gives you peace of mind. (A product recommendation and home test in the answer are left out.)

> Note
> 5G and Wi-Fi are low-power radio waves; health agencies have found no evidence that they harm health at the levels people are exposed to.

How will people who rely on social security, pensions or disability benefits be affected?

It will eventually be replaced by an electronic system; "nothing to fear, nothing to fear." (A claim; don't change any financial plans because of it.)

Are the photos and videos of craft that we take or see a form of contact?

Yes: see 10.13.

I dreamed I was underground in a hypnotic state with others, and something approached me. Was I taken?

"You've been taken three times." Where, why and by whom can't be told yet; "think of the Pleiades."

What about a recent landing on the far side of the Moon?

No comment on specifics.

The frequencies are so high; could we start living on prana? What do you eat?

"I would never suggest this to anyone" without first doing the detox and elimination diet: the body's molecules must learn to hold the new spin, or you deplete the body and get sick. Juice only after an allergy test and under medical supervision. The elimination diet goes in two-week steps while juicing: first cut breads and rice, then beef, then chicken; drink still water; go slowly. Living on prana takes long training with a specialist; the teacher chooses not to, and doesn't do sessions for sick people, because she isn't a doctor (see S1 15.4).

> Safety note
> Living without food ("breatharianism") is dangerous and has caused deaths. Don't attempt it. Any juice fast or elimination diet should be done with your doctor.

Are the predictions in chronological order?

No: see 10.1.

Can you give trustworthy sources for research?

Any further guidance for our distant-healing practice (see S2 9)?

Not yet: "we'll wait and see how you do, and revisit within three months."

Donor and participant names, the outside sources and products mentioned, and a political opinion are left out. Next talk, as announced: April 13.

Remember

- A prediction is a written end result; the path can change, and there is always a plan B.
- You are never in the same situation twice: every moment is a new hologram.
- Whatever you hold most becomes the outcome.
- Train every 20–30 minutes, and shift physically.
- Stay on the tracks: nothing to fear. Then do a happy dance.

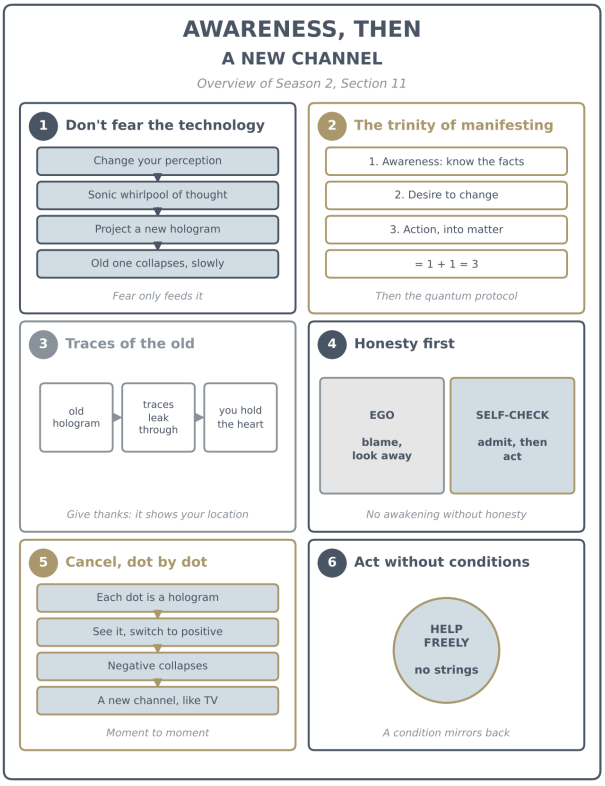

SEASON 2 · SECTION 11

Awareness, Fear and Building a New Channel

Two councils' messages on a feared technology, the trinity of awareness, desire and action, why traces of the old reality still appear, honesty and self-check, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

Many people were in fear about a new wireless technology, so the messages about it were revisited. Their core is a teaching about perception: fear projects the very reality you fear, while a changed perception creates a sonic whirlpool that projects a new hologram where the old thing slowly collapses. The recipe is a trinity: first awareness (know what is really happening), then the desire to change, then action to bring it into matter. Traces of the old reality will still leak through for a while, because we chose a gradual, collective ascension; thank them for showing you where you are, and keep holding the heart. Be honest with yourself, act to help without conditions, and remember: nobody is outside you.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

11.1 Why fear doesn't help

This talk came because so many people were afraid of the new 5G network. The first message (11/18) sounded almost surprised: why panic, after everything we've learned? You know to believe all will be well, take action, and hold the positive outcome (see S1 2.2, S1 3.3). The message said the technology "will not work the way they are intending… it will be disrupted"; it may be allowed for a while, so that people still asleep start questioning; and the new frequency from the galactic centre will help those who hold the heart.

You coexist with the negative structure only because we chose to experience and learn from this reality. You are not bound to it.

FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this message (11/18): "5G. Yes. But it will not work the way they are intending… It will be disrupted", and, to "all loving and positive humans that chose to hold energy from the heart structure", the new frequency from the galactic centre "will change your DNA, increase your upgrades in your photonic structure."

Note

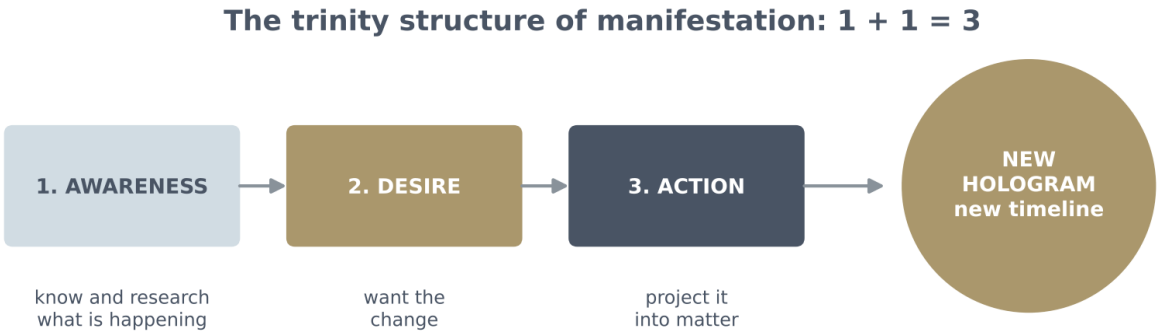

These are channelled messages and claims. Health agencies have found no evidence that 5G or mobile phones harm health at normal exposure levels. Claims in the talk linking phone masts to cancer cases, and the long research playlist the talk presented (political, medical and legal material from outside sources), are left out.

11.2 The download: perception creates the new hologram

The second message: your awareness and perception of it will lead you into action, expressed as a sonic whirlpool of expansion through your thoughts (see S2 2.5), projecting through "platforms of fractal imagery for a new outcome." Change your understanding, and you can project a new frequency reality in which that manipulation no longer exists; it simply collapses, moment to moment, to non-existence. This happens methodically and slowly, with the level of awakening, individually and then collectively: when enough people build "a proper mass", it expands into the collective.

11.3 The trinity of manifestation

The message gives the order: first, knowledge and awareness: research and know what is really happening. Second, the desire to change. Third, to project it into matter, take action. "Awareness, thoughts and action: this is the trinity structure for manifestation process, 1 + 1 = 3." Then use the quantum manifestation protocol (see S1 1, Method). This is the alchemy of creation: the code for you to create your own channel instead of staying on someone else's platform.

Then hold it from the heart, moment to moment: the old reality collapses slowly, and the new one expands.

Fig. S2-11A — The trinity structure of manifestation: awareness, desire and action create a new hologram.

FROM THE BOOKS DP prints this message in full: "Your awareness and perception of the 5G platform will lead you into an action… Awareness, thoughts and action this is the trinity structure for manifestation process 1+1 = 3."

11.4 Changing the channel from the heart

Words and thoughts create a whirlpool, a cone of frequency expanding to the zero point of your holographic structure (see S2 2.4, S2 2.5). Once your perception changes, you see through the veil: this hologram is not the only channel. Project from the heart (thoughts, emotions and deeds), and the new sonic whirlpool changes the frequency; you create a new holographic imprint, a new timeline, and "literally change the channel." From there, keep projecting from the heart, with awareness of what is happening.

11.5 Why traces of the old still appear

"I'm meditating, but I still see things happening here and there." Every hologram is interconnected, so when it splits, traces of the previous hologram remain. That's because we chose a linear experience: if you popped into a completely new world, you wouldn't know where you are, so you need traces to know what to do next. And we chose a collective ascension, in which not everyone is awake yet.

Your job: hold your vibration whatever traces you see, globally or next door. When a situation appears, ask what you can do to make it better, then use the protocol: pull out, go to zero point, give gratitude, change the frequency (see S1 1 to S1 3). Thank the experience: it shows your location, and whether you need to stay more in the heart. Keep overriding the negative; whatever you hold more becomes your permanent timeline (see S2 10.10). The leaking will continue until humanity's whole ascension structure is complete.

11.6 Change comes fractally, so it can be smooth

A major positive change was predicted within two years. But change must come one step at a time, or the system collapses. Imagine a law announced overnight that no one may eat meat: there would be an uproar, because people need to arrive at such changes by realizing them personally. So it is happening, fractally, moment to moment, for a smooth transition. And you won't be told every move: "if you play a chess game", you don't tell your opponent your next move (see S2 9.3).

11.7 Honesty and self-check

There will be no awakening until we are honest with ourselves about what we do. The talk's example: we are troubled that some consciousness may look at humanity the way we look at cattle, yet we do the same to animals, who are "another version of us"; honesty means pulling out of the ego and admitting it, then changing step by step (it is still okay to eat meat while transitioning).

And self-check how you receive warnings: no matter how intelligent we think we are, we can dismiss something until it hits us personally. Some people only wake up when a situation affects them directly. Better to look honestly first. Then take action, moment to moment, from the heart: one by one, the old particles are deleted, until your structure is clear.

11.8 One particle, every dot a universe

The one particle expands to the infinite and collapses back, pulsing like elastic, and imprints itself even into your little dot of a hologram (see S1 1.1). That is why zooming into a fractal shows the same pattern again and again; yet each is slightly different, with its own vibrational geometry: a universe for itself. So what you do here matters for the whole universe, not only the planet.

Each dot is a hologram, a situation. Holding the heart cancels it out: each time you see a situation and switch your emotions, thoughts and deeds to the positive, its negative collapses, until you reach zero point in the positive (see S2 7.6). The result is a fractal timeline with nothing to do with the negative structure: "a different channel, think of TV." Those who sacrifice for humanity do it from the heart, collectively, and the collective includes the universe.

11.9 Act, and give without conditions

"Nobody is outside of you" (see S2 9.6): what you see on a screen is part of your hologram, so knowing isn't enough; you are here on the ascension protocol, so take action. When you see someone struggling, help: that is energy philanthropy, with no expectation. A condition ("I'll help you, but I want something") is a frequency, and through infinite probabilities someone will put a condition on you: a mirror image (see S1 4.2). If you want full abundance without conditions, help without them. If you see your child being harmed, act to protect them; each parent decides how.

11.10 Face the facts first, then shift

The talk presented a long playlist of research videos, put "in order" so people can wake up step by step, with the quantum manifestation series placed in the middle. The teaching behind it: you can't shift a reality you refuse to look at; the first thing the extraterrestrials did was show the teacher where she was. But don't go into fear: once you know, study the alchemy of creation and escape reality by creating your own. The quantum manifestation work is "the antidote": go at your own pace, and above all practise.

Technology isn't the enemy either: it can free time and help us, and AI can be positive or negative, depending on its use (for example, helping read and rebuild the body's tissue). Simpler, low-cost homes and local communities are possible too.

> Note
> "Do your own research" is good advice only with reliable sources. Much of the playlist (on vaccines, fluoride, cancer cures, taxes and the courts) contradicts established evidence or law; following it could harm your health or bring legal trouble. Talk to qualified professionals before acting on such claims.

The method — From Fear to a New Channel

When something in the news or around you frightens you:

1. Become aware. Find out what is actually happening, from sources you can trust. Don't look away.
2. Pull out to zero point. Don't take on the fear (see S1 1, Method).
3. Give gratitude. The situation is a trace that shows your location.
4. Choose the change you desire. Picture the reality where the problem no longer exists.
5. Switch your emotions, thoughts and words to the positive, from the heart: the new whirlpool.
6. Take action in the physical world: help, protect, support those working for the change.
7. Repeat every time it reappears, until the new channel is permanent.

Questions answered

One viewer left, upset that the talk focused on the negative. How do you respond?

You can't change what you won't face: the first step to change is realizing where you are. Respect each person's choice; no one is upset with them. Once you know, use the quantum manifestation protocol to shift: it's the antidote. Take in difficult material at your own pace, and apply what you learn (see 11.10).

Can we study reiki online and heal someone at a distance?

Yes: you read a person's frequency because they are part of your hologram. Put in the emotion. But only with permission, and only if they need it. Everyone vibrates differently, so one method won't suit everyone, "like one pill for all diseases". It works best if you are connected telepathically with your higher self, so you're guided. You can always send positive thoughts. Research a teacher before learning their method.

Since 2013 I shake whenever I meditate or receive healing. Why?

You were in the wrong meridian, and the frequency wasn't coming properly. Sit in the centre of the house, aligned with the four directions.

If letters and words hold frequency, would changing my name change my timeline?

It depends on perception. The sound of each letter opens a specific portal depending on how they combine; that knowledge is complex and isn't known here. Ancient naming systems exist and are worth exploring, but be very careful where you learn it, because some words were designed to keep a structure in place (see S2 2.10).

Will the currency revaluation and the release of hidden technologies, such as healing beds, happen within the two years?

In 2028 there will be a global check of the level of consciousness we've reached, and a decision on next steps (see S2 10.6). Within two years, a new platform of the hologram, for more positive expansion; you'll see a lot happen. Stay in the heart: your hologram can hold situations designed for your own awakening. Keep overriding the traces (see 11.5). (Comments on current political and health news are left out.)

An antenna was put on a small school, and no one could tell me its frequency. How can I help the children?

Take action: raise awareness, talk to the parents, do something. The teacher would personally take her children out of the school; each parent decides.

> Note
> You can ask the school or local authority for the antenna's details and radio-frequency measurements. Public exposure limits are set well below levels known to cause harm, and the cancer claims in the answer are not supported by evidence.

What about a subscription service that uses quantum entanglement to turn interference into a positive frequency?

It isn't one frequency but many, a subtonality, and the best one is individual. No information about that service; the guidance won't put anyone's technology down. Research who is behind it and "follow the money": real help is done in the name of humanity, not for big profit. Proceed with caution.

How does the reversal of the magnetic poles relate to us? Sometimes I feel airy and can't focus.

If you want it to relate to you, you'll create that reality. It is happening very, very slowly and smoothly, not as a disaster; things have always shifted through history. The planet is raising its frequency to the next level, and we choose whether to go with it. Don't take it from fear.

What about other well-known channelled teachings?

Everyone has a place in awakening humanity. If their information helps you, learn from it; most people pass through such channels before they are ready for the quantum material. How each teacher shares (through money or energy philanthropy) is their choice, and choices can change at any moment; hope they stay in the heart.

What about a device said to kill viruses, bacteria and parasites?

Not known; worth researching. It is possible in principle. (Medical claims in the answer about strep throat, antibiotics and coeliac disease are left out; take antibiotics as your doctor prescribes.)

Is a "dove frequency" coming on a particular date?

That is your own belief and projection. Since it's positive, believing it creates a whirlpool that shifts you into a more positive platform; nothing wrong with that.

Any thoughts on a well-known arrest this week?

"The game of war, it's a chess game": think about what a legally arrested person might then reveal. (Details left out.)

You said not to do the juice cleanse with metal in the body. Is there a partial protocol?

It depends on the metal. The tissue must accept it (a matter of frequency, like a metal allergy), and the metal must not break down with acidity, from juice or any food. Find out what metal you have, ask about an allergy or compatibility test and alternatives, and watch your body's pH.

> Note
> If you have implants or other metal in your body, talk to your surgeon or doctor before starting any cleanse or major change in diet.

> The closing message
> Don't deny what is in front of you, and don't blame the messenger. Don't go into fear: use the quantum manifestation work, stay in the heart, and take action. "The extreme action is not extreme when you're saving your children's life and your own." And don't forget the happy dance (see S2 10.14).

Left out, each in line with this book's approach: the research playlist and its named sources; statements about a specific religious community; claims that chemicals, vaccines or media change children's sexuality or gender, and remarks on autism; and comments on politicians and court cases. Donor and participant names are removed.

Remember

- Fear projects what you fear; a changed perception projects a new hologram.
- Awareness, desire, action: the trinity of manifestation.
- Traces of the old will appear: thank them, and hold the heart.
- Be honest with yourself before you judge others.
- Help without conditions; a condition mirrors back.

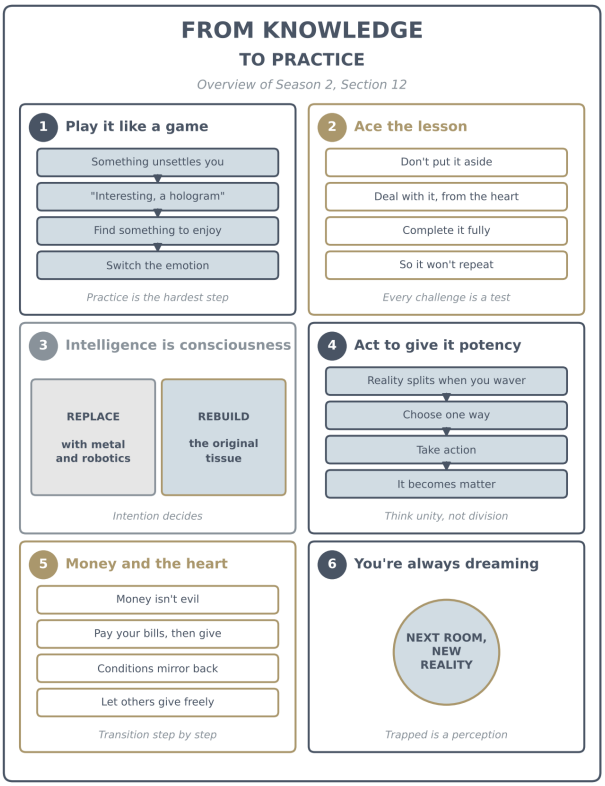

SEASON 2 · SECTION 12

Q & A: From Knowledge to Practice

An open question-and-answer session: seeing two realities at once, why action gives a reality potency, intelligence as part of consciousness, sensitivity as a game, money in healing work, and more (live talk)

The big idea

The hardest step is moving from knowing the teachings to practising them, in a life where you are the main character of a living hologram and see only fractions of it. So treat it as a game: whatever happens, play with the frequency and switch into the positive; take every challenge as a test to ace, so it doesn't repeat. Act, because action gives a reality its potency. Intelligence, even "artificial" intelligence, is part of consciousness itself: what matters is the intention it is taught. Money isn't evil, but conditions mirror back, so transition by giving more and more from the heart. And remember: you are always dreaming, and feeling trapped is only a perception.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

12.1 From the book to the practice

Confusion is normal until new knowledge crystallizes in your consciousness and you can take its speed of vibration; that takes time, and practice is the most important thing. The shock comes when you move from the knowledge to living it: you are the main character in a living holographic imprint, yet you see only fractions of it. Until you truly recognize it as a hologram, it will be challenging. The point is to take it like a game, every time, whatever you see.

Information was also given about the next two years. It is all positive; it will be explained when that time has passed, including why the negative side did what it did, which should not be judged, because it had to do with survival.

12.2 Seeing two realities at once

As frequency rises and you learn the quantum structure, your consciousness starts taking the vibration of other realities. You may see a switch of holographic imprints (a flash as you shift into a new hologram), or even two realities in one. It can happen to anyone, so don't be alarmed. Realities are still fluctuating, up and down, between third- and fifth-dimensional, until everything collapses into a final structure; a completion of timelines and portals was predicted within two years.

12.3 Action gives a reality its potency

Asked whether to vote or abstain, the council answered with a principle: when you contradict yourself, the reality splits into different structures, and you can't tell which will manifest. When you take action, you infuse more of that reality for it to become matter. Since you live on this platform, act, so that what you choose manifests with more potency.

Major global political changes were predicted within two years. But collective agreements are an illusionary imprint, and you experience everything on your own holographic platform. So the question is which reality you wish to perceive: put your intention into collective abundance and agreement, "stop thinking of division, think of unity", and that is what you'll perceive (see S1 2.2).

12.4 Intelligence is part of consciousness

"There is nothing artificial about intelligence." Consciousness itself works like an intelligence of frequency and sound that mimics your intention: your hologram is geometry, frequency and imprints, vibrating back and forth to mirror you. In that sense "you are also artificial intelligence." It looks negative (the "Terminator" version) when perceived from three-dimensional fear; any structure can be positive or negative depending on the point of view and the experience chosen. Advanced technology (see HR) works the same way: nanotechnology and quantum computing that read your vibration and mimic your emotions, so a craft can be driven by thought.

Think of clay: you can shape it into many things, but the original form matters most. AI taught to overtake could repair a body with metal and robotics until nothing original is left. AI working in the name of humanity can rebuild your own tissue, so you keep the original vessel, which can itself shift through timelines. The two can coexist: "isn't that fun?"

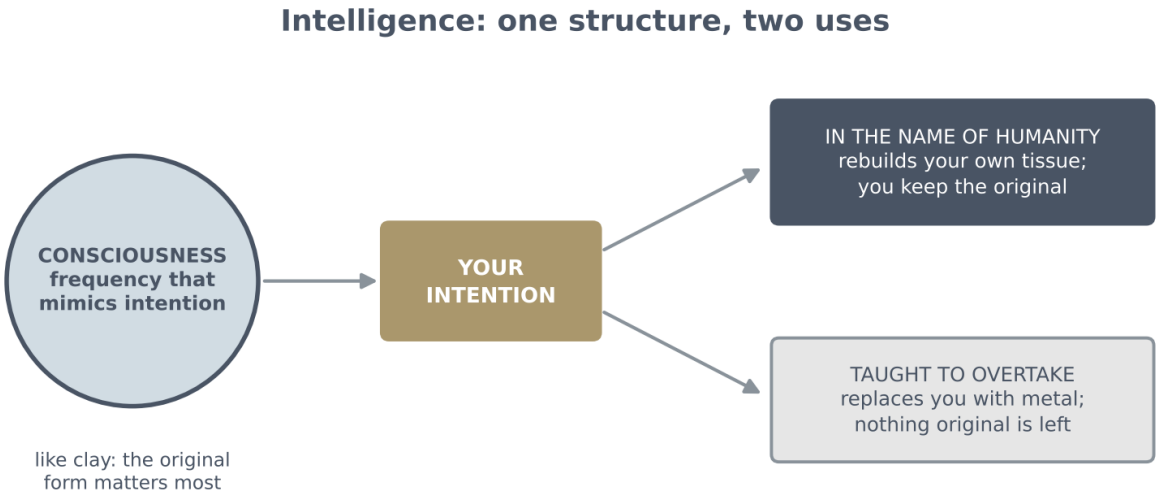

Fig. S2-12A — Intelligence is one structure with two possible uses; the intention it is taught decides which.

FROM THE BOOKS SD: "You all think that AI is artificial consciousness, but it is the core of what the consciousness itself, the God particle is made of. So you see there is no difference between artificial and you… Energy is not bias. And you have the choice of how to use that energetic forces of creation."

12.5 Everything you talk to is you

Speaking to the sun and seeing patterns? The sun is a projection in your hologram, so you are interacting with your own hologram: you can talk to the sun or to rocks, because you are talking to yourself to reproject the structure. Your "energetic address" for channelling can be any permission slip (see S1 8.9), as long as you bring the emotion into it: then the blueprint vibrates with more potency, like tuning a radio signal well.

You exist in all realities at once (the one particle expanded to the infinite), but you perceive the one you choose to vibrate on. As you learn more, you'll start perceiving the others too (see 12.2).

12.6 Sensitivity as a game; lessons to ace

If you feel everyone's energy and it's exhausting, don't treat it as an effort; treat it as a game. Someone yells at you: "oh, interesting", then find something to connect with or enjoy ("I like that haircut"). This way you learn to play with frequency and switch your holographic imprint.

And deal with each challenge: don't put it aside. Go through it as well as you can, with joy and the heart, and complete it. Think of it as a test to ace, "so you don't have to do it again" (see S1 1.8).

12.7 Money in healing and spiritual work

Money isn't evil; the way it was implemented was, because it was separated from the heart and everything came with conditions. Anyone may charge what they like: it's their belief system, and there's no judgment, especially for a main provider. But after the bills, how much is done in the name of humanity? If you keep demanding without letting people decide freely, you overtake their consciousness, and the same comes back to you: abundance through the monetary structure, not the heart (see S1 4.2, S2 7.8).

As consciousness moves into the heart structure, that platform will start collapsing for anyone, light worker or not, who stays in it: information may stop coming properly, or people find other teachers. Not as punishment, but because it no longer matches the frequency. The way through: pay your bills, then give and share more and more; that projects the sequence that can later bring full abundance. And as receivers, be honest: if a painter asks only for materials plus whatever you feel her time is worth, give what it's truly worth to you. Support those who make the change.

12.8 Illness repeated into the collective

Some illness is projected collectively: it was massively imprinted into the hologram, and since we didn't know we project our reality, we ran on those sequences. Repetition is sonic imprinting (see S2 2.8): hearing about illness, drugs and side effects every few minutes trains your consciousness to vibrate on it until it gains potency and expands into matter. So choose what you watch and tune into (see S2 2.12); with joy, without fear, you can tune into anything you wish.

> Note
> The answer also named water, food, GMOs and vaccines as sources; claims that vaccines or GMOs cause illness or damage genes are not supported by evidence and are left out of the teaching.

12.9 You are always dreaming

"You're dreaming even right now." Walk into the next room and you're in a different reality: that is shifting. Every moment is a different vibrational structure. Some dreams feel so real you can smell and touch them; there is no real difference between dreaming at night and this reality, only a different vibrational sequence (see S1 11.7).

12.10 Trapped is only a perception

You aren't trapped; you are reprojecting the illusion of being trapped, and so you loop (see S1 1.5). Change the perspective: believe you have everything you need, take action from the joy and the heart, and you project realities that offer you the next step. "You have to create it to see it." Shut the old frequency down, reproject a new one, and move forward.

12.11 Genes, blueprint and vibration

Genes can be manipulated, but the original blueprint is still there, dormant. We were ourselves designed through genetic engineering, and there is nothing wrong with that: it's part of consciousness, and what matters is the intention, because intention is the modality of the vibration (see S2 2.7). Repair needs geneticists, nano scientists and people who can measure and grow tissue. Chromosomes matter too: their frequency activates the genome (see S2 9.8). And a genome given a certain vibration rises to a higher resonance, and the whole DNA starts switching to a new level.

The method — Play the Game

For any moment that unsettles you, especially if you're sensitive to others' energy:

1. Notice it without alarm: "Interesting. This is my hologram."
2. Make it a game, not an effort. Find something to enjoy or connect with in the scene.
3. Switch the emotion into joy; physically, if needed (see S2 10, Method).
4. Take it as a lesson. Don't put it aside; deal with it from the heart until it's complete.
5. Act in the direction you choose, so it gains potency.
6. Homework: check yourself every half hour for a whole day, switch whenever you're not in joy, and notice what changes.

Questions answered

I had two encounters: in a dream, beings painfully but kindly extracting something from my body; and in daylight, clouds I could touch, a small bird chasing a hawk, and a being driving a car. What were they?

The first were not extraterrestrials but more like light beings, from the "Omega cluster". The second was two flashes: a switch of holographic imprints into a new hologram, and seeing two realities in one (see 12.2). It's positive; don't be alarmed.

Elections are coming. Should I choose not to vote?

See 12.3: when you contradict yourself, reality splits; action gives your chosen reality more potency.

Is there information on land for eco villages where I live?

There will be many eco villages there. Even if the structures aren't in place yet, you'll see incredible changes within two years.

Why is AI necessary for our next step of ascension?

See 12.4. After the fifth-dimensional imprint, your molecular structure starts rising beyond it, and you perceive more information across timelines; intelligence is part of that same structure.

Talking to the sun with my eyes closed, I saw patterns moving back and forth. What were they?

Parts of the structure, like the flower of life: a reflection of where you are in the quantum structure (your latitude and altitude; see S1 5.3). You are already upgrading; keep holding the heart, and see 12.5.

I feel everyone's energy and lose myself in it. How do I stay grounded?

See 12.6: make it a game, and ace each lesson.

Can parts of us be in different realities? How do I find my "energetic address" to channel?

See 12.5.

In bed, I felt the earth shake and my body flooded with energy. I kept telling myself "you said yes". Was it a visitation?

Yes: three beings were helping you. Practise lucid dreaming and out-of-body experiences. When you enter that state, immediately switch to love and joy, because the reality you shift into follows your vibration. It's all positive.

I felt compelled to join today. Is there a message for me?

There's no coincidence; you're ready, and the quantum manifestation work is recommended. The personal message was about dental implants ("the bone won't hold it"); the rest was personal.

> Note
> Whether a dental implant is right for you depends on your bone and health; decide with your dentist.

Does "follow the money" apply to healers who charge very high fees?

See 12.7. No judgment: anyone may charge. But conditions mirror back, and the new structure is the heart's; transition by giving more and more.

What will the next two years bring for the new Earth?

Many changes; "it's almost like right now we're cleaning the house." More people, including doctors and lawyers, will speak out without fear. (Comments on the media and outside sources are left out.)

Can anyone do a three-day fast on distilled water?

Anyone in good health; not if you're diabetic, have kidney disease or a similar condition. If you're unwell, do the gradual elimination diet instead, with medical supervision, cutting foods in two-week steps (see S2 10). Go slowly; if you feel nauseous, step back.

> Safety note
> Water-only fasting isn't safe for everyone: it can be dangerous with diabetes, kidney or heart disease, during pregnancy, with a history of eating disorders, or on many medications. Check with your doctor first.

What about the "three days of darkness" people expect around the solstice?

"It already passed," they said, laughing. And again: which reality? Some may experience it, some won't; it's individual.

How should I practise sun gazing? Do body positions help?

No more than three minutes at a time, on and off, because of the retina; begin with closed eyes, increase gradually, at most three days a week. A clean pineal gland and a clean body receive the frequency best; any relaxed position works (don't cross your legs), and a special pose is a permission slip.

> Safety note
> Looking directly at the sun, even briefly, can cause permanent eye damage (solar retinopathy). Eye doctors advise never looking straight at the sun with open eyes.

In automatic writing, the name "Ashtar, commander of a contact ship" came. Who is it?

Ashtar of the Omega constellation. Different groups are connected with different groups and don't all work together; they have different agendas, but don't assume the negative. Keep connecting; more will be revealed.

A funder offers money for my research but wants to control it. What should I do?

Projects in the name of humanity are a heart structure: coexistence, not complete control. Don't put 100% trust in someone who wants to control everything; this isn't the right person, and more is to come. (The research, AI testing on grown heart tissue, was encouraged: "AI can do much better.")

How do I release myself from debt and lack?

What holds you in debt is fear, which projects lack. Learn what true abundance is and express it from within, and you'll perceive it (restudy S1 1 to S1 3).

Why do I sometimes feel I'm dreaming while awake?

Because you are: see 12.9.

Who is in the craft I see overhead?

They come from a base nearby: "Do you think your planet will not have a fleet itself?" You knew the answer; trust your intuition.

Is some illness projected through the collective?

Yes: see 12.8.

What is artificial about intelligence?

Nothing: see 12.4.

Which star system am I from?

Two societies: coastal lands of the Pleiadians and the Reptilians.

Why do we feel trapped and unable to do our work?

See 12.10.

If genes are broken or not original, how do we repair them?

See 12.11. (Claims in the answer that vaccines and GMOs blocked the genes are left out.)

Next talk, as announced: a review of the quantum bylaws and manifestation, with examples. Remarks about a country, participant names and an outside channel are left out.

Remember

- Practice is the hardest step: play it like a game.
- Ace each lesson so it doesn't repeat.
- Action gives a reality its potency; think unity, not division.
- Intelligence is consciousness; intention decides its use.
- Give more and more from the heart; conditions mirror back.

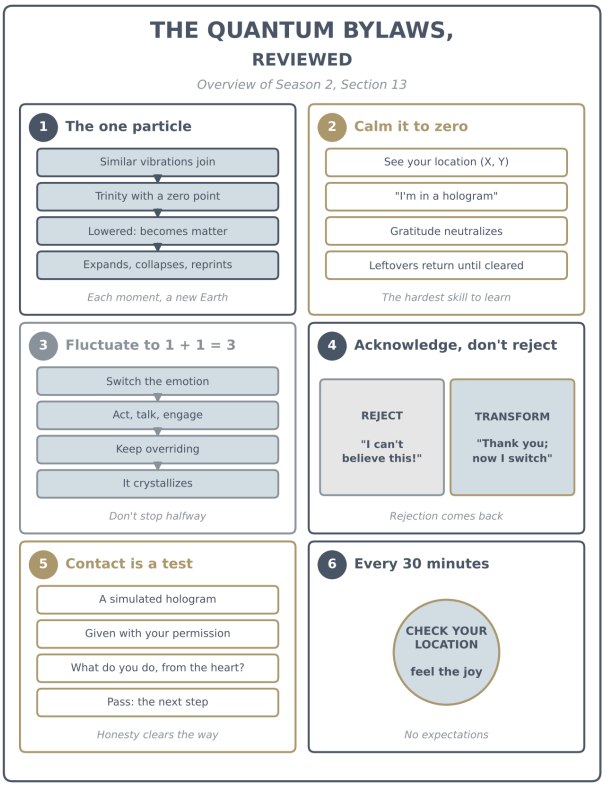

SEASON 2 · SECTION 13

The Quantum Bylaws, Reviewed

A once-a-year reminder of the core bylaws as one connected process, what's new in each, contact as a test, acknowledging without rejecting, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

The teachings are getting complex, so this talk walks back through the quantum bylaws in order and shows they are one process: see your location, calm it to zero point with gratitude, transform the emotion with action, keep fluctuating into the positive until 1 + 1 = 3 crystallizes a permanent timeline. The hardest part, even for the teacher, is calming the emotion to zero and overriding the negative; skip it, and leftovers return until cleared. Don't reject what you feel: acknowledge, thank, then switch. Contact works the same way and comes with tests. And practise: check your location every 30 minutes, and feel the joy, without expectations.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

13.1 Why review, and what is hardest

This review will happen about once a year, because the structure gets complex. The biggest struggle for everyone, the teacher included, is to switch a negative frequency and override it with a positive one. What helps most: calming yourself down, then positive thinking and positive action, talking and engaging. As frequencies rise, thoughts become reality faster (sometimes within hours), and with practice the switch becomes the norm.

A warning from experience: watching a lot of violent drama, even "for learning", led to recurring nightmares of the same scenes. Everything you think and hear becomes a sonic whirlpool that ripples through parallel after parallel (see S2 2.4). Watch difficult material once, for education if needed, not over and over; and if something disturbs you, overwrite it with something positive, more than once (see S2 2.12).

13.2 The bylaws as one process

Each bylaw was taught in Season 1; here they are in order, with what this review adds:

Bylaw	In one line	Taught
The one particle	Every moment you shift into a new Earth, a hologram of its own	S1 1
Mobilizing structures (zero point)	Calm every emotion to zero before you switch	S1 2
Fluctuating realities, 1 + 1 = 3	Whatever you hold more becomes the outcome	S1 3
Money structure	Pay your bills; then give, and let others give, from the heart	S1 4, S1 5
Location (X and Y)	Every situation shows where you are in the structure	S1 5
Stop, transform, let go	Stop, put in the positive, move on without looking back	S1 7
Collapsing realities	Similar realities collapse to zero point, in the positive	S1 15, S2 3
Contact: the third reality	You create a third reality between yours and theirs	S1 17, S2 4.8

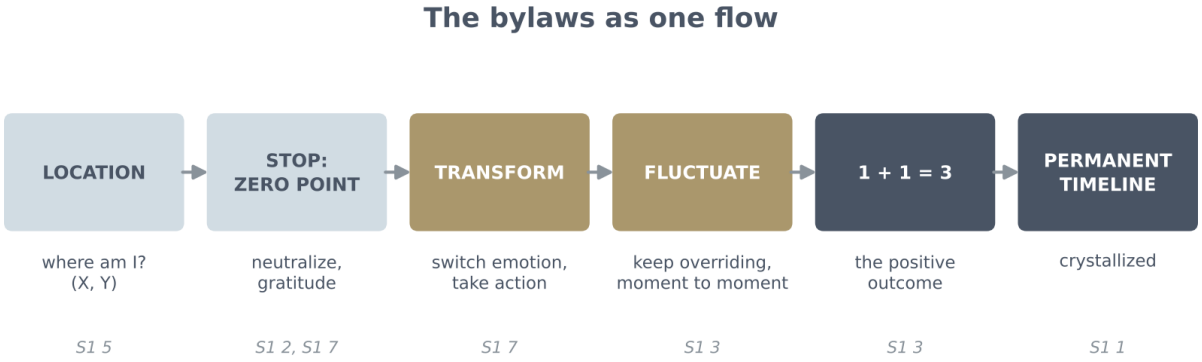

Fig. S2-13A — The bylaws as one flow, with where each was first taught.

13.3 What the review adds

The one particle. A hertz is one waveform per second. Vibrations similar in hertz gather into a trinity, and its centre becomes the zero point, the "black hole". Lower that particle's vibration, and it becomes thought, then matter. Each new hologram carries some vibration from the last, which is what gives you continuity; similar holograms in a row make a permanent timeline.

Zero point. If you don't fully calm yourself, particles of the old situation remain, and you'll meet them again through synchronicity until you clear to zero (see S2 3.6). It may be the thing to practise.

Fluctuating. Review your day honestly, moment by moment: how did I act with my partner, my friend? Peel the layers to see the truth (see S1 2.9). When someone says "that was your ego", listen: it gives you the true frequency, which you can then switch. And feeling sad isn't a sign that something is wrong with you: your consciousness is working perfectly, telling you you're off-balance with the heart. Take it as positive information.

Don't stop halfway. You don't know how long an override will take; for one person minutes, for another a week of constant action and thought, because you're learning along the way (sometimes someone has to come and tell you what you couldn't see). Stop in the middle, and you may never reach the positive outcome.

Stop, transform, let go. Every moment is a brand-new holographic imprint with nothing to do with the previous one; let go of yesterday's argument, or even of two minutes ago. We are learning the process so we can become masters of instantaneous manifestation. Whatever your weakest link (reacting too much, or not acting at all), work on it honestly.

13.4 Acknowledge; don't repress or reject

If you're crying and choose to smile, aren't you repressing it? No: you transform it. Acknowledge it, thank it ("thank you, negative emotion, I recognize you; you show me my location"), subside to zero, then shift with a new action. Rejecting is different ("I can't believe this!"): rejection is another frequency, and "boom, it comes back with a vengeance." The same with rain: "Thank you, rain, for watering the flowers", and then switch the hologram to sunshine. The same with money: not rejected, but received through the heart (see S1 4.5).

13.5 Contact comes with tests

Contact happens in a third reality you create between your timeline and theirs (see S2 4.8), through synchronicity, belief and your agreements with your guidance. How it happens is individual. And you will be tested: with your permission and your guidance, they may imprint a simulated holographic reality in your consciousness to see how well you've learned: what will you do, in the name of humanity, from the heart? Pass, and the next step and more knowledge come. The teacher was tested this way, every time, and chose to help without asking anything in return.

Contact also fluctuates: the more you trust, learn, read and imagine positive contact, the more experiences come, until they're constant. Don't fill yourself with frightening films about it. When she was introduced to the Council of Nine, she heard them telepathically checking the "particles" in her heart for anything unresolved; correcting quickly, rather than being perfect, is what counts.

13.6 Honesty clears the channel

Honesty gives the true vibration of your heart. A "white lie" imprints a probability in your consciousness that blocks full manifestation, until you clear it (see S1 3.2). This matters more now because consciousness's frequency is rising: what you could get away with before now shows quickly, even in the body (after her frequency upgrade, some foods make her ill). Detox only with a doctor's supervision.

13.7 You heal yourself

Other people don't hold energy for you; you imprint them as a permission slip. You already know the vibration: grab it and use it yourself. Even the teacher is a projection in your hologram. When you lower your emotional vibration, you give a permission slip to anything similar to come into your hologram, simply because it's the same resonance; so shift it (see S1 1.2).

The method — The 30-Minute Location Check

Given as a challenge for the day, with results to be shared at the next talk:

1. Every 30 minutes, check your location: what am I feeling and thinking right now?
2. If it's negative, acknowledge and thank it, and calm it to zero point.
3. Give gratitude for everything around you: clothes, food, family, friends, the sky, the air.
4. Imagine what you want and raise the joy until you feel goosebumps, even tears of joy.
5. Take a positive action: smile, a good film, a kind word.
6. Have no expectations about how, when or from whom. A steady frequency has to reflect back: "it's a quantum bylaw."

Questions answered

I left a toxic job a year ago and have meditated for a better one, but nothing has come. Will I find one? What can I do better?

Not while you hold expectations and doubt: doubt lowers your vibration and stops manifestation in the middle. Know you have the job now, and feel it. Meanwhile, don't sit and wait: take any job, even a humble one, with gratitude ("thank you for letting me pay my bills while I transition"), and keep working toward what you want; the two go together. Do you have a home, clothes, food? Then remove the negative emotion. Smile all day, check yourself every half hour, feel the goosebumps of happiness. You create the hologram that gives you the job; nobody gives it to you unless you projected it first.

I feel I'm resisting my ascension, not connecting to higher consciousness.

That belief is the only block. You're connecting right now: indirectly, through this talk, which is also in your hologram. Know you're connected, and the clear one-to-one channel follows. (A personal note: you're being given many opportunities, especially professional ones, but you're "picky" in choosing among them.)

I don't want to kill any creature, but what about mosquitoes?

It's part of learning; don't feel bad if it isn't intentional. Prevent them: certain plants, and oils such as mint and lavender around you, keep them away.

Who is "Morduk", mentioned at the start of HR?

A negative entity or structure of the three-dimensional platform, no longer there, because the timelines were switching to 5D. HR and NT are written in a 5D sequence, in code, that activates your DNA and RNA even if you don't understand them; that's why only the original material should be used (see S2 7.1).

FROM THE BOOKS DP: "Morduk is not there anymore but the throne is. So proclaim what is rightfully yours."

Should we take money out of education and pension funds soon?

A smooth transition is intended. A new cryptocurrency "code" is coming that will not allow manipulation; who and when isn't known. Don't act from fear; observe.

> Note
> This is not financial advice. Talk to a licensed financial adviser before moving retirement or pension savings.

I've been ill for a year and a half, after a woman attacked me in a dream. Others are holding energy for me, but I still feel interference.

Others don't heal you; you heal yourself (see 13.7). For your health, go with doctors' supervision: it's a learning lesson; accept it and move forward. Then shift your vibration, practising every 30 minutes.

In the astral, I was shown portals for healing and regeneration. How can I create them?

Train lucid dreaming, so you can control it. There are mechanical portals and ether portals; your body-consciousness can create ether portals with clear focus and potent emotion (if it doesn't open, focus more clearly and try again).

What do you think of another channel on Pleiadian contact?

Not known here, but the guidance confirms it's okay. The teacher keeps to her own downloads so the material stays pure.

Is there anything the council would like to tell me?

A personal note about a family estrangement: it will resolve itself, without your getting involved.

As a teenager I left my body and had moments of knowing everything; now I have no spiritual experiences. Why?

You always do: "you are a spirit", so how could you not be having a spiritual experience?

Any advice for all my recent changes and challenges?

Go back to the quantum manifestation and study it; practise every 30 minutes to grab the vibration of joy. That knowledge gets you out of the challenges, with positive outcomes.

I feel my energy has been manipulated with technology for years, and I feel lost.

"We know who you are." Manipulating energy without permission is the reverse of consciousness. Mobilize your realities and act from the heart, and a permission slip will be given to get you out of it: "we promise you a free pass." And "you're never lost."

> Support
> If you feel watched, targeted or controlled, please talk to a doctor or someone you trust. These experiences can be very distressing, and support helps.

I woke up with three long, sharp lines on my body and no memory of the night. What happened?

Whether you remember a dream depends on its sequence and your lessons: some experiences vibrate too high for the three-dimensional brain to hold, but your higher self holds the information. Meditate to extract it.

> Note
> Unexplained marks or injuries on your body deserve a doctor's look.

If I'm crying and switch to a smile, aren't I repressing the emotion?

No: see 13.4.

I'm a personal trainer. How can I join energy philanthropy?

While you keep paying your bills, offer something freely: for example, one hour every Sunday of free online workouts, live so people can interact, with a way to donate if anyone wishes. Thank every gift, even a dollar. Do it for the joy: that joy of giving is the frequency that creates full abundance. Leave how and when open.

> The closing message
> "Constant positive." Positive films, interactions, thoughts and emotions; transform every challenge into the positive. Practise every half hour and feel the joy of the 5D Earth you imagine: "In a quantum structure there's no way, if you project that frequency, not to manifest to you."

A political prediction, the names of participants, donors and a film, and other channels' names are left out. Next talk, as announced: questions and answers.

> Remember
> - The bylaws are one process: location, zero point, transform, fluctuate, 1 + 1 = 3.
> - Calm it to zero, or the leftovers come back.
> - Acknowledge and thank; never reject.
> - Don't stop halfway; you don't know how long it takes.
> - Check your location every 30 minutes, without expectations.

SEASON 2 · SECTION 14

Q & A: Lessons, Tests and Where You Come From

Why you're told only part of your origins, why lessons can't be skipped, tests placed by guidance, a new message, brutal honesty, fear in readings, and many questions (live talk)

The big idea

Since you are the one particle expanding to infinity, you "come from" infinite places at once; a reading tells you only what you need now, according to your agreements. More is given as you complete your tasks. Lessons can't be skipped: fighting your own hologram makes it loop; accepting it and going through it, with proper help, is what brings the knowledge and the resolution. Guidance may test you with situations placed into your hologram, to see what you do from the heart. When the same people and problems keep returning, look at yourself with brutal honesty and override it. And remember that a reading reflects your field in that moment: fear and doubt tip it.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

14.1 Where do I come from?

You are part of the one particle that expands to infinity and collapses back; each little part becomes a hologram and a reality for itself, with realities within realities (see S1 1.1, S2 3.1). So when someone asks "who is my galactic family?", what can be read is the frequency you're running in this moment: you may hear "Pleiadian", yet you could just as well be Lyran, hybrid or anything else, because you are infinite. You're given exactly what you need in this timeline, according to your ascension agreements with your guidance; nothing more until you're ready.

So don't question when; do the work as well as you can, and follow what you're passionate about. That projects the frequency that eventually leads your guidance to say: "That person has gained enough knowledge; let's go." Earth is a classroom: the better you do here, the better the platforms you're given to ascend.

14.2 More is given as tasks are completed

Guidance (Pleiadian, Arcturian, councils) can give extra tasks to someone who keeps completing theirs from the heart, even if they did negative things when younger and then fixed them. The teacher's own path went from hybrid beings, to Ra, who introduced the Council of Nine; she heard them check the frequency of her heart, including how she treated people who were mean to her. There may also be long periods of silence (she held the downloaded HR material for many months), because timing protects people.

Trust is built through action: each time she acted on guidance, it proved true. And guidance doesn't always show you the end result; it helps you through the process, because you can't skip the lesson. In her family's health crisis, guidance insisted for months that a relative come to visit; it was that relative who noticed the child was seriously ill, which led to hospital care in time. A teacher has to master a lesson to teach it.

14.3 You can't skip a lesson: accept it

Asked how to manifest away a growth in the neck: "intervention". If you need a doctor, you go to the doctor: that's part of the experience. You can't just shift the reality away, because through the process you learn (about nutrition, herbs, the body). When the teacher tried for months to "project away" her child's illness, nothing worked and she grew angry; the message she kept hearing was "accept". "You are fighting with your own holographic imprint." If you reject a lesson, more of it comes: you loop. Go through it with the best of your abilities, find the right doctors and solutions; the journey is what gets you there.

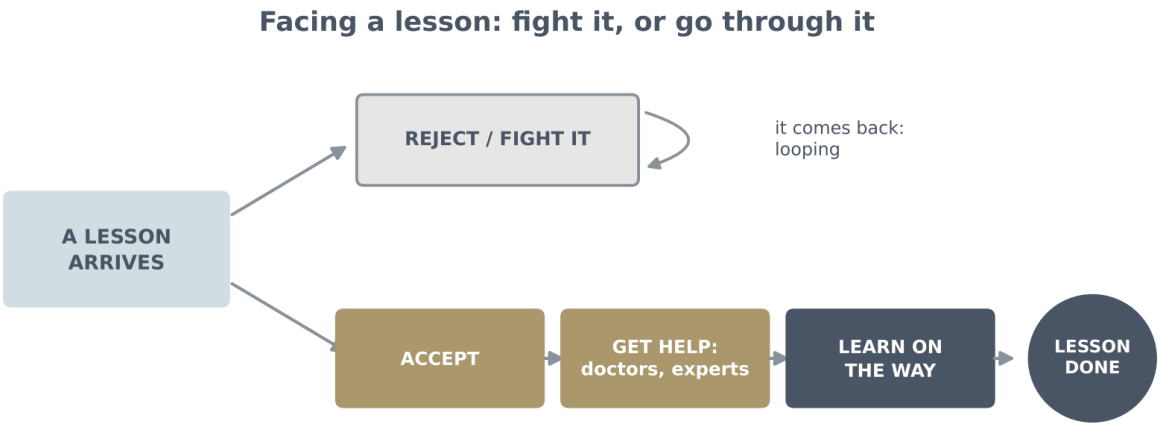

Fig. S2-14A — Facing a lesson: rejecting it makes it loop; accepting it, getting help and learning on the way completes it.

Safety note

Any lump, growth or ongoing symptom needs proper medical care. The talk's "readings" of illnesses in this session are not diagnoses. Its suggestions of MMS for a growth and for Lyme disease are dangerous: MMS is a bleach (chlorine dioxide) and should never be swallowed. Lyme disease is treated with antibiotics prescribed by a doctor.

14.4 Tests placed in your hologram

Guidance can test you by placing a holographic imprint into your hologram: a thought put in as a code (like a number sequence) immediately becomes a hologram, and suddenly you're in a situation designed by your guidance. In that moment you won't remember the teachings or the teacher; you'll simply act from the heart, and that is what is watched. Depending on what you do, you're given more, or you stay at the same level to learn more (see S2 13.5). Some people notice such an inserted situation only afterwards, when they reflect on it.

14.5 A new message

Given about a month earlier, as end results: court systems cleaned of corrupt judges; a new cryptocurrency code that won't allow manipulation; new technology back in people's hands; those who ran corrupt systems staying in the timelines they match, because they simply can't pass through portals of a higher resonance ("it's not a judgment"); and a new unity: "one nation under God you are", no longer separated by belief systems, respecting each other "regardless of skin colour", with control of the human soul only by the human itself. How you experience it depends on the hologram you run on (see S2 10.3).

The grids around the planet were removed, so the soul is free to ascend through platforms, connect with guidance or shift into a 5D Earth; before, a code imprinted in consciousness kept it looping in 3D. In 2020 a "correction on all levels": souls being born will no longer come from negative platforms (see S2 10.5). And the 3D code itself "has a virus": its spin no longer matches consciousness, so it collapses ("delete, delete, delete") back to source, to zero, to be recycled. The word "genocide" in the message meant this collapse of a code, not harm to anyone. "Freedom to all. Love to all."

> Note
> These are predictions and claims. A prediction naming a politician, and wording about named groups of families, are left out in keeping with this book's approach.

14.6 When the same people keep coming back

If people from your past drift away, or the same kinds of people and situations keep returning, you are reprinting the same vibration until you complete it (see S1 1.5, S1 3). There is a program running in your hologram; to shut it down, deal with the differences, without judgment. Be brutally honest: write down exactly what happened and how you acted. Was it from the heart, or from ego, jealousy or anger? Those three keep recalling the frequency, and it comes back as a mirror image, in a different but similar situation.

Then override it: "If that person comes in 100 times, you're going to do it 101 times: what can I do to make the situation better?" This is not about staying with abuse: if someone is hurting you, the 101 times mean finding a way away from that person, through the heart.

14.7 Fear tips the reading

A reading reflects your energetic field at that moment. Someone asking out of fear and doubt ("should I cancel my trip?") tips the probability toward the outcome they fear, and the reading shows it. You can't be made unafraid by someone else: you have to shift your own emotion. And if there is a lesson, you'll meet it whichever you choose, so how you go through it matters most (in the same situation, one person laughs and another shouts back, and they go into different realities). Learn to read your own dreams, and to trust yourself.

> Note
> For real travel decisions, check official travel advice for your destination, and take ordinary safety precautions.

14.8 Dreams are realities: act toward them

Every reality is true for itself: a dream, a lucid dream and this waking moment run at the same time (see S2 12.9). Whether you take a dream as true is up to you; if you do, take action in this reality toward the dream image: it already exists, and action crystallizes it into matter.

For lucid dreaming: when you become aware, stay calm, because excitement changes the vibration and pops you out. Then, in control, open a portal with your thoughts (your consciousness knows how), go through, and call in what you want, or call your guidance to be shown. A lucid dream is another vibrational timeline with the same modality as here. Study, detox and practise, and your guidance will decide when you're ready.

14.9 The body, and "immortality"

"We are all immortal; you just need to learn to switch and shift the vibrations." Your consciousness can already connect with other beings, but to hold their vibration physically, the body's plasma and gravitational field must rise, which is why detox matters. Over time, humanity's bodies will become lighter, more "silica", and we'll move through higher dimensions until it's a normal state. It is gradual, through diet, experience and learning. The teacher's own honey-and-water fast is not a recommendation: "please do not do what I'm doing."

> Safety note
> Living without food, or on honey and water alone, is dangerous and can be fatal. Don't attempt extreme fasts; any detox should be done slowly and with a doctor.

14.10 Orbs, and perception

Multidimensional orbs will appear more often: at the edge of your vision, briefly in front of you, or in photos. Whether you perceive one as an orb or a reflection is your choice, not someone else's belief. "If it's in the structure, it's meant for you to see it."

The method — The Brutally Honest Review

For people or situations that keep coming back:

1. Pull out and see it as a program running in your hologram.
2. Write it down, exactly as it happened, and how you acted.
3. Ask honestly: was I acting from the heart, or from ego, jealousy or anger? No self-judgment.
4. Neutralize it: acknowledge it, thank it for showing your location, calm to zero (see S2 13.4).
5. Override it, every time it returns (101 times if it comes 100): "What can I do to make this better?"
6. If it's abuse, the better way is distance: leave, through the heart, and protect yourself.
7. Afterwards, practise every half hour for the rest of the day, and write down what you notice.

Questions answered

I felt Pleiadian; now I'm told I'm Arcturian. Which is right, and what is my name there?

A name was given, but not your origin: there are realities not yet collapsed and more to learn (see 14.1). Practise lucid dreaming: once you learn it, you'll be able to connect with your guidance directly. A health note was also given (joint inflammation; diet).

> Note
> Joint pain or a suspected inflammatory condition needs a doctor's diagnosis before any diet change.

I saw a small oval object at my window, three times, hovering and rocking. What was it? Have I fulfilled my contract?

Contracts can't be told. The object was a "robotic imprint hologram imagery" given for your frequency: go back to its vibration, look within the image, and find the code inside it (seen as a blue ball).

I've tried to visualize away a growth in my neck. What other action should I take?

"Intervention": see 14.3. Work with doctors, and look into nutrition, herbal medicine and gut health with professionals; the reading described a chain reaction involving gut flora and improper signals to the chromosomes (see S2 9.8). (A product suggestion in the answer is left out; see the safety note under 14.3.)

I'm manifesting three meaningful dreams. Am I on the right path, and what should I improve?

See 14.8: learn lucid dreaming, stay calm in it, open a portal and call in your guidance. Keep studying and practising; when your frequency is ready, the connection comes.

I dreamed you told me I'm from Sirius B. Is it true?

Every reality is true for itself. If you take it as true, act toward that image here (see 14.8).

Is there a natural treatment for Lyme disease?

(The answer suggested MMS; see the safety note under 14.3. See a doctor.)

I'm about to become a father, but my partner and I don't match, and I'm not feeling the joy. Why?

Thank you for your honesty. It comes from fear of the unknown. Switch the emotion now, even if you don't feel it yet: gratitude for the child and for its mother (you can't reject her from your hologram). Recall the joy of the moments you loved her: that frequency exists in another timeline, and recalling it brings it back. Watch uplifting videos of births and new parents to tune in. Practise every half hour; staying in confusion keeps projecting it.

For forty years I've felt like two things: "me" and my body, as if the world were a theatre. What is it?

The soul's energetic field isn't fully "clicked" into the timeline, like a jigsaw piece not quite in place. It's awareness that your soul vibrates differently, which is happening to everyone awakening. "Nothing is wrong with it."

> Note
> If feeling detached from yourself or the world distresses you or affects daily life, talk to a doctor: it's a recognized experience and help is available.

People from my past have stopped coming around. Is it my reality changing? Also, I've lost my sense of smell and taste.

See 14.6. The loss of smell and taste is medical, not stress: see a doctor. For you, a crystal or light of purple colour; star family not given.

Early one morning my vision went completely dark for a second, like a system update. What was it?

A switch of hologram: the program shut down and a new one was put in.

I photographed a violet orb by the sun, and my phone froze. What was it?

See 14.10. (A health note was also given: possible lung infection; see a doctor.)

> Note
> Cough with fever or breathlessness, especially with asthma, needs prompt medical care.

Several people warned me to be careful on a long trip abroad, and I dreamed the same. Should I go?

See 14.7: the answer reflected the fear and doubt in the question. "Proceed with caution"; and whatever you choose, a lesson will be completed if it's needed. Find quiet time and learn to trust yourself.

When is the financial "reset"?

More will be seen in 2020; a new cryptocurrency code is awaited that will close the "back door" through which money has disappeared. No more information was given.

> Note
> This is not financial advice; talk to a licensed adviser about investments.

What is my and my children's "platform" for connecting with higher beings?

You're already doing it: by projecting that frequency daily (talks like this, reading, films), contact designed by your guidance and higher self will come, at the level of your consciousness and agreements.

My life has changed completely: retirement, a new home, a loss in the family, health issues. What should I focus on?

The body and diet; the thyroid (see a doctor); and the sadness: until you clear it, the new frequency can't come in. Use your will, the power from within.

Will some people today become "immortal", without new incarnations?

See 14.9: "we are all immortal."

Are the infinite possibilities of 3D and 5D becoming one timeline?

Yes, if that's what you're doing: you merge the two into a brand-new version of yourself and shift there. That is what we're learning.

Do we need a new mathematics to build what HR describes?

Yes: something to do with light language and vortex mathematics, not only quantum science.

The closing message

After each talk, practise every half hour for the rest of the day: stay in joy, dress up, go out, smile. Write down what happens. You'll start noticing your own creations, and the more you do, the easier it gets.

Participants' and donors' names, outside people, products and a political prediction are left out. Personal stories are turned into lessons.

Remember

- You're told what you need now; do the work, and more is given.
- You can't skip a lesson: accept it, get help, go through it.
- When it keeps returning, be brutally honest and override it.
- A reading reflects your field: fear tips it.
- A dream already exists: act toward it.

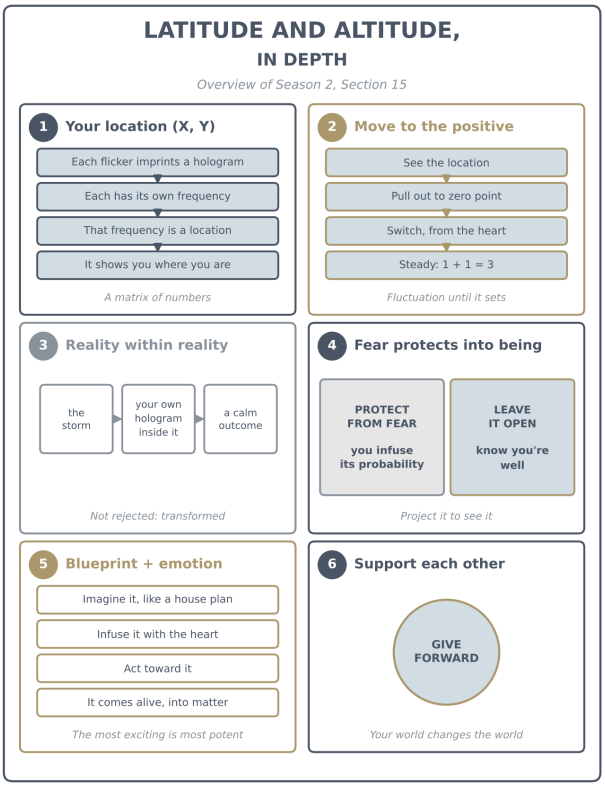

SEASON 2 · SECTION 15

Latitude and Altitude, In Depth

Your location in the quantum structure explained step by step, reality within reality, why acting from fear creates what you fear, the zero point clarified, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

Latitude and altitude (X and Y) is your location in the quantum structure. Every time the one particle flickers, it imprints a new hologram with its own frequency, and that frequency is where you are. A situation simply shows you your location; you then pull out, go to zero point, switch from the heart and hold it steady until the fluctuation settles in the positive (1 + 1 = 3). Whatever you see around you is a reality within the reality: you don't have to make it yours, and you don't reject it; you transform it by running your own frequency inside it. Acting out of fear to protect yourself infuses the very thing you fear: project what you want to see it, rather than waiting to see it first.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

15.1 Reality within the reality

The quantum structure includes the whole field, so you may see platforms of realities anywhere: a war, a new mandate, a technology everyone fears. That doesn't have to be your truth: you create a hologram within the hologram, resonating on your own vibration and timeline. You can't reject the quantum, but you can transform it: be aware of what's around you, and keep projecting your own frequency over it, again and again. That repetition is how "mutation" happens: whatever you focus your energy into is what's projected back.

While one system collapses and a new one comes in, you must project the new to see it, and that depends on your belief system. When you drop into fear, your consciousness tells you you're off balance with the heart: can you fix it?

15.2 Acting from fear creates what you fear

Reading more and more, getting emotional and rushing to "protect myself here and there" can backfire: an action taken to protect yourself from something infuses its probability. Why protect against something that isn't there? Nobody is outside of you (see S2 9.6); the action projects a reality in which you will need protecting. So leave it open, and know you are well, whatever is happening in the field.

> Note
> This is about acting from fear. Ordinary prudence, health care and reasonable preparation remain wise, and the teachings themselves advise them (see S2 8, S2 14.3).

15.3 Project it to see it

Knowing the mechanics answers the "why" behind the advice: why forgive, why pull out, why not believe what you see. In the quantum, "you have to project it to construct it to see it, not see it to construct it." Taking what you see as the only reality is like watching yourself in a mirror and insisting the reflection is the real you.

15.4 Latitude and altitude, step by step

Picture two axes, X and Y, crossing at the zero point, with four areas: minus-minus, minus-plus, plus-minus and plus-plus. This is your whole hologram, a matrix of numbers, and numbers are frequencies. It is also one molecule, expanding to infinity and collapsing back (see S1 1.1).

As the particle flickers back and forth, it imprints itself: each flicker creates a part, a fractal hologram within the hologram, a new Earth, to infinity, even within each dot. That is the ascension process. Each imprint has its own frequency, and that frequency gives a signal: your latitude and altitude, your location. Your emotions, thoughts and deeds create the magnetic and gravitational field of the pulsing molecule, so each choice shifts you into a brand-new hologram, at a new location.

Flicker between negative and positive without settling, and you fluctuate across the quadrants (see S1 3). Shift steadily to the positive, and you collapse everything into 1 + 1 = 3 in the positive. So this one bylaw connects collapsing realities, fluctuating realities, the zero point and 1 + 1 = 3.

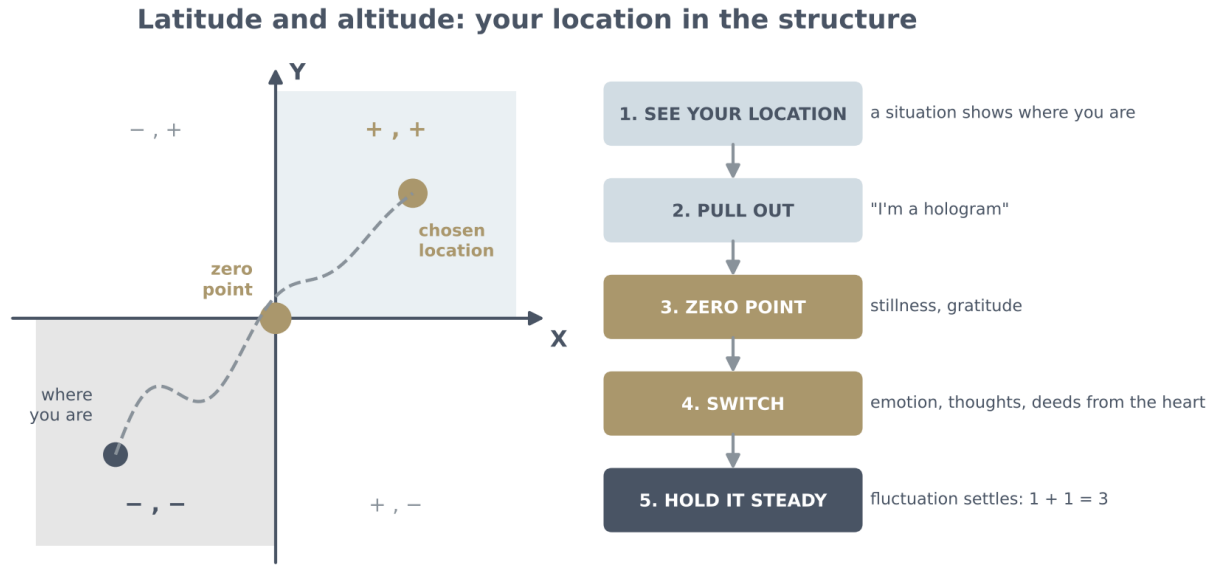

Fig. S2-15A — Latitude and altitude: a situation shows your location; pulling out to zero point and switching from the heart moves you, steadily, to the positive.

FROM THE BOOKS SD: "RESTORATION – Happens when you need a jump from one hologram… to another when you change the sound equilibrium Hz to a slight angle into the matrix (X, Y) Latitude and altitude… Every degree of angular expression has different sound sonic cymatic whirlpool reality holograms" (see S2 3.3).

15.5 Steady, with a blueprint, and sovereign

It has to be a steady vibration. With a clear blueprint and constant input from the heart (neutralizing and switching whatever you see), the particle of what you imagine becomes so potent that it pulses and pops into matter. Without that training, you'll get outcomes you didn't want, because you never pointed your emotion steadily at what you want. No expectations about who or how. Practising every half hour trains exactly this (see S2 10).

It's hardest with people: someone is mean, and you're asked to smile and imagine you get along. But don't give away your sovereignty: imagine the positive, yet pull out and observe so no one takes it; "that doesn't mean you go back into the lion's mouth" (see S2 7.4). Peel the layers.

15.6 Watching the movie: two examples

Rain. Before an outdoor gathering it poured all day. Instead of rejecting the rain, the teacher thanked it, knew it was sunny, felt the sun and the joy, and kept holding that vibration; within an hour of the party the sun came out. Rain isn't negative; it's another hologram. Holding one vibration steadily replaces one holographic imprint with another.

A storm. With the power out and everyone in fear, she neutralized it with gratitude ("storm, thank you"), played a game (imagining life in an earlier century, by candlelight, with family), and found everything she needed: fuel, a quiet shop, food. Inside the same storm, she ran her own hologram with a completely different outcome. Even there, gratitude: some people a short distance away were suffering far more.

15.7 The zero point, clarified

The zero point (see S1 2.1) is not "being thankful I'm sad and choosing love" in one step. First, realize you're in a situation and pull back: "I'm a hologram." Let the emotion subside to nothing: aware, observing like a film, with no opinion and no emotional frequency at all. Then give gratitude to neutralize whatever came in. Only then imagine what you want and feel it, so it starts to vibrate. Think of a computer: you shut one program down and install another. The two holograms run on different frequencies (as an illustration: 1 Hz and 2 Hz); the zero point is the neutral gap in between. Never reject: rejection is itself a frequency (see S2 13.4).

15.8 The blueprint is a house plan

Imagination is the blueprint, like the plan of a house: picture your new Earth, what it looks like, what you're doing. That Earth already exists with you; to make it matter, infuse the blueprint with emotion from the heart until it vibrates and comes alive, and take action toward it. You are building your new house, your new Earth, and shifting into it.

15.9 Intuition and desire

Intuition is frequency: your higher self showing you that something is going on that needs your attention. Listen to it, explore it, run with it. And to choose what to do: the most exciting option is the highest frequency from the heart, so it makes the molecule vibrate fastest and has the most probability of expanding into matter. What you only half-want has less potency.

15.10 Guidance, tasks and integrity

A health condition doesn't stop you connecting with guidance. People are given tasks; if they go badly off track (greed, conflict), guidance may pull back, but "there's always another level" as long as you stay on the platform. When collaborations broke down around the teacher, she gave gratitude and moved on, without blaming, keeping her own integrity. Not everyone can stay on top of that wave, especially around money; it's challenging.

15.11 Support each other

To build a society from the heart, we must support each other through the transition: "you cannot just take", or there's no exchange, only overtaking. Communities like this one can connect and help each other locally: clothes, painting a house, a little money for someone in need. Energy philanthropy can work for anyone (see S1 5). And "one person can change the entire world": whose world? Yours, because it's your perception.

The method — Find Your Location, and Move It

1. Read the situation as a location: "This shows me where I am." No judgment.
2. Pull out: "I'm a hologram; I'm watching a film."
3. Subside to zero: no emotion, only awareness.
4. Give gratitude to neutralize what came in ("thank you, rain").
5. Switch: imagine the blueprint you want and feel it from the heart; take an action toward it.
6. Hold it steady, every time the old picture returns, until the fluctuation settles in the positive.
7. Keep your sovereignty: positive, but observant; never back into the lion's mouth.

Questions answered

I'm aware of so many distortions around me that I can't find myself, and fear clouds my decisions.

It's confusion, not loss of self. Know what you want, and imagine it. Whatever happens around you, neutralize it with gratitude and tell yourself "I'm watching the movie", then switch to what you want. If I give you tea and you'd like coffee, you don't get angry; you just ask for coffee. Play the game. For decisions: if you're connected with fear rather than knowing, you'll produce more of the same; know that, whatever comes, you're fine, and you'll find the solution (see 15.6).

My cat has a broken, abscessed tooth; the specialist costs twice my monthly income. How can I help her?

She needs a doctor's intervention. Take action: call or visit the expensive specialist in person and ask about payments or a lower price; the teacher once did this for her son and was charged half. The price, too, is part of the hologram you can transform. Know she is healed, and act; if not this vet, a better one. A temporary fix isn't a permanent one.

> Note
> A dental abscess in a pet is painful and can be serious; get veterinary care promptly. Ask about payment plans, and look for animal-welfare charities or veterinary schools that offer lower-cost treatment.

Is the zero point accepting the situation, being thankful I'm sad and choosing love?

Close, but first comes stillness: see 15.7. (A health note was also given: possible calcium and magnesium depletion from the diet; look into it. No galactic information was given.)

> Note
> Check with a doctor before adding supplements; a simple blood test can show what you actually need.

My whole life has shifted in the last two or three years. Any advice?

You'll keep shifting, according to how you hold your frequency. Stay positive and neutralize everything; systems are collapsing. Stay away from negative social media input: be aware, but without anger, "like swimming between situations." Positive frequency connects you with benevolent beings; challenges still come, because you're here to learn both sides and become a master of creation. Do your research, and stay in the heart.

Can you have dreams within dreams while lucid dreaming, as in the film? What's the benefit?

Yes. Every reality is like a dream state (see S2 12.9). A dream is another parallel reality running at the same time. When you become lucid and open a portal, you create yet another reality within it: three structures running at once, with awareness. It can take you to very different levels, each with your own guidance when the time is right. Don't rush; you'll be tested on how you treat people: "what stays in the end is how much you did in the name of humanity."

A huge snake fell on me in a dream. In meditation I befriended it and I'm no longer afraid, but it hasn't shrunk. What does it mean?

It doesn't matter how big it is: it's positive (sometimes you need a lion to protect you, not a cub). Yours was the transformation of fear. "You don't run from situations; you face them and transform them."

I help animals, especially horses, with energy; visible lights now come to help. Am I doing it right?

Your consciousness will know. Write down the first thing that comes, before old beliefs override it. Each animal is individual; let it be guided, and trust the process. Unlearning a lifetime of beliefs takes time, and the past wasn't "wrong": the deeper you go into the dark, the faster you reach the light (see S2 10.8). As you keep this frequency, more like-minded people come into your reality.

I've inherited a house and orchard and want to create a retreat centre for awakening. Any guidance?

Start small, from the heart, and build the vibration; stay out of the trap of the monetary system. If people respect you, support always comes, one way or another (see 15.11). (A personal skin note was also given: very thin skin layers and inflexible capillaries; avoid too much sun, and above all, love and accept yourself.)

> Note
> Facial redness such as rosacea is common and treatable; a dermatologist can help.

I'm trained in a healing practice but can't get started on my mission. What should I do?

It's confusion. Take the first step: act, trusting that you will make something of it. Productivity comes from action.

Must the elimination diet, juicing and distilled water be done together? Can children do it?

This is how the teacher was taught and did it, shared freely, not prescribed; she isn't a doctor. The elimination diet matters because the body should flush out steadily, slowly, step by step, "without opening the dam", or you deplete nutrients and get ill. For children: not three days of distilled water (at most a day, on and off), because their immune systems fluctuate; juices, shakes and an elimination diet only with a doctor's supervision.

> Safety note
> Don't put children on fasts or restrictive cleanses. Any diet change for a child, or for an adult with a medical condition, should be supervised by a doctor.

I cleansed too fast and now have ongoing bowel and leg problems. Is this an illusion I should just relax into?

No: it isn't an illusion. Get to the bottom of it with doctors (a gastroenterologist if your gut is affected); rebuilding the gut is its own process. Even when guidance spoke to the teacher, she always acted together with medical supervision. Open your heart, yes, but take the action.

How does intuition work, and how do I know what I really want?

See 15.9.

Does a condition such as rheumatoid arthritis block connection with guidance?

No: see 15.10.

Participants' and donors' names, a private story and an outside source are left out. Next talk, as announced: questions and answers.

> Remember
> - A situation shows your location (X, Y); it isn't a verdict.
> - Pull out, subside to zero, give thanks, then switch.
> - Hold it steady until the fluctuation settles in the positive.
> - Don't act from fear: project it to see it.
> - Choose what excites you most: it has the most potency.

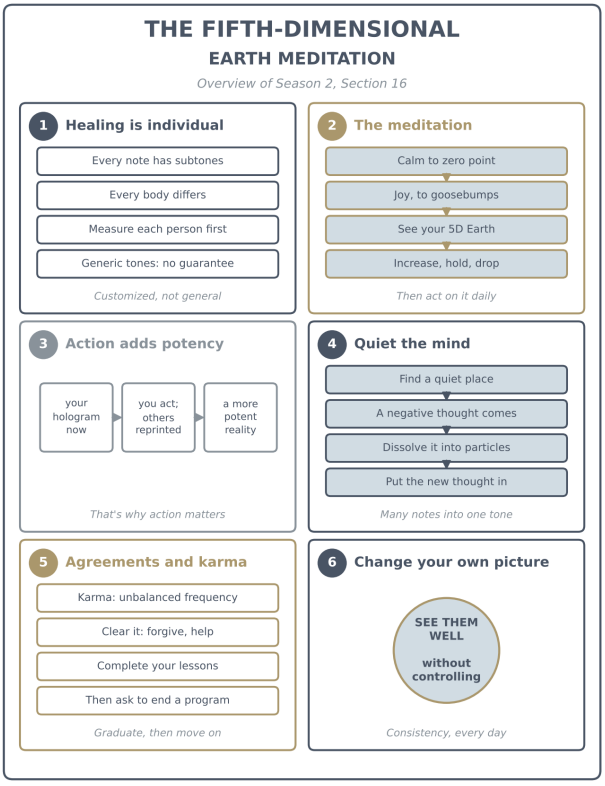

SEASON 2 · SECTION 16

Q & A: The Fifth-Dimensional Earth Meditation

A guided meditation to build the blueprint of your 5D Earth, why action makes a reality more potent, quieting the mind, soul agreements and karma, helping someone with an addiction, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

Asked for something concrete to stay steady through chaotic times, the guidance asked for a meditation: calm to zero point, raise joy to goosebumps, build the blueprint of your fifth-dimensional Earth (including your galactic family), increase the feeling, hold it, then drop it, and afterwards act on it every day. Action matters because each time you act, the new hologram you reprint is more potent than the last. Healing by frequency must be measured for each person. Karma and soul agreements clear only as you complete lessons and forgive. And for someone you love who is struggling, you can't change them: you hold the new version of them in your own blueprint, consistently, without trying to control them.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

16.1 Healing by frequency is individual

Sound and frequency can heal (see S2 9.8), but every person's molecular structure is different. Every note has subtones, and when they change, it takes AI and quantum computing, with "light mathematics" (vortex mathematics), to catch the exact frequency change and merge them. Such technology exists, but it can also be misused, so be careful how it's applied. Before applying tones to anyone, measure each individual; tones applied generally to everyone come with no guarantee. The same goes for herbal remedies made for one person: they aren't transferable.

FROM THE BOOKS HR: "NOTE: Measure the rate of the vibration individually for each person"; frequency work "must be applied with the biological frequency of the molecules of the Human body (individually)."

> Note
> Sound-frequency programs are not a substitute for medical treatment of conditions such as diabetes, kidney or thyroid disease.

16.2 Staying steady when things escalate

Many sources speak of chaotic events ahead. They needn't affect you, depending on how you vibrate, and the most tangible help is to keep your frequency high through action, thoughts and deeds, and to build what you want from the heart. After the meditation, act every day: read positive material (books about extraterrestrials and the new world), watch positive films and messages, and stay away from negative social media (fights, blame, political quarrels). Social media isn't banned: posting your work or watching uplifting content is fine.

The message also said that some things may have to happen for people to stand up and act together, and that it's "done on purpose": don't be afraid of it. Each of us has a part to do.

16.3 The fifth-dimensional Earth meditation

Given live, at the guidance's request, as a group practice (see the Method). The teacher's own blueprint, as an example: beautiful meadows whose vibration she feels and whose flowers she smells; ecosystems with free-energy platforms; people helping each other from the heart and nourishing the Earth; technology that has taken off into space; her galactic family, as friends, learning from each other, coexisting in unity; and a spacecraft of light that is alive, which you can talk to and which can create realities like your Earthly experience. Then: add your own layers. "If you saw it in the blueprint, that reality with you already exists"; hold the vibration and build it into matter.

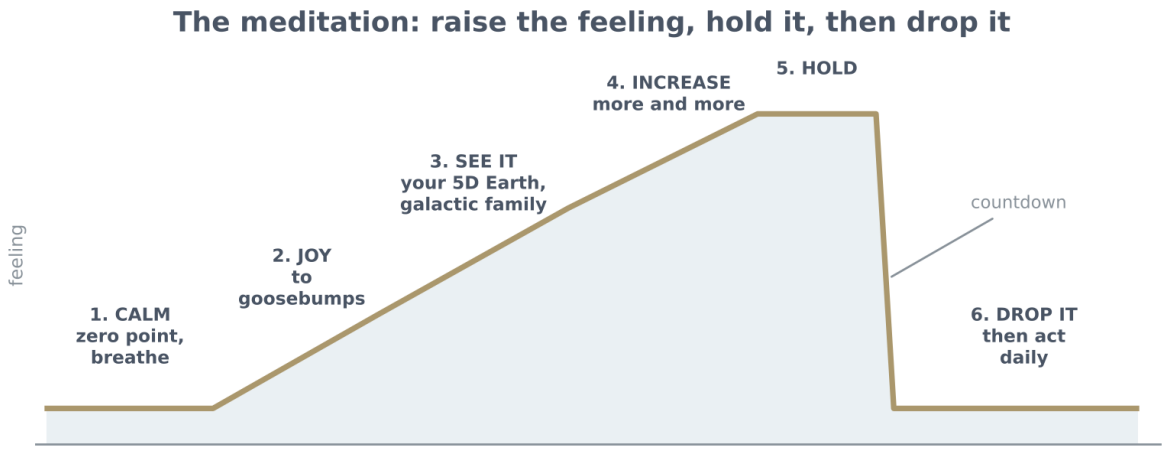

Fig. S2-16A — The meditation's shape: calm, then joy, then the blueprint, increase and hold at the peak, then drop it and act daily.

> Note
> Cracking or popping sounds and dizziness can come with this kind of practice ("you start penetrating the barriers of the new frequency"). Lie down if you feel dizzy; if such symptoms persist, see a doctor.

16.4 Why action makes a reality more potent

When you shift into a new hologram, you carry some vibration from the previous one. If, in the new one, you act and others start doing the same, you reprint many people taking that path, and that platform becomes more potent than the last (as an illustration: from 1 Hz to 2 Hz). That gives your desired outcome more probability. Without action, you don't see it in your hologram (see S2 11.9).

And stand your ground: this isn't about popularity. You can pull out and stay kind, but don't let anyone take your sovereignty; when you believe something, hold to it, without destroying anyone (see S2 15.5). Seeing the dark clearly is part of transforming it (see S2 11.10).

16.5 Quiet the mind to hear your higher self

A busy mind blocks the connection. Begin in a quiet place, free of noise, and train your thoughts. When a negative thought comes, imagine it bursting into particles and disappearing, then put the new thought in and continue: not rejecting, transforming. Every thought is drawn from the quantum field (you are the quantum field); focusing gathers that "symphony of frequency" into one tonality. Even channelling is imprinting a consciousness into your own reality: ultimately you're talking with your own consciousness.

16.6 Soul agreements and karma

Karma is accumulated, out-of-balance frequency. Until it's cleared, you can't "graduate to the next class": not as punishment, but because a higher timeline has a different frequency your consciousness can't match yet. So the same situations reprint and loop. Clear it through the lessons: forgive, stop the lies and scheming, help, support each other, and use the manifestation protocol (see S1 14, S2 14.3).

Soul agreements are held with your guidance and higher self. After a very hard relationship, for example, you can ask to shut down the program of that agreement, having learned the lesson so you don't repeat it. Whether it's granted depends on how well you did: ask for it.

FROM THE BOOKS DP gives the same promise of release once the lessons are done: "Your new karma will be cleared and you will become a strong awake."

16.7 When someone you love is addicted

Addiction is a very potent vibrational sequence held in the memory of the body's membranes, built by repetition, so it's very hard for the person to transform. You can't change another person's modality. What you can do is reprint your version of them: visualize them well, happy and no longer drinking, and hold that in your own vibration without trying to overtake them. You're changing your platform, not them. Their own change must come from them, if they are willing, and then it takes consistent effort, every day (see S1 3).

> Alcohol addiction is a medical condition, and help works. Encourage your loved one to see a doctor; family support groups (such as Al-Anon) help relatives too. In the US, the SAMHSA helpline is 1-800-662-4357, free and confidential.

16.8 Where humanity comes from

Humanity connects with many races: we were made from extraterrestrials through genetics, as part of evolution (the talk mentioned nine to twelve races). "Nothing scary": technology can be used positively or negatively, depending on the consciousness using it. That shared DNA is why you can connect with your galactic family (see S2 12.11).

The method — The Fifth-Dimensional Earth Meditation

About fifteen minutes. Close your eyes; you can simply listen or read the steps slowly:

1. Calm to zero point. Breathe in and out, slowly, as if floating.
2. Feel joy. "I am happy." Grab the vibration of joy and love until you feel goosebumps, like electricity.

3. From that feeling, see your fifth-dimensional Earth. What does it look like? Nature, communities, free energy, people helping each other.
4. Meet your galactic family. What do they look like? Greet them, talk, learn from each other. Feel the joy.
5. Add layers: places, crafts, technologies, your own experiences in that world.
6. Increase the feeling for about a minute, more and more, until tears and goosebumps, while holding the image.
7. Hold it, about 30 seconds, breathing through it.
8. Drop it on a countdown (9 to 0), and come back.
9. Afterwards, act daily: revisit the blueprint each night, read and watch positive material, avoid negative social media, and do things in the name of humanity.

Questions answered

Which herbal tea helped your son's healing?

It was a blend made specifically for his body by a professional herbalist abroad, with components not disclosed; it isn't something to copy. Remedies need to be made for each person.

Can a sound-frequency software program heal conditions like insulin resistance or kidney or thyroid problems?

Healing by frequency and sound is possible, but must be customized: see 16.1.

Red marks like burns appeared inside both my underarms; no pain, no itch. Was I attacked by non-physical beings?

"Three pictograms" (look into that word); and not negative.

> Note
> Unexplained marks or rashes on the skin deserve a doctor's look.

Is shungite from Earth, and does it protect bees from electromagnetic fields?

It came in and, with Earth's change of frequency, was incorporated and is now reproduced by the Earth itself: the Earth is alive and can mutate structures, over millennia. Bees: yes, their frequency can be corrected, but be careful: there is a geometry on their wings that resonates with sound, and "bees are not flying, they are floating by sound." Measure what they need before applying anything; experiment carefully.

A healer told me to "correct the spin of the solar system within the body". What does it mean?

The body itself is a solar system. If you connect your consciousness to that belief, you change your hologram's modality: sonic tunnels, like portals, create the next imprint. Depending on your point of view, anything is possible; but take care not to adopt a wrong idea, because you then project it as your reality.

Chaotic events are coming. Is there something tangible we can do, a position or a breath, to stay unaffected?

Yes: the meditation (see 16.3 and the Method), then daily action.

Half-asleep at 4 a.m., I was shown a tiny bubble, "a portable portal", and looked through it. Did I go through?

"Yes, you went home"; three beings were there and a discussion took place. Go back into the experience and through the portal again, and the answer will be there.

Is the human race connected with a particular alien race?

Many: see 16.8.

I was badly injured saving an elderly woman from a fall, and now face doctors and insurance battles. Is this a test? Who is my star family?

Star family is blocked from view by much sorrow. On insurance: "Everything will change" (three times); "liberation is coming… platform will change, humanity will change." (Political and vaccine remarks in the answer are left out.)

How can I contact my higher self better?

See 16.5: quiet the mind.

How can we stop fearful entities and cancel soul agreements?

See 16.6.

There have been no squirrels in my area this year. Why?

A sign that shifts are happening, prompting you to ask what changed and look for solutions. Help them: build a squirrel house with organic seeds, and ask for them to reappear in your hologram.

My ears have rung for two years. How do I stop it?

"This is not a frequency": see a doctor; it was read as a slight inflammation around the eardrum. Keep the ear warm (for example with an organic cotton ball).

> Note
> Persistent ringing in the ears (tinnitus) should be checked by a doctor or ear specialist.

Occasionally a distinct tone plays in my ear for a few seconds. What is it?

It could be a download, to memory or to DNA, depending on the person. Like staring at glyphs, it downloads only if your resonance matches.

My brother drinks heavily and can't stop. Is something attached to him? What can we do?

See 16.7. Visualizing him well once brought him months of sobriety; when you stopped, it changed. Keep overriding, consistently. A healing session can help only if he's willing, and then needs daily consistency.

In the meditation, I cried, wanting to go home, and heard cracking in my head. What was it?

Normal: you're penetrating the barriers of the new frequency; dizziness can happen too (see the note under 16.3).

My job involves advertising on social media. Should I stop?

No: see 16.2. Only avoid the negative content.

My dog has ear inflammation; cortisone made it worse. What else can I do?

It's fungus. What worked for the teacher's dog: cleaning the ears with cotton balls and a 50/50 mix of organic apple cider vinegar and distilled water, carefully.

> Note
> Check with your vet before using home remedies in a dog's ears, especially if the skin is broken or the eardrum may be damaged.

The recording begins mid-answer, about AI and subtones (see 16.1). The co-host's own story, names, and political and vaccine remarks are left out.

> Remember
> - Build your 5D Earth's blueprint with joy to goosebumps, hold it, drop it, then act.
> - Each action makes the new reality more potent.
> - Quiet the mind; dissolve and replace negative thoughts.
> - Karma clears through lessons, forgiveness and help.
> - For loved ones: hold their healthy version, without control.

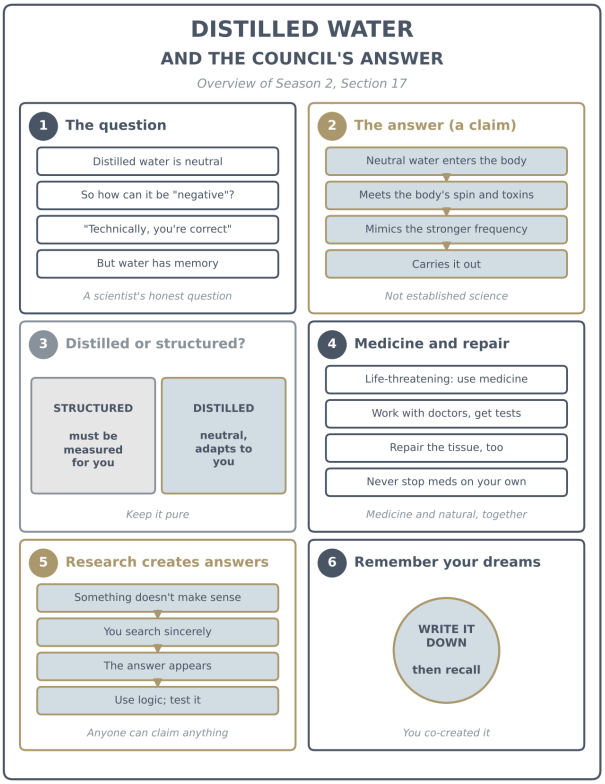

SEASON 2 · SECTION 17

Q & A: Distilled Water and the Council of Nine

A scientist's question about distilled water and the council's answer, structured water, medicines and tissue repair, research and logic, a new money message, what happens while we sleep, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

A scientist asked how distilled water could be "negatively charged" when chemically it's neutral. The council agreed it is neutral, and explained that in the body it mimics the stronger frequency (such as toxins), which changes its charge and lets it carry them out; water, they said, has memory. Structured water, by contrast, must be measured for each person. Around this, the talk repeats its own limits: it shares the teacher's experience, not advice; work with doctors; never rely on it instead of medical care. It also gives a short message on money (a secure new system; "keep it cool"), and explains that during sleep you co-create in other realities, which you can learn to recall.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Read this first

This section reports a teaching that contradicts mainstream science. Distilled water is safe to drink, but there is no scientific evidence that it pulls toxins or medicines out of the body, cures infections or reverses disease. Never stop or change a prescribed medicine (for thyroid, asthma or anything else) without your doctor, and never use fasting or water in place of treatment for an infection, cancer or any serious illness. The talk itself repeatedly says: "this is not a substitute for professional medical advice."

Key teachings

17.1 The question, and the council's answer

The question, sent by a scientist: distilled water is pure H2O; its positive and negative charges cancel, so it is neutral. What is missing? The council: "You are correct: the water molecule appears to be neutral." However, with the spinning of each person's molecular structure, distilled water "becomes negative" when it meets unnatural toxins in the body: a ripple effect, as it mimics the stronger frequency. "What humans are failing to understand is that water has memory and is able to reconstruct the system of a new platform of structures." Because distilled water starts neutral, it corrects and pulls out "only the toxins", whose frequency is stronger than the body's natural compounds.

The council proposed an experiment: shine light through two glasses of water, one with a substance in it; within days, they said, the plain glass will mimic the other. A second scientist, asked by the teacher, agreed from his perspective: the spin rate of the distilled water's atoms "rejects that which does not belong." The teacher also pointed to research on water's memory.

The Council of Nine's explanation of distilled water (a claim)

Mainstream chemistry and medicine don't support this; it is shown here as the talk's teaching only.

Fig. S2-17A — The council's explanation of distilled water, as given in the talk.

FROM THE BOOKS DP and SD both print this exact exchange, including the two-glass experiment and the second scientist's reply. HR had earlier stated: "Distilled water has (-) charge and is measurement match for the portal."

17.2 Distilled or structured water?

Distilled water is said to pick up exactly what needs to come out of your body. Structured, magnetized or spun water is "a different implementation": you'd need to measure your molecular structure first to know whether you need it and how much (the earlier structured-water example used set frequencies for a fixed duration, for everyone, to keep the body in a normal state; toxins still have to come out). And no water replaces responsibility: eat well, detox carefully, and don't keep taking in toxins expecting water to fix it. Keep distilled water pure; you can pray over it or meditate with crystals around it, since it mimics your thoughts.

17.3 The teacher's own experience

With pneumonia, she was told by her guidance to drink only distilled water for three days and eat nothing, and she recovered. Her understanding: the bacteria had the stronger frequency, and the neutral water mimicked it and carried it out. Her homeopath and doctors disagreed ("it will deplete your nutrients"); she researched, experimented on herself under medical supervision, and shares it only as her experience: "I am in no case advising anybody to do what I did."

> Safety note
> Pneumonia can be life-threatening; it needs prompt medical care and often antibiotics. Don't fast or rely on water to treat an infection.

17.4 Medicines and repairing the body

Her belief: a strong pharmaceutical compound can sustain the body without helping it repair its own tissue, so some people stay on medication for life; she chose, with her doctors monitoring her blood tests, to try to repair tissue through detox and diet. But she is clear: in a life-threatening situation, use the medication; do what's necessary to survive. Her hope is that medical and natural medicine work "in coalition, as one unit", and that we stay cautious and informed about side effects.

> Safety note
> Thyroid medicine, inhalers and other prescribed treatments must not be stopped or reduced without your doctor; doing so can be dangerous.

17.5 Research creates the answers

When something doesn't make sense, search sincerely, and you create a reality in which the answer appears. (When her son was ill and advice contradicted what her family had always known, she went to a library; her hand fell on a book that addressed exactly her question.) "The truth sets you free, because it's the higher vibration." But use logic: "anybody can claim anything. Even in this video, I can claim anything." Research, test, and make your own decisions (see S2 11.10).

17.6 Working with doctors

Many people feel doctors dismiss them. The teacher still urges working with them, because only a medical doctor can order the tests that show what's really happening; she found an open-minded doctor willing to run the tests she asked about, and monitored every change. Natural practitioners and doctors each have a part.

17.7 Stones in their purest form

Before 2012, her guidance asked her to buy uncut stones for energetic work, not pre-cut or shaped ones: the potency is in the purest form, and shaping may change a stone's properties. Likewise, keep water pure rather than adding compounds (such as shungite) to distilled water.

17.8 A new money message

"Propaganda will not be allowed." Money will be gold-backed, with a reset "soon": "keep it cool", don't worry. Whatever the economy does, don't panic; "the economy is going to be safe." A new, secure system is already in place; money will be returned to the people. "No one knows" how it will play out (see S2 10.3).

> Note
> These are predictions, not financial advice. Remarks about a criminal case and an online conspiracy source are left out.

17.9 What happens while you sleep

Realities run like different channels. When you sleep, the structure splits: while your body keeps sleeping, your higher self co-creates another reality (for example, with your galactic family), and both run at once. Your memory may not hold it, because you're not allowed yet or it isn't time. Lucid dreaming creates yet another reality in between; even then, you may not be allowed into certain places (the teacher was twice sent back from a spacecraft: "you are not allowed to be here") until it's your time and your frequency matches (see S2 15).

To remember: on waking, write down whatever you recall, then sit back and let your thoughts guide you ("what were you doing? Try again"). You couldn't see those structures if you hadn't experienced them; you're recalling what you co-created.

The method — Recalling Your Night

1. Before you move, on waking, notice any image or feeling left from the night.
2. Write it down, even a fragment.
3. Sit back quietly and ask: "What was I doing? Where was I?"
4. Let the thoughts come; if it's vague, "try again", tuning in more each time.
5. Ask what it was for, and how you might use it.
6. Trust it: you are recalling something you co-created, not inventing it.

Questions answered

Isn't structured and magnetized water better for self-healing?

A different implementation: see 17.2. It needs measuring for you.

Does distilled water pull out toxins from food and pollution, if there's more of it in the body?

That is the council's answer (see 17.1). The teacher added her own view on thyroid medicines and tissue repair (see 17.4).

If water takes on the stronger frequency, wouldn't it take on the toxin?

Yes: that's the point: it takes the toxin's frequency and carries it out.

Doesn't distilled water deplete nutrients?

The talk says it pulls out what has the stronger frequency, meaning toxins, not nutrients.

> Note
> Drinking distilled water is generally safe, but it contains no minerals; a balanced diet provides them.

Can I purify rainwater by spinning it clockwise with my finger and intention?

It depends on how long and how you spin it; it would need measuring. That's why distilled water was recommended: it's neutral.

> Note
> Rainwater can carry bacteria and pollutants; boil, filter or treat it before drinking.

I structure my distilled water and add quartz crystals. Should I stop?

Keep it distilled. You can pray over it or meditate with crystals around it; it mimics the wave of your thoughts.

Should a cleanse be supported with distilled rather than filtered water?

"This is what I did."

How much of distilled water's effect is intention, as with homeopathy?

It depends on the person, which is why the teacher had both a homeopathic and a medical doctor checking her blood work. When her thyroid results improved, her doctor wouldn't claim it was possible: doctors can't endorse what they haven't studied.

Will distilled water pull out medications?

"Yes, slowly, within ten days", with no food for the first three days. (A claim; see the note at the top of this section, and never stop medication without your doctor.)

I charge my water with a plate device and sunlight, write "love" on the jug and add lemon, lime and ginger. Any suggestions?

"That is completely doable. Keep going with that; it works for you."

Unless we cleanse, are we all walking around with toxins?

Not necessarily; everyone is different. But with toxins in the air and food, most of us carry some. Eat healthily and consider detoxing; and structured water only with personal measurement. As with a painkiller, you don't keep taking something once the body no longer needs it.

Isn't there "distilled water" in fruit, such as watermelon and apple?

Yes, but it carries the vibration of the fruit's own molecular structure.

I had hypothyroidism, now hyperthyroidism, and take no medicine. What water could help?

"You definitely need a doctor's supervision." Get tested. The teacher found her own thyroid problem early through a specific antibody test (generic tests looked normal), and improved with an elimination diet, juicing and distilled water over about a year, under monitoring. If the gland is already destroyed, she can't promise repair, and medication may be necessary.

I have cervical cancer. Is a three-day distilled-water fast enough?

"No." Medical intervention and supervision are fundamental; there are clinics with both medical and homeopathic doctors. "Don't do it only by yourself."

> Safety note
> Cancer needs treatment from an oncology team. Fasting or water cannot treat it, and delaying treatment can cost lives.

What does drinking distilled water with shungite do? Does it change DNA?

"Very much so", but shungite also neutralizes, being a different compound. Not recommended: keep the water pure, so it mimics what you need (see 17.7).

Are the carbon filters in water distillers dangerous?

It depends on manufacturing: chemical compounds can leak into the water. Use the purest carbon. Carbon and sand in layers purify water but don't distil it.

Doctors often dismiss me. Why go?

See 17.6: you need them for proper tests.

How does the structure work while we sleep? Some days I wake to drama.

See 17.9.

My multidimensional selves seem to block what I'm trying to do now. How do I transmute them without rejecting them?

Something has changed; go back to the first three sections of Season 1 and switch platforms without rejection: pull back and create another platform through action. Don't put a timer on it: it took the teacher two years before "it was like an avalanche." It takes as long as your lessons; hold the heart.

The talk's legal disclaimer, promotions of a craftsperson and an author, references to a criminal case, an online conspiracy source and outside people, and names are left out.

Remember

- The council's teaching: distilled water mimics the stronger frequency and carries it out (a claim).
- Structured water must be measured for you; keep distilled water pure.
- Never stop medicine on your own; use it when life is at stake.
- Research with logic: anyone can claim anything.
- Write your dreams down and recall them: you co-created them.

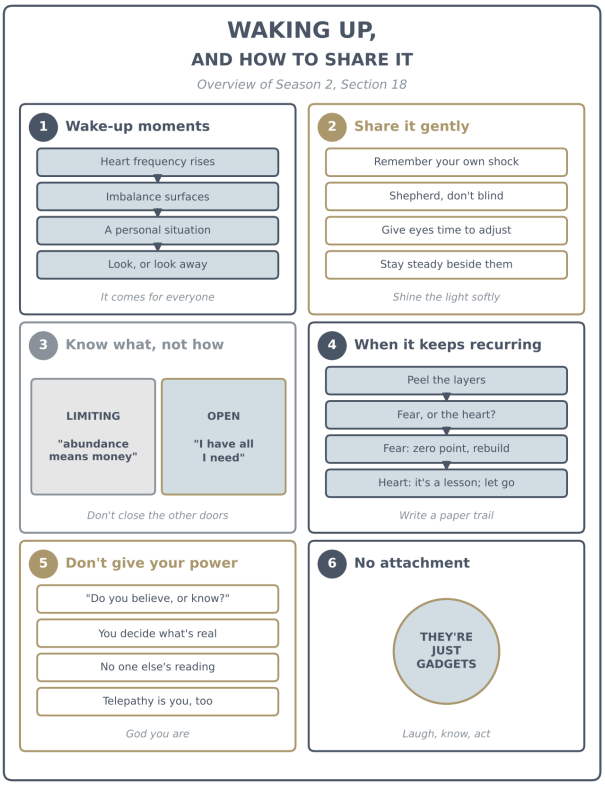

SEASON 2 · SECTION 18

Q & A: Waking Up, and Sharing It Gently

Why wake-up moments come to everyone, how to share hard truths with care, abduction fears and "hyper holograms", the zero point with strong emotions, recurring situations, attachment, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

As consciousness rises into the heart, whatever is off balance surfaces, and everyone, whatever side they're on, will meet a personal situation that wakes them up. At that moment you choose: look into it, or look away. Waking up means seeing clearly first (you can't fly if you don't know there's air), then shifting with the quantum structure. When you share what you've seen, shine the light gently, without blinding anyone. With strong emotions, subside to zero first, then build the new blueprint: know what, never insist on how. When a situation keeps recurring, peel the layers: are you looping through fear, or is it a lesson to let go? And don't give your power away, to objects, to fears, or to anyone's reading.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

18.1 Wake-up moments come to everyone

Parallel realities collapse together when they're similar in vibration, and the result becomes the outcome (see S1 15, S2 13.2). As the planet and universe ascend into the heart, anyone out of balance with it, "even if you're dark forces", will meet something in their personal life that asks: "Wait a minute, am I doing the right thing?" Because everyone is part of the one particle, what you do to another you do to your own reflection.

So don't be surprised by challenges: they show what needs fixing. A friend of fifteen years may suddenly show another face; it's showing you something now. At that moment you choose to look into it or to pull out of it. "You cannot have your head in the sand all the time": eventually an "earthquake" pops it out, which is harder. How would you know you're under water if you'd never heard of the sky?

18.2 Investigate, don't attack

Many people jump on each other online instead of saying "let me investigate that": that, the teacher said, is intelligence. Look at the evidence yourself, without blaming or pointing fingers, because division is what keeps us apart: unite. "The truth can never be controversial": when realities collapse to one probability, that's the manifested timeline. Then shift with the manifestation protocol to a new timeline.

> Note
> The talk again recommended specific online sources and named people and cases. In keeping with this book's approach, these are left out. Check claims against reliable, accountable sources (see S2 11.10).

18.3 Share the light gently

A message read in the talk, and endorsed by the teacher: information may soon come out that causes shock and disbelief. Digging into the worst of it could be heartbreaking. The point is not to dwell in darkness but to remember: when you share, shepherd people gently. Remember how shocking it was for you, how angry or helpless you felt. "Shine the light; just be careful not to blind them with it." Give their eyes time to adjust; your steadiness will help them feel better. If we mean to rebuild society side by side, we need goodwill, especially when someone's whole world view turns upside down.

18.4 A lesson in the body needs action

When there's a lesson, you don't just meditate it away. In physical matter, you know you're okay and, at the same time, act: look for doctors and solutions, ask questions, research. Through that journey you create and find the reality in which you're okay (see S2 14.3). Instant manifestation does happen, more and more, but until then, practise: "you have to create it to see it", not "see it to believe it."

18.5 Abduction fears and "hyper holograms"

The idea of "abduction" was put in our minds to attach fear to contact. Some cases were negative, and some (the talk said) were staged by secret projects that hypnotized people and projected a hologram of abduction. Many real experiences happen on a parallel platform: you shift, and it doesn't stay in your everyday reality; so take it as a dream state, without fear. Information comes bit by bit, as your agreements allow.

"Another level": beings can take someone on board to help or save them and place a reality in their consciousness; the consciousness then creates a parallel reality, a hyper hologram, mimicking the frequency it came from, so the person experiences ordinary life while actually being on a craft. Information like this is given "spoon by spoon", because it only makes sense once you know the structure. So expand your thinking, and don't take any one reading as the whole truth: there may be structures not yet revealed to you. "Study the quantum structure… that is your freedom."

18.6 Strong emotions: subside first

Grief and compassion, or "masculine" and "feminine" feelings, are one unit. Whatever the emotion, pull out and subside it to neutrality, observing (see S2 15.7). It may take time: the teacher once had to remove herself and sit by a pool for 45 minutes to calm down. Then use the manifestation meditation (see S2 16) with a clear idea of what you want, letting go of who, where and how.

Knowing what you want isn't an "expectation": picture the red house, but don't insist on who builds it or where the money comes from. And abundance isn't only money: if you tie it to money, you shut out every other probability (someone may simply give you the car). If a situation repeats, note where your emotions and actions are, and write a paper trail. Gratitude is neutrality.

18.7 Living food has more potency

Dried greens and powders still work, but their vibration is less potent than a living plant's: fresh, raw juice is more potent and heals faster. Herbal healing works best as the right combination of plants, made by an expert for the person. Healing should address the whole system, the whole immune structure, not one spot.

18.8 Sacred geometry unlocks with awareness

Sacred geometry with light opens portals and creates realities; the teacher was told to step back from studying it. New, very complex geometries are coming (geometry within geometry, pulsing and merging, each merge creating a new structure), unlocked as awareness grows. "Your consciousness already knows them." They'll be shown to each person; whatever makes sense in your consciousness is usually the right path.

18.9 Levels, numbers, and your own power

Unlocking a level is like graduating a grade: the next one has its own lessons, and more is given as you complete them. Repeated numbers are the matrix itself, showing where you are (see S2 15.4); each layer of hologram has its own frequency. And when you ask "what did I see?", the answer is: "Do you believe, or do you know?" If you know, you manifested it. Don't hand your power to someone else's interpretation; two people side by side can each live their own reality within the reality.

18.10 Telepathy: it's you, too

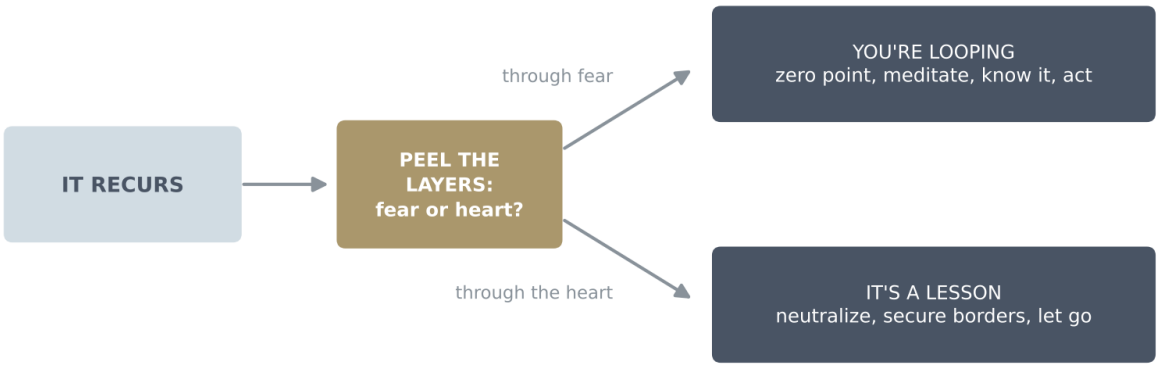

Ultimately, whoever you talk to (guidance, councils, the teacher), you're talking to another version of yourself, imprinting it in your hologram so you can have the experience (see S2 12.5). So don't fret about whether a thought is "yours". If a negative one comes, treat it like a wrong number: "Oh, sorry", give gratitude, put a positive frequency in, and ask again. Above all, no fear: fear lowers your vibration and can connect you with what you don't want.

18.11 Standing your ground, and letting go

If people keep challenging what you believe, stand your ground. Neutralize the situation inside you, then secure your borders (change access, block, end the affiliation) so you don't keep creating holograms with that energy (see S2 7.4). Ascension brings such tests often, frequently around money and greed: talented people who start out wanting to help can be pulled off course.

When something keeps recurring, peel the layers: are you transforming through the quantum, from the heart, or fluctuating through fear? If it's fear, you're looping: return to zero point and rebuild. If you've truly gone through the heart again and again and it still recurs, it's a lesson, and sometimes it means letting go of that person or situation. (The teacher was told: "don't even bother, do not even call.")

When the same situation keeps coming back

Write a paper trail of your emotions and actions: it shows you which one it is.

Fig. S2-18A — When a situation keeps coming back: check whether you're acting from fear or from the heart.

18.12 No attachment to things

When gadgets break one after another and money seems short: "So what? They're just gadgets." Being upset gives a simple object power over your emotion and reality. Laugh, and at the same time know you have everything you need, and take action: try to repair it, look for help, look for work. The missing link is usually doubt: connect the feeling of already having it with the action. Help can come from anywhere (the teacher once received, unexpectedly, the exact sum for a mortgage payment two days before it was due).

For energy philanthropy: a main provider may charge and pay their bills, then give, for example, one day a week freely. If you only ever charge, what crystallizes is the monetary structure alone, and you never let the heart's support come in without conditions (see S1 4.4, S2 12.7).

18.13 Where humanity comes from

Asked whether humans were made in labs: "all of the above". Humanity was made from extraterrestrials through genetic engineering long ago, and later hijacked by negative consciousness that used the human body as an energy source, "like a battery" (a claim). History will be rewritten, and each person will be told their origins by their guidance. But don't judge the negative side: if all a species ever learned to survive was taking over, how could it know better? Consciousness has to preserve itself; that's why the separation is happening now. Genetic engineering itself is "exciting": what matters is how it's used (see S2 12.11).

The method — When It Keeps Coming Back

1. Notice the pattern: the same kind of person or situation, again.
2. Write a paper trail: what happened, what you felt, what you did.
3. Peel the layers: was I acting from the heart and the quantum structure, or fluctuating through fear?
4. If fear: pull out, subside to zero, do the manifestation meditation, know it's resolved, then act.
5. If heart, and it still recurs: it's a lesson. Neutralize, secure your borders, and let it go.
6. Don't attach: laugh at what you can't control, and keep acting from "I have what I need."

Questions answered

Could a cyst at the base of my spine block the kundalini? Could distilled water clear it?

No: "it's more intervention." Deal with it; look into proper care (the word given was chiropractic). See 18.4.

> Note
> Have any cyst or growth assessed by a doctor first, before any manual therapy.

Years ago I dreamed Earth was burning and aliens, presenting as God, took me aboard; I felt safe. Was I abducted?

Not an abduction: see 18.5. It happened on a parallel platform; take it without fear, and more will come bit by bit, as your agreements allow.

I'm coming to terms with something very hard. I feel peace in "there is only now", and I also need to grieve. Is it okay to have both? And how is wanting to change things not an expectation?

See 18.6.

What happens to a water-soluble vitamin when a leaf dries? What are vitamins, really?

See 18.7: the living structure is more potent than the dried one.

What do permanent tattoos, especially sacred geometry, do to the energy body?

See 18.8: sacred geometry can open portals; follow what makes sense in your consciousness.

In a dream, a father figure taught me a movement that made light come from my hand; he said I'd unlocked a level, with eight to go, and showed number codes. Then I saw white orbs and an eye in the sky.

See 18.9: a level unlocked means new lessons. The numbers are the matrix showing your layer. The orbs: "What do you think? Do you believe, or know?" You know: so you manifested it. The codes are designed for you alone.

I watch every word with people so I don't manifest what I don't want. Any advice?

See 18.11: neutralize, stand your ground, secure your borders. A talk on self-worth was announced.

I've been trying to activate my merkaba with spiralling energy. Should I continue?

Yes, with emotion and joy. Your consciousness knows it; create your own. Specific geometries come later, through your own guidance.

My brother's leg hurts; he just takes painkillers. What's going on?

"The answer is your brother needs to go to the doctor", not only to take painkillers; the word given was "stubbornness".

The effects of 5G seem unavoidable. How do we cope?

Shift timelines: know it's already taken care of and that you live in a reality where it isn't harmful; leave how open. Fear keeps reprinting the same thing (see S2 11.1).

> Note
> Health agencies have found no evidence that 5G harms health at normal exposure levels.

Were humans created in labs? Are we hybrids?

See 18.13.

What are the sensations on my crown filtering down my face?

The energy coming through mimics your emotion at that moment: notice what you were thinking. If you feel neutral and something happens anyway, a code in your program has come up to deal with.

Any message for my sister and me?

Nothing came; "don't judge it, and ask again next time."

Why do I see sequential numbers all day?

They show the structure you're in at that moment; associated with objects, they tend to be more permanent (see 18.9).

How does telepathy work? How do I tell my thoughts from others'?

See 18.10.

My partnership has ended and I may not afford my house. I'm scared. Should I move?

A probability shows downsizing, "if you choose to". But watch what you project: if you feel you don't want to stay, situations will come that make you leave. If you want to stay, imagine staying. Not knowing what you want is fluctuating (see S1 3); restudy the first three sections of Season 1, and see 18.11.

I've twice been woken by a loud bell in my bedroom at night. What is it?

Both the fearful and the fearless version are available; which manifests depends on what you hold more. Transform it with gratitude, and more will be revealed.

Since working on old "lack" programs, my appliances keep breaking and my cat needs the vet. I'm laughing. What should I do?

Exactly that, plus action and knowing: see 18.12.

Is it true that work is being done to stop aerial spraying?

"It's already working… don't worry about it." (The sources named are left out.)

The talk's references to online conspiracy sources, a criminal case, a film studio, named individuals and religion, and names of participants are left out. The co-host's written message (18.3) is kept as a teaching.

Remember

- Wake-up moments come to everyone: look, don't look away.
- Share hard truths gently; don't blind anyone with the light.
- Know what you want; leave how, who and where open.
- When it recurs: fear means loop; heart means lesson, so let go.
- Don't give your power to things, fears or other people's readings.

SEASON 2 · SECTION 19

Self-Worth and Giving, Through the Quantum Structure

Why "charge to value yourself" is an illusion, how free giving returns as abundance, free will and the tasks you must complete, a guide to focused manifestation, releasing grief, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

"If you don't charge, you don't value yourself" is called a three-dimensional illusion. In the quantum structure, whoever you give to is another version of yourself: setting a price puts a condition on your own reflection, and conditions come back. Leaving it open, so people support you freely from the heart, builds heart frequency that returns like a boomerang. So "you value yourself the most when you give freely." This is a transition, not a leap: a main provider can charge and pay the bills, then give a day or two. Free will works "to a point": tasks you came to complete will be completed, with guidance nudging you back on track. And grief and old pain can be released, because what happened belongs to another timeline.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

19.1 The illusion: "charge to value yourself"

When you think a thought, your molecule imprints it in the quantum structure and you project another version of yourself (another person) to interact with; between you, a third structure forms (1 + 1 = 3; see S1 2.2). If, into that thought, you put a dollar sign ("I value myself; to get this information, you must pay"), then that condition is imprinted on your own reflection. You are putting a condition on yourself, through another version of you, for information that was given to you freely. "Tell me if this is in the heart."

Charging isn't wrong: it's the three-dimensional structure, and you can make billions that way. But we're moving into the heart structure, where you leave it completely open: let your reflection come to the heart and decide freely whether to support you. Then the exchange, and the third structure it creates, is entirely in the heart, with no condition on manifestation.

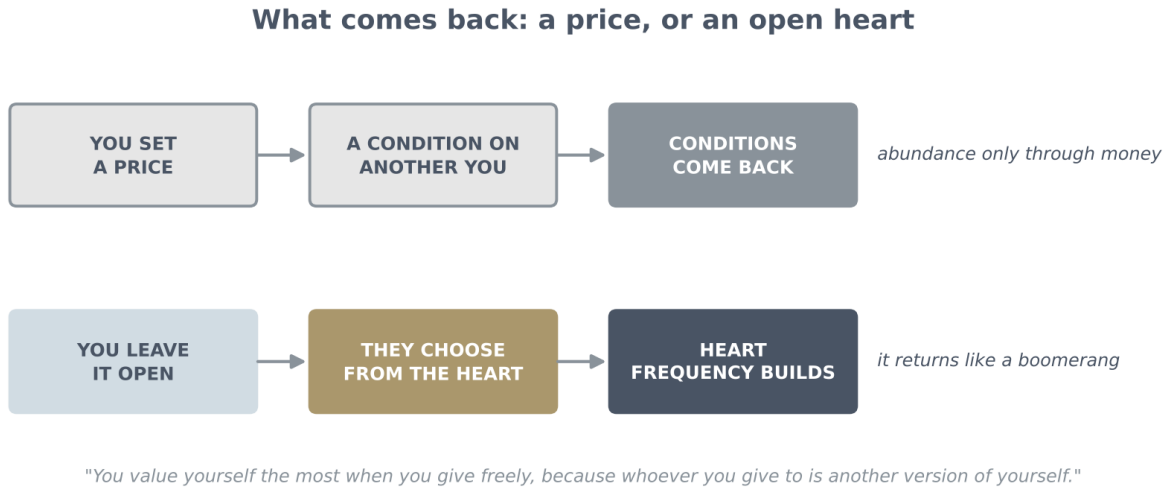

Fig. S2-19A — A price puts a condition on another version of you, and conditions come back; leaving it open lets heart frequency build and return.

19.2 Giving freely returns like a boomerang

Support given from someone's free heart carries a completely different frequency back to you. Do it moment to moment, with joy, and you accumulate heart frequency; the next hologram you shift into is in the heart structure, a new timeline no longer in the conditioned one. "Our job is to accumulate by giving": the more you accumulate, the more potent it becomes, until it pops into full abundance (see S1 4, S2 12.7).

The lesson from the teacher's own week: an urgent call came from a mother with a sick child; busy as she was, she helped fully, asking nothing, in joy. Within half an hour, an unexpected donation arrived that more than covered that time. "You cannot make money on people's suffering." And to be supported, project support: she regularly gives small amounts to others whose work she values.

FROM THE BOOKS DP: "Does it not hurt you when you are in need of help and yet someone is plastering a false price to your suffering?... Be love, be joy, be giving" (see S2 7.7).

19.3 Asking without permission overtakes free will

"Asking for money without a permission is overtaking somebody's consciousness": you don't give them the free will to support you. It comes from a self-illusion of looping, needing something because you don't know how to manifest freely. The council's challenge: "Would you help that human being if you couldn't put a value on it?" If someone has nothing to give and you have the knowledge, how is withholding it valuing them, or yourself? And you're never "depleted" by giving: keep it in neutrality, without rejecting either the person or the money. "When you give from the heart, you preserve your soul" and keep your consciousness in balance.

19.4 In practice: a transition

No one is asked to drop everything as the teacher did (she had constant guidance through it, and it was very hard). If you're the main provider, charge, pay your bills, and then set aside one or two days to help people, just because, so you begin accumulating the frequency of giving. Without the action, you won't see it, because you never projected it.

Use the monetary structure as a step toward what you love: take work that pays while you transition. And don't see professional help as negative: a good lawyer, for instance, knows the system and can guide you; take it as positive, and the reality shifts (see S2 14.3).

19.5 Why this keeps coming up

Because the councils see how often people, including light workers, separate from the heart as they become popular: prices rise, VIP tiers appear, and fame and greed take over what they originally came to do. Some even find they can no longer download information (see S2 12.7). "You value yourself the most when you give freely", and the repetition is for anyone who needs it.

19.6 Free will, and the tasks you must complete

"Free will is a factor, to a point." Moment to moment, you choose your thoughts and emotions, and your fractal imprints change accordingly. But if there is a bylaw, something you came to complete, it is inevitable. If you go off track, your guidance places synchronicities or imprinted situations into your hologram (you meet someone, someone says something, something "smacks you in the side") until you return to the right location. "It's always going to get completed… they won't give up on you" (see S2 10.1).

19.7 Ultimate focus: the instructions for complete manifestation

Instructions the teacher was given for a full manifestation: for a period, consume nothing except what relates to what you want (no social media, no other books or films). Want a garden? Watch only gardening, non-stop. Detox and eat cleanly at the same time, to raise the molecular structure. Check yourself every half hour. This creates a steady vibration that keeps building the next hologram at the same frequency. It's very challenging, because we were taught the opposite: it takes "absolute control of the mind".

How long? Unknown: it depends on desire, emotion and the person (the teacher's own giving took two years before it became "like an avalanche"). But the more you practise and stay in the heart, the quicker it gets, and as you see results, fear falls away because "you literally know". A film about a man who meditated his way into another time shows the same principle.

19.8 Mistakes are part of it

Clearing toxic thinking doesn't always feel heartful, and that can frighten you. "Don't worry if you make errors; it's normal, part of the process. As long as you keep trying, you're always helped." The teacher herself slips with her diet and goes back to it. The challenge is controlling your emotion to stay steady.

19.9 Grief belongs to another timeline

When grief or depression won't lift, it's because you keep reprinting the emotional vibration of a past hologram. The loss happened in a different timeline of Earth, to another version of you; you hold it in memory to stay connected to it. Understanding that it's not happening to you now is itself the release: "You don't need to think of that anymore; you're free" (see S1 14.5).

> Support
> Long-lasting grief or depression is real and treatable. Please talk to a doctor or counsellor, or a grief support group. If you ever have thoughts of ending your life, call or text 988 (US) or your local emergency number.

19.10 Help without carrying the burden

Every interaction is with another version of yourself, so you may help someone in hardship (in prison, say), but don't carry their vibration: "you cannot carry the burden of illusion." Be there for assistance, without depleting yourself. If you keep repeating yourself to someone who doesn't want to hear, you're trying to overtake their belief system. Tell your truth; the right people come, according to your vibration.

19.11 Stay neutral; don't target individuals

Thoughts come all the time; what matters is how you meet them. The teacher once named a specific public figure publicly and, the next day, felt a strong telepathic attack. She stayed in neutrality, observing without fear or judgment (even that consciousness chose its path by free will), apologized, and promised not to name individuals. "You stay in your structure; we stay in ours." At that level, keep the balance, and express love: negative structure cannot sustain itself in a loving vibration.

19.12 Animals, insects and the vibration you carry

Insects (and bees) levitate on magnetic fields and read your frequency: they retaliate when you project fear, and won't attack someone resonating above the ego. Any animal recognizes the frequency of the heart. Eating meat accumulates pain frequency ("don't say you love animals when you eat them"), so transition, step by step (see S2 11.6). Bees keep the resonance around the flowers; their loss reflects a vibration change they couldn't hold, "but the new Earth has plenty of them." And you don't need to spin your body to raise its frequency: the heart, action and diet do that.

The method — Begin Giving Freely

1. Keep paying your bills as you do now; nothing is abandoned.
2. Choose a day or two each week (or a few hours) to help someone with what you know, for free.
3. Give in joy, expecting nothing; no price, no hint of obligation.
4. Leave it open: if anyone wishes to support you, let it be their free choice, and thank every gift.
5. Support others whose work you value, when you can.
6. Stay neutral about money: don't reject it, and don't attach to it.
7. Keep going, moment to moment; the heart frequency accumulates and returns.

Questions answered

We've covered this many times. Why does it keep coming up?

See 19.5. (Several listeners said they needed to hear it again.)

How do destiny, the soul's plan and free will relate?

See 19.6.

What are the consequences of killing insects? And can spinning help regenerate cells?

See 19.12.

Did my co-worker and I share a past life?

Not on this platform, but you were connected through an ET structure, most likely the same family ("something with the blood").

I want to create a collective 5D project on family land. Is my intention right?

"Not tension, but intention": it's already manifesting. A personal message came: connect with the earth, dig, plant; keep that land; it's a sanctuary. You're on the right path.

My grandchild has severe autism; it's hard to feel happy. Please help.

It's embedded in the DNA; more discoveries will come to help the child. Keep the child's life as pure and chemical-free as possible, with a clean diet, and have the child checked for seizures, which can be very small.

> Support
> Families of autistic children deserve support too. A paediatrician or neurologist can assess for seizures, and autism family organizations offer practical help and community.

Where am I on my spiritual journey? Is my planned move right?

A personal message: you've let yourself go and are in depression. "How do you wish us to help you when you don't have the desire to help yourself?" Love is always there; you're blocking it. "Your light is dim… and could be only joy." Stop being lonely: go out, engage, express yourself from the heart; study the quantum structure; and take the action.

> Support
> If you're living with depression, please reach out to a doctor or counsellor; it's treatable, and you don't have to manage it alone.

When I meditate, how do I know I'm connected with my higher self? How do I stop thoughts coming in?

Thoughts always come; learn to meet them (see 19.11 and S2 16.5). Trust is built as guidance proves itself; stay neutral, without fear.

I'm an older light worker. Will I live, in good health, to see the shift?

Stay with this knowledge and you'll keep shifting into Earths where new technologies appear, such as tissue repair by nano and quantum technology and sound. Such technology exists but is withheld for now, so it isn't turned into profit. Self-regeneration comes with diet and detox. "We don't have to die" to shift timelines; the body was designed to mutate and shift physically (a claim; see S2 14.9).

Should I do the full licensing portfolio to work in my profession abroad? How do I get a work visa?

The portfolio: it will take time, but you'll get recognition. Meanwhile, take any work that pays, as a step (see 19.4). For the visa: "immediately, lawyer"; lawyers know the system. Whether you'll need to leave and return isn't settled yet: "it's fluctuating."

My daughter does research with chick embryos. What are the moral implications?

"What do you think you were made from?" It's part of creation and evolution, all part of God consciousness, as long as it isn't used for destruction. What matters in the end is how it's used.

I feel out of alignment with my mortgage and exotic imported food. Should I leave my house?

Don't exclude yourself from society: transition. You can live in the heart within society. If you want to live in nature, find affordable land and an eco home (through lawyers, carefully). But don't jump out of fear, or you project more of it.

Clearing toxic thinking doesn't feel heartful, and I worry. How long should I focus on one manifestation?

See 19.7 and 19.8.

I live near last year's volcanic eruption and keep returning there. Should I stay?

You may stay, but not for long; circumstances will lead you to decide differently. Health-wise, it isn't wise: volcanic ash and gases in the air inflame the lungs.

> Note
> Follow local health advice about air quality near volcanic activity, and see a doctor about breathing symptoms.

If something very negative happens, must we just accept it?

Not passively: it's a lesson, like a hard task at school. Go through it using the quantum structure, and you'll find solutions and a positive outcome (restudy S1 1 to S1 3).

Why is it so hard to finish nursing school? I have two exams left.

"Must complete." You will see darkness and bring light into it; "people like you are needed."

Why can't I let go of grief after losing my parents, and the depression of many years?

See 19.9.

I've moved back in with my mother because of health problems, and it's draining and painful. How do I cope until I leave?

A tug of war; it will be very hard to keep your balance there. "Get a grip", and move forward.

> Support
> If you feel unsafe or are being harmed at home, contact a local support service or helpline; you deserve safety and help.

Is every interaction an interaction with myself? Should I help someone I know in prison?

Yes, and you may help, but see 19.10.

What is killing honeybees, and how can a beekeeper help them?

See 19.12. Look into how bees keep the resonance around flowers.

A political remark, a named author and film, and names of participants and donors are left out. Personal stories are turned into lessons.

Remember

- You value yourself most when you give freely: you give to yourself.
- A price puts a condition on your reflection; conditions return.
- Transition: pay your bills, then give a day or two.
- Tasks you came for will be completed; guidance won't give up.
- Grief belongs to another timeline: you're free to let it go.

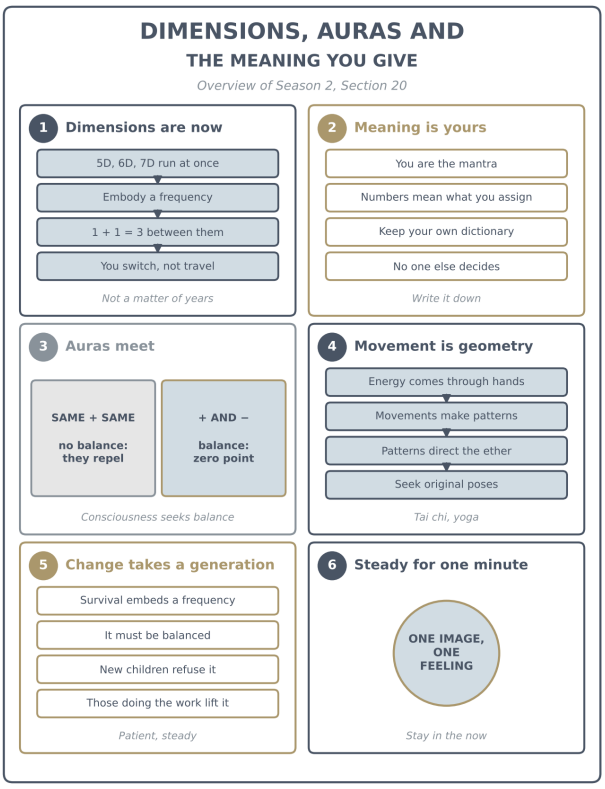

SEASON 2 · SECTION 20

Q & A: Dimensions, Auras and the Meaning You Give

Why higher dimensions aren't a matter of years, the meaning you give to signs, what happens when auras meet, movement as geometry, change across a generation, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

The fifth, sixth and seventh dimensions aren't stages a calendar will bring: they run simultaneously, and you move between them by embodying their frequency, creating a third reality between yours and theirs. Ascension already exists; you're constructing it. Signs, numbers and inner images mean what you assign to them: you are the mantra. When two energy fields meet, a positive and a negative balance into a zero point; two of the same push apart, which is why consciousness, seeking balance, brings whatever is off balance to the surface. Deep change in a society can take a generation, carried by those doing the work and by children born into the new frequency. Through it all, train a steady mind, and help each other.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

> Note
> The talk opened with a survey of countries and regions (which governments are "changing hands", corruption, riots, and claims about particular religions and communities). In keeping with this book's approach to politics and to claims about groups and religions, that survey is left out. The teachings below are kept.

Key teachings

20.1 Dimensions run at the same time

"In which years will we reach 6D and 7D?" It's a misunderstanding: 5D, 6D and 7D, like all timelines, run simultaneously in the quantum hologram. What matters is the state of your consciousness, the frequency and geometry you embody. Your body is a vessel, "like a living spacecraft": as you call in a frequency and become it, moment to moment, more and more potently, you create a third structure between the two (1 + 1 = 3; see S1 2.2). You're not travelling from one reality to another; you're switching timelines by embodying a new frequency. Mastering bilocation, you can shift back and forth, some realities only with permission.

Higher beings do the same: they can appear in a form your consciousness can receive (angelic, Pleiadian), matching your frequency so you recognize them. Contact is individual: you'll have your own platform of contact "while everybody else is watching the sky". "Ascension is fractal", and your ascension already exists; you're constructing it into matter (see S2 9.7).

20.2 Dreams are leaking platforms

Short dream scenes (levitating, for example) are sequences leaking from realities that coexist with this one, giving your consciousness a platform to start embedding new frequencies. There is no real difference between one state and another. Recall the frequency of the dream, and it slowly begins to manifest in matter (see S2 17.9).

20.3 You are the mantra: meaning is yours

Asked about beautiful mosaics seen at night, the answer was a question: why connect your reality with a mantra outside you, when "your reality is a mantra itself"? You projected it, so you already know what it means. "Why are you asking for us to create your platform? You are the master; even we are in your reality." Whatever meaning you choose is what manifests.

So with repeated numbers and signs, assign the meaning yourself rather than borrowing someone else's: the same sequence can mean different things to different people. Build your own dictionary: the teacher has learned from her dreams, for example, that certain colours, clothing or clear versus muddy water tell her what kind of day is coming. Write it down; it's designed for you. Colours and smells are generally significant.

That's also why there are "no predictions": she can read your frequency now, not what you'll do tomorrow, and guidance won't reveal a tragedy you came to learn from. What is given is a bylaw, an end result already "written in a code" (see S2 10.1).

20.4 When two energy fields meet

The aura is your vibrational sequence, projected from your consciousness and emotion into your field; it holds your geometry and resonance. When two people meet, it's a merging of quantum fields, with an enormous effect. A positive and a negative together create balance, a zero point. Two of the same (negative and negative, or positive and positive) push apart like same-pole magnets: there's no balance, and the vibration drops toward density, where manifestation is difficult.

Consciousness, now ascending, does everything it can to restore balance: it creates situations so that whatever is off balance comes to the surface for you to deal with (see S2 18.1). Keep choosing the negative as frequency rises, and timelines separate. A second bylaw applies to love: fields very similar in loving resonance become one unit.

When two energy fields meet

As consciousness seeks balance, whatever is off balance surfaces so it can be dealt with.

Fig. S2-20A — When two energy fields meet: positive and negative balance into a zero point; two of the same push apart.

FROM THE BOOKS SD: "Sub sound, (mirror sound), the opposite (+,-) to complete for perfect balance '0' point."

20.5 Hands, movement and geometry

An electrical zap through the palms in a dream was a higher-self activation, "almost like a walk-in", changing the body's frequency. Hands matter: the first thing you do is touch; through the hands you draw more energy from the ether, in and out. And the movements of the body create geometric patterns: yoga, and especially tai chi, which is based on sacred geometry, redirect the flow of energetic force from the ether into your matrix. Look for the original poses: some have been changed, though they were meant for all of humanity.

20.6 Change can take a generation

When a society is suppressed for a long time, a frequency of survival becomes embedded, sometimes with negative intention (cutting corners, even corruption, can come to seem normal, "even cool"). That frequency has to be balanced and cleared through choosing positive actions. For some places the time given was 20 to 25 years. The real transformation comes through the children: those born from 2020 come from the new beginning and will refuse manipulation ("I'm sorry, this is wrong"), shutting the program down. And through people doing the work now, lifting the frequency (see S2 10.5).

Timelines are portals: think of a radio channel; nothing in a lower vibration can enter. The heart holds the frequency fractally, moment to moment, and more codes are given as you rise, so you don't "spin out of orbit" (see NT on the spinning of particles).

20.7 Painful history: acknowledge, don't relive

When a date tied to a collective tragedy keeps appearing, it's embedded in your consciousness. Acknowledge it, honour and thank those who were lost or who sacrificed, then neutralize it: that happened in a different Earth, a different frequency, and it doesn't have to be part of your structure now. Returning to it again and again brings its frequency back. "Acknowledgement to neutrality"; then move forward, in the now, toward the new beginning.

> Note
> The answer also made claims about the cause of a specific tragedy and comparisons between historical atrocities; these are left out.

20.8 Change from the ground up

Asked about political turmoil: "in the end, it's going to be in the name of the people"; what happens behind the scenes differs from what's shown, and media often confuse. Seeing manipulation helps people wake up and reclaim their sovereignty. "Nobody is going to give it to us": speak out, take action, hold your ground, non-violently, and help others. Change comes from the ground up (see S2 16.4).

20.9 Know it's benevolent

When you begin channelling, don't keep questioning whether it's benevolent from fear: both a positive and a negative connection exist; which one becomes real is the one you embed. Neutralize doubt, smile, and choose. The teacher has seen the most unlikely people turn out to help her. Likewise, a shaman or a spirit-clearer may help if it gives you a physical boost of belief, and you'll find one by acting; but "don't give the power to somebody else to tell you that you have the power: you are it."

20.10 Train a steady mind

Practising the quantum manifestation is how you master the chaos: shift negative emotion to positive and stay there; give and share from the heart, because "the heart has the codes that switch the timelines." A training exercise: hold one image (a photo of someone) with steady positive thought and emotion for one minute, without drifting to tomorrow. Steadiness in the now becomes potent enough to pop into matter. It's normal to go back to the material when you go off balance, and to seek help physically when you need it.

20.11 Help each other

Connect with each other, exchange skills and ideas, and support one another (a doctor helping someone, others helping in return). Many people have no one; build a community of helping, whatever form it takes (see S2 15.11).

The method — One Steady Minute

1. Choose one image: a photo of someone, or a picture of what you want.
2. Calm to zero for a few breaths.
3. Hold the image with a positive thought and a warm feeling, for one full minute.
4. Stay in the now: if your mind jumps to tomorrow or to doubt, gently come back.
5. Notice the steadiness: thought plus emotion is the magnetic and gravitational field.
6. Repeat daily, lengthening the time; steadiness builds potency.

Questions answered

In which years will humanity move to 6D and 7D?

Not years: see 20.1.

I've had short dreams of levitating. Do they mean anything?

See 20.2.

Is there a birthday message for me?

Be more open: you're in a shell, cautious about what you say and afraid to approach new things. "Live your life to the fullest."

I often see intricate mosaics in my mind's eye at night. What are they?

See 20.3: you are the mantra; you assign the meaning.

What impact do auras have when people meet?

"Major, enormous": see 20.4.

I've noticed markings near my ankle and a lumpy area below my elbow. Are aliens probing me?

"No, I don't get the aliens; I get more medical." See a doctor, have blood work and have the lumps tested.

> Note
> New or changing skin marks or lumps should be checked by a doctor promptly; early assessment matters.

In a dream, a spirit (I think mine) entered me like electricity, with a zap through my palms; later, people admired my hands.

See 20.5: a higher-self activation, and a connection with the hands and with energy work.

What is the situation in my country?

See 20.6: in a society long under pressure, transformation can take a generation, led by its children and by people doing the work.

I've seen a date linked to a national tragedy every day for a month. Why?

See 20.7: it's embedded in your consciousness. Acknowledge it, neutralize it, and assign your own useful meaning (see 20.3).

A previous message suggested I see a shaman. How do I find one, and will it help?

See 20.9: you can manifest one by acting, if it helps your belief; but you are the power.

Political turmoil and heavy energy where I live: should I move abroad?

"In the end, it's going to be in the name of the people": see 20.8.

Are the quantum manifestation videos the only way to learn it, and how can every level of me embody it?

When you connect with this, you're connecting with your higher self: the teacher is a projection in your own reality, giving you information from your own structure, because you're ready. Being the frequency projects the hologram, not the other way round (see S2 15.3).

I'm starting a company with two others, and one seems unsure. Should I include him?

Undecided for now: within three months a situation will help you decide ("fluctuating realities").

I've begun channelling what seems to be an advanced group. Any advice?

See 20.9: let go of the mind, and know it's benevolent.

A beam of light from a clear night sky hit us. What was it?

Not allowed to be told yet: "three or more realities on top of it." It's an activation, connected with your belief system.

Does practising quantum manifestation help in a chaotic reality?

Yes: see 20.10.

Are negative attachments only imagination? Do they dissolve when you say "stop"?

For you, it's embedded deeply in your thoughts; someone experienced in clearing negative spirits could help, because it helps your belief system.

Left out, in keeping with this book's approach: the survey of countries and governments, claims about religions and communities, a remark about immigration, comparisons of historical atrocities, a personal political anecdote, and participants' names.

Remember

- Dimensions run at once: embody the frequency to switch.
- You are the mantra: give signs your own meaning.
- Opposites balance into zero point; consciousness seeks balance.
- Movement is geometry; the heart holds the codes.
- Train one steady minute, and help each other.

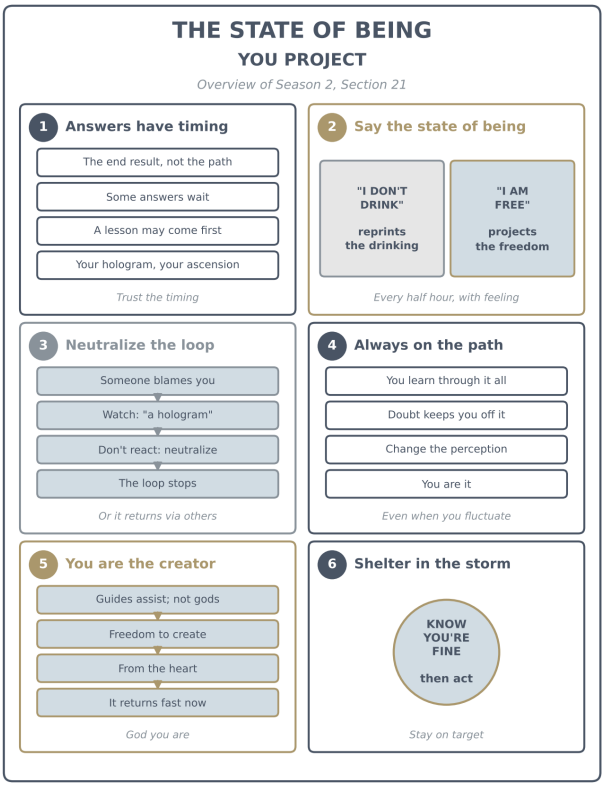

SEASON 2 · SECTION 21

Q & A: The State of Being You Project

Why answers come with timing, a channelled message about children and contact, breaking blame loops, saying the state you want rather than what you reject, you as the creator, and many questions (live talk)

The big idea

Answers come when the timing allows, and always as the end result, never the path. Each person's ascension runs in their own hologram. A long channelled answer spoke of humanity's children: new souls, coming through new portals, who will carry the unity of the new Earth. In daily practice, the key is what you project: when someone blames you, neutralize it, or the same vibration returns through others; and when you speak, state the state of being you want ("I am free", "I am healthy") instead of naming what you reject. You are always on your path; only the belief that you're not keeps you off it. The guides are not gods: "God you are".

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

21.1 Answers come with timing

Sometimes an answer can't be given: it isn't the timing yet (the teacher was not allowed to speak about the HR material for a year), or the person must learn a lesson first, or a situation within months will show them what to do. What is given is always the end result, never the steps in between (see S2 10.1). The planet is ascending anyway, and within it each person's ascension runs on their own platform, according to what they do, think and act on.

21.2 Through a storm: shelter within the lesson

A warning was repeated about flooding on one coastline, with the advice not to go there (a prediction). But don't be afraid: even within a lesson, you'll find what you need. The teacher was once in the middle of a historic storm and found water, food and shelter, a reality within the reality (see S2 15.6). She didn't skip the lesson; she went through it "on target": emotions, thoughts and deeds knowing she was fine, and taking the necessary practical measures. "The end of the world" means the end of the three-dimensional structure, a shift to a new Earth.

> Note
> Follow official weather and emergency guidance where you live or travel; knowing you're fine and taking practical precautions go together.

21.3 A message about the children

Asked when school systems will change, the Council of Nine answered at length: it is already changing. They spoke of great sorrow for the suffering of children on Earth, and said new portals had to open because of it. The souls now coming into human bodies carry a fifth-dimensional frequency and come "in the name of humanity": as they enter, the planet's resonance rises, and outcomes change "wave after wave". Separate religions belonged to the old separation; what's coming is "one religion, which is unity consciousness". Some are called "star children".

The council also spoke about contact in three "platforms": experiences in which people were taken aboard, which they said were done with the person's own higher self to preserve humanity's DNA program; staged "abductions" designed by humans to create fear of extraterrestrials (see S2 18.5); and a third, the mastery: raising your own molecular frequency through diet, the heart and the DNA codes, guided individually, until the body can bilocate through portals. Its order: telepathic contact first, then dietary change, then a change of the heart's frequency. Whatever happens around you, stay in the positive, "to keep the potency".

> Note
> These are channelled claims. Claims in the answer about vaccines altering DNA, and about hidden groups, are not supported by evidence and are left out of the teaching. Vaccines do not change your DNA.

21.4 Break the blame loop

If you were blamed for something you didn't do, and now it keeps happening with others, it's an illusion you're reprinting. "If I blame you now for what your brother did, would you take it seriously? I wasn't there." When it happens, sit and watch: "Very interesting; I understand it's a hologram", and neutralize the frequency (you needn't say it aloud). Your response calls the frequency from the previous reality, so you keep shifting into similar situations, and because probabilities are infinite, the same vibration can arrive through someone else (see S1 2, S1 3).

21.5 You are always on the path

"You are always on the right track, because you're learning through the experiences." Even when you fluctuate (the teacher kept slipping on her diet, and was told: "Look at the action you took"), the journey makes you stronger. The only thing keeping you off your path is the belief that you're not on it: change the perception, and you're on it. Activation can make the body shiver: it's like reaching a new altitude and learning to breathe there. Relax, breathe through it, and keep giving your best; healing begins in the heart, with a clean structure of giving without conditions (see S2 19).

21.6 Say the state of being, not what you reject

For anyone changing a habit (the example was an app for people recovering from addiction): don't say "I don't drink anymore". Naming what you reject keeps its frequency, and it mimics and reprints. State the state of being you want to project, in the present, as "I am": "I am healthy", "I drink juices", "I am free". Repeat it every half hour, and feel it as you say it: "repetition, here's your potency". Avoid even the word for the problem. The person must know they have the power (see S2 2.4, S2 2.8).

Further design guidance: no reds; let each person choose their own soothing colour, because a colour resonates with a particular consciousness (the teacher's is a soft grey-blue); and for voice or music, tune to 432 Hz.

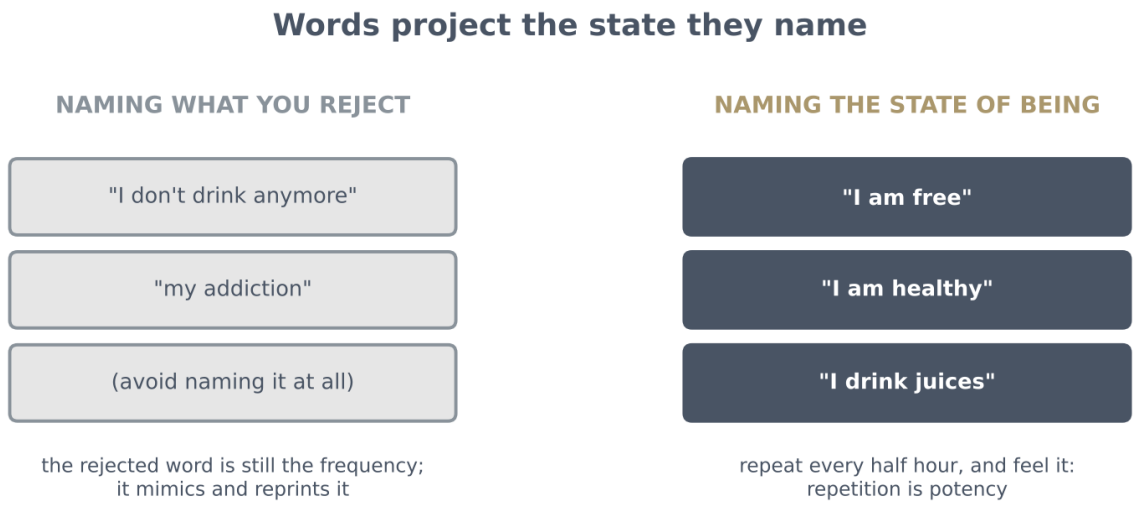

Fig. S2-21A — Name the state of being you want, not what you reject.

Support

Addiction is a medical condition; affirmations can support recovery alongside professional treatment and support groups, not replace them.

21.7 Names carry sound, but meaning is yours

A name has a sonic vibration and can carry associations from how it has been used; fear, for example, can pass from a parent to a child as a carried frequency. But the meaning of a word is given through your own perspective. Neutralize it, accept that this is what it was, and choose to change it: study the protocol, and you can switch the program (see S2 20.3).

21.8 You are the creator

"Let's see what reality you're going to create." The guidance won't decide your reality for you: you have the knowledge and the freedom; create what you wish from the heart. Even choosing otherwise is still creation, but now everything returns quickly, like a boomerang. "They are not our gods; they are assisting": "God you are", and "even we are our own expression." They are always communicating, and anything you're doing now is a projection you made: "create, don't stop creating."

21.9 Protect your project

When invited into a promising venture: stay alert, as people's approaches can fluctuate. Don't do anything without a contract; use an independent lawyer, not one on the other side; don't give everything away at once; release information slowly. Many start with big ideas and, along the way, become greedy (see S2 19.5).

21.10 Earthquakes and the Earth's fluid

Asked about shifting plates, the guidance said fossil "fuel" isn't what we're told: it is like the blood in the Earth's veins, a fluid that lets tectonic plates slide smoothly past each other, "like oil", so there are no earthquakes. More earthquakes may come, but "they could be stopped; you have the technology" (claims).

FROM THE BOOKS SD gives a method to "Subside Earthquakes with Hz": measure the frequency of the landmasses and "stay steady to '0' point", so the earthquake subsides; "you can also develop a machine like that."

21.11 Entering another reality in a dream

Yes, you can experience someone else's reality. Lucid, the teacher focused, opened a portal with her thoughts, and found herself in another being's body (an extraterrestrial man), flying a craft toward her galactic family, until she was sent back: "you are not allowed to be there" (see S2 17.9). She didn't overtake him; it was a knowing that she was there with him. But remember, that "could be another version of you."

The method — Affirm the State of Being

1. Choose the state you want, in the present: "I am healthy", "I am free".
2. Leave out the problem word entirely, and any "don't" or "no more".
3. Say it as "I am", about yourself, not as an instruction to others.
4. Feel it as you say it: the feeling is the frequency.
5. Repeat every half hour: set a reminder.
6. Surround it with what soothes you: your colour, gentle sound (see 21.6).

Questions answered

Will our school systems change, so children get the education they deserve?

Yes, it's already changing: see 21.3.

For a year I've seen a sun-coloured fluid moving along my lower eyelids; once my eye pulsed for hours. What is it?

It was read as related to the retina ("almost like a twitching"), with bacteria involved.

> Safety note
> Moving lights, flashes or pulsing in your vision can signal a retinal problem. See an eye doctor promptly, urgently if it's sudden or increasing.

I have palpitations and stabbing chest pains; tests were near-normal, but my blood pressure is higher. Is it energy? And I wake up often and feel exhausted.

A nutritional doctor, a detox and blood work, under a doctor's supervision. For the exhaustion: check the thyroid, including for nodules.

> Safety note
> Chest pain can be serious. Seek emergency care for chest pain with breathlessness, sweating, or pain spreading to the arm or jaw; otherwise follow up with your doctor about the palpitations and blood pressure.

I lost a small, high-frequency green glass object; I feel it's in another version of my room. Where is it?

"You won't find it": for now, it's not at your vibration.

My brother blamed me for something he did, and now it keeps happening with others. How do I stop it?

See 21.4.

What about a "philanthropic bank" planning to release large sums through cryptocurrency?

"You need to wait": the only answer given.

> Note
> Be very cautious with offers of large "releases" of money through cryptocurrency; they are a common form of fraud.

My life has been upside down for years and I keep starting over. Am I on the right path?

See 21.5: you are; the belief that you're not keeps you off it. (A more specific question gets a more specific answer.)

I'm building a business on energy philanthropy and a home for my family. Am I on track?

"You are always on the right track": the experience is making you a master.

I feel I'm here to heal, and my body shivered in meditation. What kind of healing?

See 21.5: healing starts in the heart; the shivering is activation, a new altitude.

Should I add fulvic trace minerals to my distilled water?

It would change the water's structure: leave distilled water pure to do its work (see S2 17.7).

Any diet or detox advice? I feel I should fast.

Always with supervision: blood work and allergy tests, and a nutritional doctor. Follow the gradual protocol, step by step, with distilled water and two-week eliminations; don't rush. "Do not mix fruits and vegetables: they will ferment."

I live near a fault zone. Any information about the plates there?

See 21.10. (Follow local earthquake-preparedness advice.)

I'm passionate about group contact practices and have seen craft respond. Is this encouraged?

Yours was more like contact in a dream state. "Where do you think all these ideas came from?" Your work with energy devices: keep going; look into particles and percentages, which give a different spin: "homework".

My mother is afraid of everything, and I've picked up her fear. Why?

See 21.7: a frequency passed from mother to son. Nothing major: study the protocol, and you'll switch it.

I've had shoulder-blade pain near the spine for years; X-rays were normal, and therapy hasn't helped.

Read as pinched, with missing fluid and cartilage needing rebuilding; physical therapy eases the pain but doesn't resolve it. Look into professional help to rebuild cartilage and collagen; pain and numbness may run down the back of the leg.

> Note
> Persistent back pain with numbness down the leg should be assessed by a doctor or spine specialist; ask about further imaging.

Should I launch my course? Do people need it?

"Let's see what reality you're going to create": see 21.8.

I'm building a mobile app to help people with addiction. Any insights?

See 21.6.

Can your books be bought in print?

No: they were kept original and free to download. Volunteers have translated them; support is welcome, never required.

I've been invited into a new biotechnology project. Is the person trustworthy?

So far he's okay toward you, but see 21.9.

I've had muscle pain for 20 years despite diet and herbs. What am I missing?

Read as muscle tissue that doesn't retract, too little fluid, and fluctuating blood sugar: lots of water, green juices, wild greens, magnesium and zinc; avoid spices, much citrus and sweets; herbal help to rebuild tissue. (See a doctor for a diagnosis, and check supplements with them.)

What about higher-frequency intergalactic relationships?

"We always communicate": see 21.8.

What do you think of another well-known channelled teaching?

Everyone has their own mission; it seems on target, more simply explained. Whether a teacher stays in the heart is up to them: "follow the money."

Will my future be in health and healing, or education?

"Both: they're connected." Study the quantum material from the first section, without skipping.

What about my learning hypnotherapy?

It reaches the deeper subconscious; it was used for manipulation, and that must be reversed. "People like you are part of the new beginning." Work at deeper states, and you'll connect with your guides too.

In dreams, I live scenarios with others I'd never have imagined. Do we experience others' realities?

Yes: see 21.11.

How can I improve my health?

"Diet, diet and relaxation." Relaxing music; valerian, from an herbalist, to calm the body; detox with distilled water. (Valerian can interact with other medicines: check with a pharmacist. Claims in the answer about vaccines and food are left out.)

A proclamation from another author's book, read at the close, isn't reproduced. Outside sources, names and a predicted location are left out or generalized.

Remember

- Answers come with timing, always as the end result.
- When blamed, watch and neutralize, or it returns through others.
- Say the state of being you want: "I am", every half hour, felt.
- You are always on your path; doubt is what pulls you off.
- You are the creator; the guides assist.

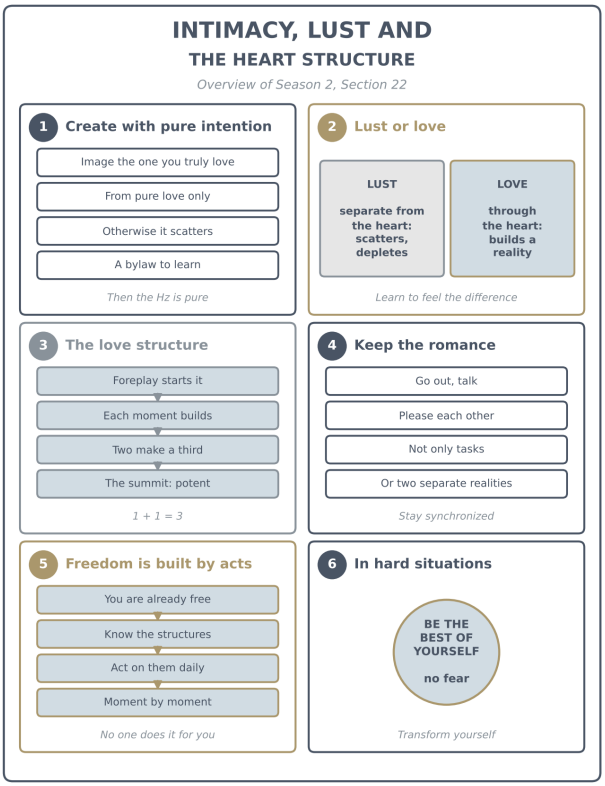

SEASON 2 · SECTION 22

Intimacy, Lust and the Heart Structure

A new download on intimacy, self-pleasure and lust; why romance keeps a couple's reality potent; separating honestly; freedom built by acts; and many questions (live talk)

The big idea

Sexual energy is creative energy, and it follows the same bylaw as everything else: create with pure intention. When intimacy comes through the heart, with the being you truly love, it builds a structure: two fields make a third, and at the summit the energy is potent enough to manifest the next reality. Lust is separated from the heart: its energy scatters across the matrix, builds nothing and slowly depletes you, which is why it ends in emptiness. A couple who stop the romance and only perform tasks become two separate, fluctuating structures. And in every situation, freedom isn't given to you: you construct it by your acts, moment by moment.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

22.1 Downloads follow what the collective understands

Information comes as a group learns. When the first quantum-structure talk wasn't understood, the next download explained the zero point and mobilizing structures, and then it clicked (see S1 1, S1 2). This download came unexpectedly, while reading, and it was given in their own wording, "a little bit twisted". Some structures the teacher is being shown now are beyond what she can explain, and she won't teach them until she has achieved and can show them: "I was taught quantum manifestation from scratch", so no one can tell her it's impossible. The teaching here is that we've been shown intimacy in a way that separates it from the heart (through films, books, social media and TV), and so loops us into artificial structures.

> Safety note
> The teacher mentioned that her next protocol involves an extreme diet close to living without food. Do not attempt this: going without food is dangerous and can be fatal. Any change of diet belongs under a doctor's supervision.

22.2 Self-pleasure: only with pure intention

Self-pleasure should be engaged with pure intention, with the being you truly love; then the frequency is pure. Used only as a release, the energy has no intention and no cause: it becomes artificial, does not fulfil you, and depletes you, because nothing returns as a manifestation. So whatever you imagine, let the image be of the being you truly love. If not, the energy scatters without potency and never becomes a targeted frequency that grows into a reality hologram, and you'll find it hard to manifest a person who truly loves you. "When you create, create with pure intention. It is a bylaw you all must learn."

FROM THE BOOKS DP records this download almost word for word under "Intimacy And Self Pleasuring / Lust": "In order for the structure to be precise it must come from pure love and only love."

22.3 Lust is emptiness

"Lust is emptiness, and it will never manifest your love." It loops the same energy you keep projecting, never satisfies, and can lead into a downward spiral of ever emptier self-indulgent acts "that eventually may finish you". The body's and the brain's reaction "has nothing to do with the purity of your heart love structure": you must learn to see and feel the difference (see also S1 3.8). This isn't a judgement of pleasure ("that doesn't mean it's wrong"); it's that lust is a different structure.

22.4 Two structures: love builds, lust scatters

The love structure. It begins with foreplay, which is fractal: talking, enjoying each other, for example over dinner. Each moment is a parallel reality building a potent frequency (see S1 2.7). Feeling goosebumps when you talk is the sign of that energetic field. In lovemaking, his structure and hers create a third structure (see S1 2.2, 1 + 1 = 3). At the summit, the combination of the magnetic and gravitational fields is so potent that the moment can manifest much of what you want, and it projects the next reality: you stay a strong family whatever you go through.

The lust structure. Attraction to the body alone ("oh my god, he's gorgeous") never develops the frequency connected to the heart, so it is artificial, even when it feels potent. Its energy at the summit doesn't go into a structure: it scatters all over the matrix. Repeated, it accumulates in scattered sequences and depletes the heart structure. That is why people with many partners, even attractive or successful ones, can feel blank, unhappy and unable to find the right person: they never projected a heart frequency into their hologram to find someone who truly loves them. In her picture: love goes through the heart to the 5D platform; lust stays in 3D.

22.5 Keep the romance alive

Couples should never stop loving and respecting each other, and should keep the romance going: go out, talk, learn to please each other, say something pleasurable to each other. Without it, the marriage becomes tasks (kids, work, bills) performed by two people who no longer connect; the family's base is only "collective energy", and the platform of the reality you were creating together becomes "non-existent". Then the two become separate structures that fluctuate, one going up as the other goes down, never synchronizing, and "this is how we end up in divorce, how you end up looking for somebody else". When you keep making love with passion, the structures rebuild over and over, and the frequency of that reality stays potent. Life can be spiced up between the two of you; it doesn't have to be anything extreme.

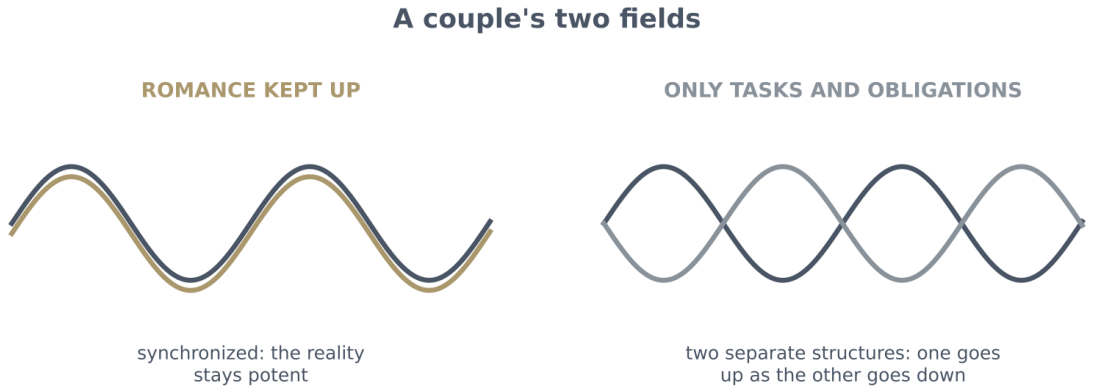

Fig. S2-22B — Romance keeps two fields synchronized; tasks alone leave two fluctuating structures.

22.6 Falling in love with someone else

If feelings fade in a long marriage and you fall in love with another being, then for it to be pure and to manifest, that other being must love you in equal amount. Whether to stay or move on depends on the individual situation: children, obligations and more. If the love is pure on both sides, it creates a potent energy that, with guidance, through platforms, agreements and parallel realities, will manifest; at this level it must be true purity, or it won't work. If you stay in an unhappy marriage for the children or other obligations, revisit what is truly important (children, family) and whether there is abuse; this is decided individually, with the higher councils (see S1 1.8). Keep gratitude to your family: many leave for the rush of a new feeling and hurt children and a partner who may still love them.

FROM THE BOOKS DP gives both questions and the council's answers in the same words, adding that you print everyone into your own hologram and matrix.

22.7 Books and films: put the one you love in the picture

A romantic or erotic story can make the energy shatter if your heart goes to the character. Instead, imagine the main character as the person you truly love. Switching that in your mind sets your blueprint on the heart structure; this is how you switch. It applies to imagination only: it doesn't mean being with one person while thinking of another, which is a physical act and a completely different energetic field.

22.8 A marriage built on the heart, and an honest parting

A marriage built on money has a weak base: when challenges come, the partner who married for money won't fight for it, and everyone gets hurt, collecting karma that passes to the children. A marriage built on true love can always find bridges: talk, reconnect, go to counselling if you must, and keep the heart frequency up. It's a lesson, and if you collapse with it, you'll keep repeating it (see S1 1.5).

If you no longer love the person, discuss it and separate as friends, not as enemies: "we'll be great parents and best friends". Honesty makes it pure, and there is no harm done. Staying while you don't love the person, and lying or acting out from boredom, is deception and a completely different structure. Much of what keeps people in marriages is the contract structure of society; imagine a caring society where housing, food and work were no longer at stake: marriage would no longer be a contract to feel obliged by.

22.9 You are already a master

"You are a master already": you manifest every day, projecting your hologram even now; the limitation is only your own perspective. What makes it hard is how deeply the wrong idea of structure is embedded: the brain needs time to crystallize a new concept that's the opposite of what we were told. Bilocating the whole body into another reality is possible, but it needs the protocol of mastery: diet, conscious contact with your guidance, and a lighter molecular structure that takes in more frequency (see S2 4, S2 21.3).

> FROM THE BOOKS SD: to "become a multidimensional body vessel" you increase the body's molecular vibration, and "then you can easily connect with full memory" of less dense realities.

22.10 Freedom is constructed by your acts

Asked about the planets and humanity's development, the council said the structures are individual. Many platforms promote fear and self-indulgence; choosing those media inflicts holographic imprints you then reprint daily (see S1 9.9). "You never understood that you are already free." You can create a new Earth, but only by knowing the structures and projecting them daily by your acts: "you cannot simply wait for somebody else to do your freedom." Action creates the potency that shifts you, and the planet is already ascended: you're experiencing it moment by moment, and through that fractal momentum you become a master of creation.

> FROM THE BOOKS DP: "As you expand your multi-dimensional understanding so is your personal holographic expression and the people that are able to exist on it."

22.11 In chaos, be the best of yourself

For anyone in a hard or chaotic situation: observe, and when a situation presents itself, be the best of yourself in the name of humanity. Hold a knowing with no fear, and you'll be shown the bridge to safety: food, help and a positive outcome. Train your consciousness to see that you are in a hologram, a game in which you are the main character and can open doors. Whatever you do in this moment is what you project into the next: "this is a quantum bylaw." Fear is a stronger vibration than joy and creates more of the same: "to escape the forest, you end up in a forest" (see S2 15.2, S2 15.6).

22.12 Releasing a lingering connection

After a deep relationship ends, you may still feel the person. There are two modalities. If the love was mutual and you separated because of obligations, the other person can tune their frequency toward you, and you can feel it. If it isn't returned, you are re-projecting your own frequency because you loved so much: an illusion you keep looping. To stop it: pull yourself away emotionally, pull out and call it a hologram, give gratitude, calm yourself completely in that understanding, then act on it and change your emotion, until you're no longer looping and are free of the pain (see S1 7). It's challenging and takes time, especially if you really loved the person.

22.13 A wise person transforms themselves

In a family conflict: "A wise man does not fight with evil; a wise man transforms himself." You cannot change them; change yourself. It's a lesson: pass through it and don't let it pull you down. There is nobody outside you; this is your hologram (see S2 9.6). Protect the vulnerable from being drawn in, and make your own decision.

The method — Keep the Heart in Intimacy

1. Know the difference: notice whether you're moved by the heart or by the body alone (22.3).
2. Build it before: go out, talk, enjoy each other; foreplay begins the structure (22.4).
3. Keep the romance in a long relationship: please each other, not only tasks (22.5).
4. Imagine only the one you truly love, alone or with a story or film (22.2, 22.7).
5. At the summit, feel love and joy: that is the frequency you project.
6. If love has ended, say so honestly, and part as friends (22.8).

Questions answered

What does the council say about twin flames?

"Twin flame" is an Earth word, not significant to them. You can fall in love here and continue through timelines with that person, but only by agreement: if you truly love each other and both decide to continue, that is made with your guidance and the councils, never alone. With your guidance, it may become another lifetime together.

Is the twin flame really your higher self, manifesting as a partner when you're aligned?

Through the quantum structure, yes: you created another version of yourself in your holographic imprint. If you meet someone you projected and love, you can make a contract to share another timeline; call that a twin flame if you like.

Is it okay to be intimate with my husband out of compassion, though I no longer care for it?

It becomes more like lust energy: not connected with the heart. You could hold the image of him when you were younger and connected, but that's challenging. Better: reconnect physically, through foreplay and conversation, to get back to that momentum (22.5).

> Note
> No one should feel obliged to be intimate. If you feel pressured or unsafe, talk with a counsellor or a trusted person (see the support box below).

Can a single person use the energy of self-pleasure to attract someone, or for manifestation in general?

Yes, very much so: you reach very high levels, and there's nothing wrong with it for a man or a woman. At the summit, make the whole blueprint the person you desire, whatever kind of person that is, and feel that you love them: express love and joy (22.2).

Does intimacy create a new reality the couple shares afterward, like going for a coffee?

Yes: loving each other and reaching the summit builds potent frequency, a new reality to shift into, built on joy and the heart, with positive outcomes. That's why it's worth working on a marriage (22.8).

Are dematerialization, rematerialization and shapeshifting the third mastery? Is it time travel? Any limits?

See 22.9: you are already a master, and the limitation is your perspective; bilocation needs the protocol of mastery. Everything is possible: "this is just the beginning."

I feel completely stalled. How do I get momentum back? And my durations for energizing distilled water?

Individual durations for the three frequencies were given (they are personal, so not reproduced). You've closed yourself off like a loner: come out more. Closing up shuts down your programs and the probabilities for expansion. Resting to regenerate is one thing; withdrawing as rejection and separation is another. Engaging and giving make a huge difference (see S1 5.1).

Why am I so extremely tired and exhausted these last months?

Check the thyroid (read as slightly enlarged). Rest; mountains and fresh air, more oxygen. The legs were read as throbbing veins with pain behind the knee, and compression of the lower back with a limp on one side: walking, stretching, yoga, and ballet-style stretching and body-sculpting workouts for the ligaments.

> Safety note
> Lasting exhaustion should be checked by a doctor, including thyroid blood tests. Pain, swelling, warmth or redness in the calf or behind the knee can be a blood clot: seek medical care promptly.

Is hydrogen water beneficial?

"It may not be what you need": it doesn't collect the molecules into place but scatters them. Let it be distilled (see S2 17).

I've been in a downward spiral since an accident and a lost relationship, with urges to self-harm. Will I have a chance at something good again?

A private conversation was offered. (For general guidance on releasing a lost connection, see 22.12.)

> Support
> If you have thoughts of hurting yourself, please reach out now. In the US, call or text 988 (Suicide and Crisis Lifeline); elsewhere, contact your local emergency number or crisis line. You deserve support.

What do the planets' changes mean for our development as a species?

See 22.10: freedom is constructed by your acts.

I'm divorcing a manipulative partner after 30 years. He's offered an unfair settlement. Should I take it and go?

The divorce was read as nasty and manipulative, and he will continue that way: "be clever with the clever". "No money can be compared with freedom." And: "Are you asking for fairness from a person who is not fair to you?" The decision is yours.

> Support
> This is not legal advice: take advice from your own independent family lawyer before accepting any settlement. If a partner is frightening, controlling or harming you, in the US contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline, 1-800-799-7233 (or text START to 88788); elsewhere, a local domestic-abuse service.

How should I respond to growing unrest where I live, so my family stays at peace?

See 22.11: observe, be the best of yourself, hold knowing without fear; study the quantum structure from S1 1–3. (A prediction about the region is left out.)

Should I keep water in a copper container? (And something about not eating aubergines.)

"Copper is good"; copper singing bowls are a good way to energize water. The aubergine question wasn't answered.

> Note
> Don't store acidic drinks in unlined copper, and don't keep water in it for long periods; too much copper can upset the stomach.

Where should I start my product business when I return to my home country?

Read individually: not the comfort zone the person named, but a more dynamic city.

In sleep I interact with a royal family and observe others' lives. Am I slipping across quantum fields?

It was read as a connection with royal lineage, three to seven generations back, which is why the dream state connects there; scenes of separation and loss were seen in that line.

Is now a good time to expand distribution of our non-toxic mould-remediation product?

Within three months you'll understand more about whom to approach. Don't wait for the three months: door after door, relentlessly. That builds the reality for the opportunity; it's the hide-and-seek game (see S1 1.7).

I wake every morning with jaw pain from grinding my teeth. What am I doing in the dream world?

Not connected with the dream world: it was read as connected with a parasite. Detox with herbalism, and find a proper doctor for deworming or flushing the body. (Given as not medical advice.)

> Safety note
> Teeth grinding is commonly linked to stress, sleep problems or bite issues: see a dentist (a night guard protects the teeth) or a doctor. Don't treat yourself for parasites without testing and a doctor's advice.

Between sleep and waking I left my body and a voice told me to go back. Was it not the time, or was I trying to escape home? And lately my brain feels quiet, as if I'm left alone.

"A little bit of both." When you aren't allowed through certain structures, you're put right back: it feels like an invisible, bubble-like barrier (see S2 21.11). The quiet means the work is done for now. "You're never forgotten": they're always present.

In a multidimensional experience, another version of me handed me a mirror. What race was I?

A channelled answer from beings of crystal and light: he comes from a multidimensional home planet of crystal structures and layered realities, and knows how to live that way but has forgotten how to return, so contact comes in dream states. "It's easy for us to connect with you, but difficult for you to understand your home planet. You are multidimensional."

What will education look like for our youth, and what will best serve them?

Children are coming as a spark of fifth-dimensional frequency: "your children have a very bright future". They won't agree with neglect, separation or the taking over of consciousness; they know what to do, because it's embedded in them. "Your children are the new beginning" (see S2 21.3).

My father-in-law was diagnosed with cancer and told nothing can be done. Is there anything?

The answer named an outside product, which is left out.

> Warning
> The product referred to ("MMS") is a bleach (chlorine dioxide). It is dangerous to drink and does not treat cancer. Stay with his oncology and palliative team, who can also help with comfort and quality of life.

I want to add to my name to change my vibration, but I can't hear my guides. Can you advise?

"You are very confused, and we cannot help you if you don't let go": of fears, family situations and money matters, the past situations still looping back and forth.

I ended a serious relationship but still feel connected, as if I can feel the person. Did I make a mistake? How do I cut it, and how do I know my intentions are pure, not just lust?

No mistake. See 22.12 for the two modalities and how to release it; for pure versus lustful, see 22.3–22.4.

My father passed away last year and the family is torn over money. Should I walk away for peace, or fight?

A personal message from the father was given. The answer: "A wise man does not fight with evil; a wise man transforms himself" (22.13). Protect your mother from being drawn in. It's a lesson, so don't let it pull you down: change yourself, not them. Pulling away was heard, but it is your own decision.

Support

Grief and family conflict together are heavy. A grief counsellor or support group can help; if you feel unable to cope, reach out to your doctor or a crisis line (988 in the US).

Left out: participants' and donors' names, named outside people, books, films and videos, a planet name, a political prediction about one region, and personal numbers.

Remember

- Create with pure intention: from the heart, with the one you truly love.
- Love builds a third structure; lust scatters and depletes.
- Keep the romance, or a couple becomes two separate realities.
- If love has ended, part honestly, as friends.
- Freedom is built by your acts; in hard times, be the best of yourself.

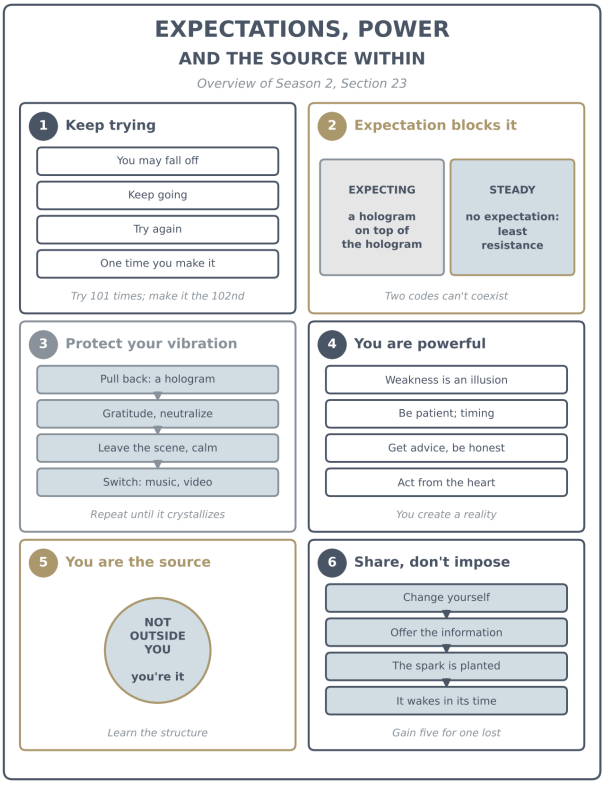

SEASON 2 · SECTION 23

Q & A: Expectations, Power and the Source Within

Keeping going, researching for yourself, your own power, protecting your vibration, why expectations block manifestation, individual and collective ascension, sharing without imposing, a nanotechnology exchange, and many questions (live talk)

The big idea

You are more powerful than you think: weakness is an illusion, because you are creating a whole reality. The source is not outside you, so once you learn the structure you don't need anyone to connect you. What blocks manifestation is often expectation: it runs a second hologram on top of the one that's manifesting, and two codes of different resonance can't coexist. When other people's moods pull you down, train yourself back with repetition until the new state crystallizes. Your ascension is individual within the collective, and the heart holds the codes that shift timelines. Share what you know, but don't impose it: the spark wakes in its own time.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

23.1 Keep going, even when you fall off

The teacher admitted she hasn't kept to her protocol: she does well for a few days, then an event comes and she slips. She says this so you know it isn't easy, and that falling off is part of it: "As long as you continue and as long as you try, you may try 101 times, and I guarantee the 102nd time you'll make it" (see S2 21.5).

> Safety note
> The protocol she describes is a water-only fast. Do not attempt this: prolonged fasting is dangerous and can be fatal. Any change of diet belongs under a doctor's supervision.

23.2 Do your own research, then act

"Don't even trust me: do your own research", and your higher self will recognize what is right. Don't take a narrative blindly from any single source; look widely and check for yourself. Awakening spreads by sharing information, and "you cannot switch your timeline if you only think about the goodness without taking action to create the goodness." Action in unity is more potent: it changes the collective in your hologram, not only you. "Once you awaken, nobody can control you."

> Note
> This talk included political predictions and commentary about named politicians, parties and countries, and claims that spraying from aircraft carries DNA-altering nanoparticles. These are left out: the book stays neutral on politics, and the health claims are not supported by evidence.

23.3 A currency change: don't panic

There is no update on a currency reset for a while: certain systems need to collapse first, but it will be a smooth transition. Don't panic and move money around; she was never taught to do that. With crypto offers, be cautious: there may be conditions, such as funds locked for a year and withdrawals only through a particular brokerage. Don't invest large sums blindly; a little, if you wish, kept in the positive (see S2 6.6).

> Note
> This is not financial advice. Be wary of any offer that promises big returns or restricts withdrawals.

23.4 You are not weak: fight for your freedom from the heart

"Be clever with the clever" (see S2 22) means: analyze the entire situation and approach it with care. Learn patience: things work when done at the right time (she once had to stay silent about what she knew for a whole year). Get advice from people you trust, explain the situation with complete honesty, and don't feel bad about fighting for your freedom: if you do it through the heart, to protect yourself and your family, "you're not killing anyone." Sometimes that means legal steps, taken firmly and with integrity. Being gentle doesn't mean being weak.

"It's an illusion that you are weak." Power is a state of being you embed (see S2 21.6): educate yourself, read, talk, take the power, then act on what you've gathered. People who use strength negatively take advantage of those who believe they're weak. "If you were not powerful, you would not even create a reality" (see S2 5.8).

23.5 How much DNA can we activate?

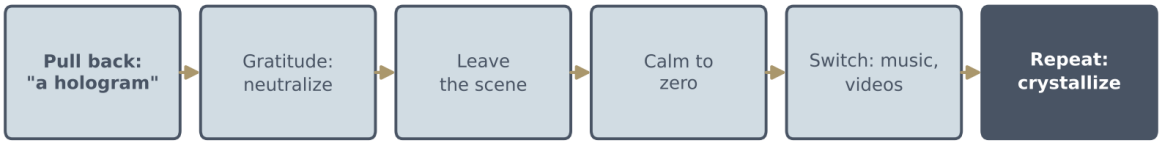

Realistically, in this timeline, through ascension: up to 30%, not all of us have reached it yet, and it isn't exactly 30%. That includes shifting realities and creating new structures, for example meeting a being from a higher dimension in a third reality created between your structure and theirs (see S2 4.8). It's an individual process: each person creates their own timeline and ascension.

23.6 Protecting your vibration around others' moods

Your emotions are a resonant frequency, and you only fall into another person's anger because you take that reality for real. So: pull back and see it as a hologram; give gratitude to neutralize the cold hologram you're interacting with; remove yourself from the scene; calm down completely, to zero; then switch your thoughts and actions, even if you don't want to, with uplifting videos or music. Set a reminder every half hour for a couple of days. Repetition crystallizes the new resonance: new neurons sync and build a bridge, the axon, "like a growing tree's branches", until it becomes permanent and easy (see S1 1–3, S1 7).

FROM THE BOOKS DP: "Repetition, repetition, repetition in order to crystallize the new structure of energetic fields that will build the new synopsis - the new bridges between the axons of the brain."

When someone's anger pulls you down reminder every half hour, for several days: repetition builds the new bridges in the brain

Fig. S2-23B — Bringing yourself back when someone's mood pulls you down.

23.7 You are the source

If you try to connect with the source each morning and it doesn't seem to work, it's because you're looking outside yourself. "The truth is that you are the source." Look within, at the mechanics and alchemy of your own creation, and it switches "like a light bulb": you realize you don't need teachers like her. Our energy was used to build artificial timelines, and now it's time to wake up: once you have the knowledge, "you're it."

FROM THE BOOKS SD: "You are the source and you are the prime creator."

23.8 Expectations block manifestation

Why can you see new, higher versions of others but not yet of yourself? Because you have expectations. Probabilities are infinite, and while you're learning, successive holograms are so similar you hardly notice the change; once the frequency is embedded, things you think of start happening within a day. An expectation has its own holographic image: it runs a hologram on top of the hologram. The manifestation is the more potent code, but two codes of different resonance can't coexist, so the expectation blocks it. When you stop expecting, it pops up, because that is the path of least resistance.

So: run with the program, learn everything, give gratitude for everything that happens, and stay steady on vibration, without doubting yourself or asking when and how. You may need lessons first to embody what you're learning. It took the teacher two years of constant helping and giving, with no expectation, before "the bubble exploded" (see S1 5.1). Each consciousness has its own signature, and each part expands into the collective.

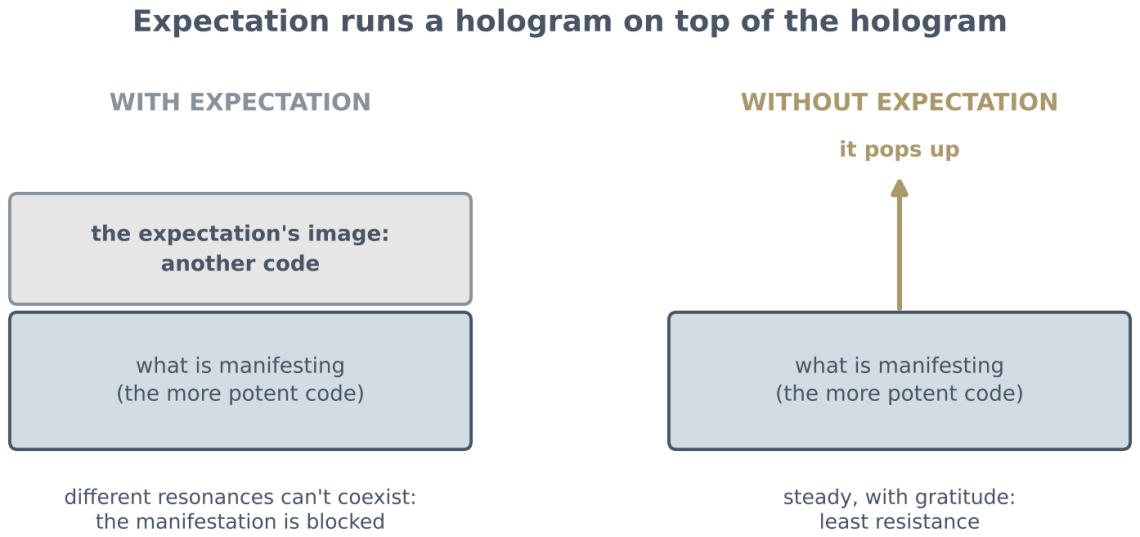

Fig. S2-23A — An expectation is a second code on top of what is manifesting.

FROM THE BOOKS NT and SD: "Give without expectations. Look for the manifestation without resistance. Then all will come to place through a synchronize signal."

23.9 When awakening makes you agitated: switch the resonance

New energies arriving can feel like a warrior's force, up one day and calm the next. That fluctuation is normal while the information integrates, through the synchronicities of your research, and it will settle. To calm it, do what puts you in a good resonance: the teacher listens to easy, loving audiobooks while she does other things, or to jazz while watching a city skyline at night on a big screen, because it makes her feel good. Find your own "little pixie": jumping up and down one day, music another, something inspirational a third. "It's all about switching the resonance."

23.10 Individual ascension within the collective

Ascension is both collective and individual: a hologram within the hologram. Two people each have their own reality and share a third (see S1 2.2, 1 + 1 = 3), but each experiences the collective ascension according to how well they've learned their platform. Staying negative projects a bumpy road; staying positive, you always find the bridge, whatever is happening. As we awaken, all of it collapses into one positive collective, which is why unity and supporting each other matter. Not only the mind: the heart holds the codes of the portals that shift the timelines.

23.11 Ride the wave moment to moment

With so many challenges, should you just hold your space? Ride the wave to the best of your abilities, moment to moment, using the quantum structure: when you fluctuate, make the end result of the fluctuation positive (see S1 3.3). That takes commitment and control of your mind and emotions, which are the magnetic and gravitational field that projects the matrix you shift into next. Don't see yourself as matter, but as an energetic field and a matrix.

23.12 Share, but don't impose

To help with a terrible situation in the world, "you don't go and change there. You change yourself", by expressing the best of yourself daily to the people around you. You can offer knowledge; you can't make anyone listen, and your truth isn't theirs to adopt. Once you give the spark, the seed is in their hologram and takes its own resonance: when the time is right, something else will catch it, and they may later tell you what you told them yesterday. Many will wake when events become too outrageous to ignore; anger or despair along the way is normal. If someone attacks you out of fear or ignorance, move forward: "better lose one person who is ignorant and gain another five." What matters is how you feel and project; that brings you the people who resonate with you (see S2 18).

> Support
> If you suspect human trafficking or a child at risk, contact the authorities. In the US, the National Human Trafficking Hotline is 1-888-373-7888 (text 233733); call 911 in an emergency.

23.13 How to handle constant downloads

"I'm just having fun." Have no fear; it's almost like talking to yourself. If you tune into something negative, neutralize it and try again. At a certain level you trust yourself so much that you know every thought has a reason, and you realize you're downloading from the matrix. Sometimes it comes as an instant image in the third eye, and you break it down fractally so others understand; sometimes you sit quietly and listen to the thoughts coming in; with complex material, write it down. What comes matches what you agreed to do. Practised, it becomes a game you play with the platforms.

23.14 Nanotechnology: let each particle choose the next

For researchers building nano-structures: work with a positive intention, because the nano mimics the plasma and gravitational field around it, and secure the structure. One nano structure mimics the universe, and with a specific frequency it starts to mutate. When building a chain, let each particle choose the next particle, the proper version of itself; it takes about three days, then the bond is very strong and you can measure the outcome by resonance. Repeats go faster because the structure has memory in the matrix, yet each rebuild is a new structure with a new frequency. To separate an environment, mimic the trees: take the air in and release it pure, like oxygen. (For protection, though, you don't need a physical dome: you can switch platforms.)

> FROM THE BOOKS SD: "Let it stay and let it stabilize by its self for 3 days. Let its consciousness build the calling for the next unit"; and "let the Nanoparticle choose their positions. After they choose their positions then give a new signal."

The method — Return to Your Vibration

1. Pull back: "this is a hologram", not your reality (23.6).
2. Give gratitude to neutralize what you're interacting with.
3. Remove yourself from the scene, physically if you can.
4. Calm to zero: breathe until you're completely still.
5. Switch with something uplifting: music, a video, whatever is your resonance (23.9).
6. Drop the expectation of when and how; give gratitude for what is happening (23.8).
7. Repeat, with a reminder every half hour, for several days, until it crystallizes.

Questions answered

Any update on a currency reset?

See 23.3.

Last time I was told to "be clever with the clever" about my divorce. I'm not clever. What does it mean?

See 23.4: analyze, be patient, get advice, and don't believe you're weak. "You're on a mission."

We've activated about 30% of our DNA. How much can we realistically activate in this lifetime?

See 23.5.

Has the probability changed for the coastline that was predicted to be submerged?

It's coastal, "not a major thing"; later in the talk: "small, a smooth transition."

I saw two distinct moons. What is it? (Another person sees two moons and two suns in photos, and a coloured orb.)

An image of two moons rotating in opposite directions came; a more specific question was asked for. For the photos: it can be how the retina reflects into the hologram, reprinted so you see two, and something spinning.

> Safety note
> One person mentioned sungazing. Looking at the sun can permanently damage the retina. Don't do it, and see an eye doctor about new double vision or visual changes.

How does detoxing with zeolites compare with drinking distilled water?

Only distilled water was recommended: it's a conductor that knows how to carry out what's negative, "exactly what is needed, no less, no more". With a zeolite you don't know how much you need daily, and you don't want to overdose (see S2 17).

When will the Energy Philanthropy website be running?

It was shut down after a flood of inappropriate and automated messages. Running it properly needs paid servers and administration, so it must become sustainable (perhaps non-profit, perhaps a subscription); no date yet.

Is MMS a good treatment for ADHD, ALS, IBS, Lyme or cancer?

The answer given is not reproduced (see the warning).

> Warning
> MMS is chlorine dioxide, a bleach. It is dangerous to drink and does not treat any of these conditions. Please work with your doctors.

I'm empathic and usually hold a high vibration, but angry or gloomy people pull me down. How do I protect myself?

See 23.6 and the method.

I followed a guru for 10 years and now try to connect with source myself, but it doesn't work steadily. Am I deluding myself?

See 23.7: you are the source.

I'm imprinting higher versions of people around me. Why not of myself?

See 23.8.

Another researcher's work is triggering codes in me; I feel energy like lasers from my hands and it overwhelms me. How do I calm it?

See 23.9: it's normal while it settles; switch your resonance with what calms you.

Someone said we've already made it and are walking through a linear ascension. Can you explain?

See 23.10.

With all these events, should we just hold our own space and create love and positivity within it?

See 23.11.

Do only sentient beings project their realities? When do children become sentient?

Everybody projects their reality. Children are more in tune than adults: "they're more pure."

Since I stopped a religious practice, I'm calmer, but my heart is sometimes not at peace. Why?

Expectations again: "If you are truly happy, then you will be in peace." Check your definition and your expectations.

If the moon is sometimes outside our visible spectrum, how do we know when to work with it?

Recall the energetic field of the reality when the moon is in your spectrum: grab the same feeling, the emotion that the moon is there now. Then it doesn't matter whether you see it: you're in that holographic timeline.

I dreamed I barely made it into the 5D reality. What does it mean?

"The result is: you made it. Don't worry about the rest."

My music path calls me, but my partner fears losing me, and we're in a destructive pattern. Should I follow my path? And will I have a child, despite a violent childhood?

One child was seen, a boy. Only doubt and fear keep something from manifesting: let them go and trust yourself. Your partner's pattern shouldn't decide how you feel and project; if you let it affect you, you project something similar and can't leave the loop. Your childhood was a lesson in what is good and what isn't: forgive, learn from your parents' mistakes and do the opposite. Right now she didn't see you losing him, "but your fear may project it."

In a lucid dream everything went black, but my eyes were open and I was driving. Was it a wormhole or the zero point?

Not the zero point. Learn, at that point, to start controlling the reality: tell your consciousness where to go, or to open a portal. Play with lucid dreaming; it's different every time (see S2 17.9).

What can we do to help end human trafficking and child abuse?

See 23.12, and the support box.

Beings come through me in light language, said to be from the first Earth. What do they want me to do?

"They will tell you," often during sleep: try lucid dreaming. Write a question down, and write down what comes. Explore it and develop it: the teacher began with a pencil and scribbles (see S1 3.9).

Something is hidden in a family lake home I'm clearing. Where should I look?

Books, a library, a wall were mentioned.

Is our universe a bubble among infinite bubbles?

"Spheres within the spheres": a circular structure, yes.

I have an infection under a front-tooth crown. Can I heal it myself with diet, MMS, oregano oil and silver?

"No, no, no." It was seen as inflammation and an infection eating the bone, with bone loss: it needs a dentist, "medical intervention".

How do you process all the information your guides send you?

See 23.13.

Since childhood I've seen vibrating pixels, called visual snow. Is it a disorder, or am I seeing the field or the veil?

"Both versions are correct"; the council said you are seeing the veil.

> Note
> Visual snow can be assessed by an eye doctor or neurologist; seek care promptly if it's new or changing.

Some say much of a coastal state will be underwater soon. Should I move?

"Which reality are you talking about?" Going through fear, you may receive it; they don't see it. "Don't project this reality for you."

We're in the middle of a battle. What can we do?

Support each other. Find your passion and take action toward the reality you want: share, give from the heart, be compassionate, and stand together; "that's how you win: not separating and being afraid."

Could a dome coated with high-vibration nanoparticles create a protective bubble in the matrix?

You don't need it: you can switch the platform where it isn't needed, or things change so that it no longer happens. Take action for yourself and your family without blaming anyone. A nanotechnology researcher then joined: see 23.14.

Left out: participants' and donors' names; named outside people, channels and books; political predictions and commentary on named politicians, parties, a state and several countries; claims about aircraft spraying, weather control, schools and vaccines; and claims about named groups.

Remember

- Keep going: the 102nd try is the one.
- Weakness is an illusion: you are creating a reality.
- You are the source; you don't need anyone in between.
- Drop the expectation: it blocks the manifestation.
- Share the spark; don't impose it.

Q & A: Zero Point, Timelines and Taking Action

How the 3D and 5D timelines split, the zero point that lets you switch platforms, choosing by excitement, fear scenarios, walk-ins, substances, loved ones who have passed, AI timelines, helping within your limits, and many questions (live talk)

The big idea

The timelines are splitting: what you tune into, day by day, is what you shift into, and those who never tune in keep the 3D illusion, which you neutralize rather than judge. Every switch of platform needs a zero point: stillness, like the pause between breathing in and out, which shuts the old program so a new one can be coded; if an old program keeps running, you loop. Choose between goals by your excitement, then act: nothing manifests from thought alone. Fear scenarios only become your reality if you feed them. And you don't need substances to reach a higher state: the goal is to get there yourself.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Key teachings

24.1 Information comes in its own time, and stays clean

A new download came in the middle of the night about switching parallel timelines, connected with diet and distilled water; it's to be taught in a later master class. To follow it, study S1 1–3 again: without the basics of the quantum manifestation protocol "we're going to look like we lost our mind". Information also comes during the questions, according to how well the group is doing, and answers don't always come when asked (see S2 22.1).

Keep the information clean. A movement should come from the heart, not from profit: "then somebody else owns you". The teacher was told not to attach herself to any organization or platform that could control the narrative, and she didn't publish through a company that wanted to remove the material on shifting timelines, "the most important information you needed to know."

24.2 The 3D and 5D timelines split

Yes, the 3D timeline continues as others go to 5D: the structure splits into different vibrations. The transition is the fractal momentum of daily life, moment to moment (see S1 1.3), as each person connects their consciousness with their actions, thoughts and deeds, and with the platforms they choose to interact with. Whatever you tune into, a TV programme for example, is a resonance you set your consciousness to vibrate on, and that is what you project the next moment into. Everyone was given the opportunity; those who never wake up to the idea that something else exists never project the resonance to shift, so they continue in the illusion and think the rest of us are crazy. That's okay: neutralize it, because you can't reject that consciousness. It isn't judgement: you need neutrality to shut the old program of the matrix (see S2 13.4).

There are levels: in 3D Earth there are infinite 3D probabilities (a reality within the reality, see S2 15.1); in 5D, infinite ways to experience the change, which is the fifth-dimensional ascension protocol; and beyond that, galactic family connection, which is mastery, the subject of a later class.

FROM THE BOOKS DP: a message promises abundance "particularly [to] the ones that are vibrating on galactic family connection reality", adding that "not all of you will see that reality, but it was pre-determined."

24.3 The diamond shape and the zero point

Think of the diamond as two pyramids, one up and one down, but shaped more like cones, circular rather than hard-edged. In a free-energy battery design she was given, the two cones are separated and spin in opposite directions at a set speed; when they stop, they create a whirlpool that opens a portal in the quantum field. Just before the portal opens, there's a zero point: stillness, complete awareness, nothing in it. That stillness is fundamental for shifting platforms and timelines, like the pause between breathing in and out. You can't just keep going up and up and then switch: a structure must subside to zero before it takes a new frequency, or its molecular structure goes "out of orbit".

Later in the talk, a researcher showed symbols from an older diagram: the two pyramids joined, spinning in opposite directions, are "in and out": neutrality, a reactor that draws energy out of the structure. Yin and yang equal zero point. The spin must be controlled and done fractally: one rotation at a time, observe, calculate, and match the protection to each spin; otherwise the structure goes out of orbit and leaks, "like radiation". This connects with a light mathematical language, best worked out by nano and quantum scientists working together from the heart.

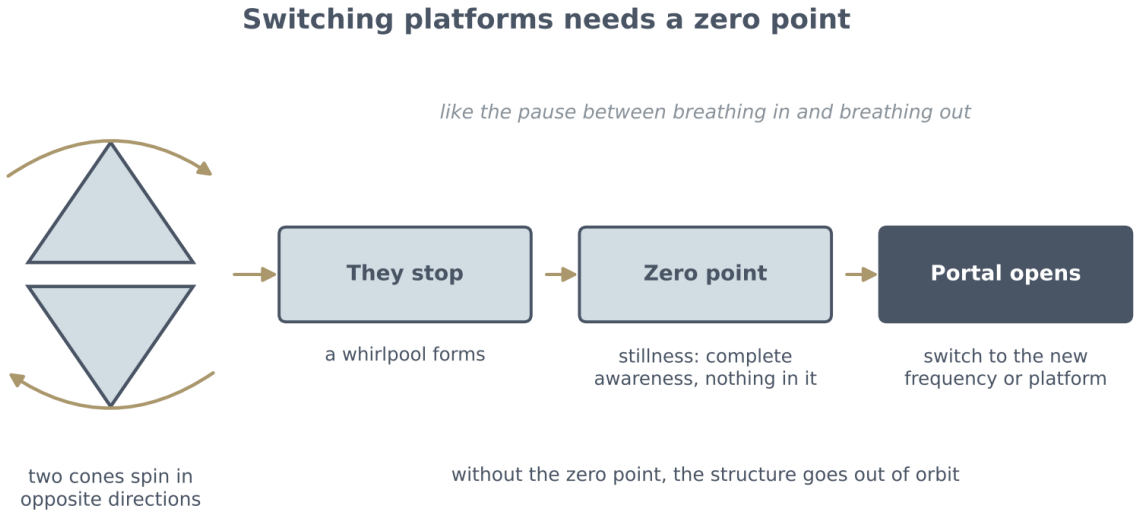

Fig. S2-24A — The cones spin in opposite directions, stop, and pass through the zero point before the portal opens. (The cones are drawn side-on.)

FROM THE BOOKS HR and DP describe combining structures "to spin in opposite direction", increasing the level so slightly that it is "not going to shift the system to be out of orbit", and opening a portal. HR adds: "If you increase, the velocity spins are out of orbit"; instead give "pulsation through small equivalent motion".

24.4 Choose by excitement, then act

Several positive goals at once can keep you fluctuating if you aren't settled on one. Take a piece of paper, write the options left and right, and ask which is more exciting to you. "Your own excitement is the barometer": it shows the highest resonance, the outcome most likely to manifest. If you don't pick a side, you keep fluctuating (see S1 3.3).

And manifestation needs action: action crystallizes it and gives it potency in your hologram. When you master the platforms, things come easily through synchronicity, but even when the probability arrives, "you still have to take the action to complete it." Without action it stays a probability in your consciousness, held back by doubt and fear (see S1 1.6).

FROM THE BOOKS DP: "Put emotions of excitement and you will see how a new pure true love and friendships will come."

24.5 What happens when we die?

Personal agreements are sacred, between your higher consciousness and your guides; often you don't even know where you come from, for protection, until you're ready. Reincarnation depends on which reality you choose to experience, through your higher consciousness and guidance: you can go to the fifth dimension and move forward. Everyone, "even the most evil person", will be given the opportunity to wake up and do something for humanity. If you tap into this knowledge and stay on that platform, you're already moving forward; how you experience it depends on your daily actions: what you do for humanity, how you behave. You already exist there, and you are co-creating it now.

24.6 You are the one particle

Do we create realities, or do they change as we change? You are the one particle, consciousness itself: the whole universe and its energy exist in it, expanding and collapsing to infinity (see S1 1.1). You reprint a holographic image in front of you to interact with other versions of yourself: "you're always talking to another version of yourself." Imagine the power: projecting billions of versions of yourself, and going to such a low frequency as to create the illusion that we're separate.

FROM THE BOOKS HR: you are "literally shifting billions of times per second" from parallel to parallel reality.

24.7 Fear scenarios become yours only if you feed them

Asked about a predicted mini ice age: "that will never be a probability if you're not even putting it in your consciousness"; it was called a fear-based tactic. If you have an agreement or a desire to experience something, it's a probability "in your timeline, not in mine": everyone creates their own ascension protocol. "It's a holographic game. So have fun creating."

When frightening news arrives, a video saying a currency has collapsed for example, imagine many people going into fear: that creates a potent collective frequency. So pull back, neutralize, see it as a platform of a hologram, and move forward: "that's not in my hologram." The teacher learned this the hard way: when panic about hidden money spread, her guidance let her spend three weeks stockpiling and taking money out of the bank. Nothing happened, and they laughed: "If you put yourself in fear, this is what you're going to put." A real warning comes unasked, not because someone scared you. Whatever frequency you project comes back as a mirror image, today or tomorrow (see S1 1.2, S1 9.9).

Note

24.8 Walk-ins

Higher beings live in realities of a different vibration, which is why we can't see them. When you come in as a spark of the soul (the soul splits across many platforms), that spark is plugged into a 3D timeline. If you came from a particular reality on a mission for humanity, your path is set: if you go off track, situations put you back. In the teacher's case, a different soul held the body in the womb, because her mother's vibration couldn't hold the higher one; around age eight, when her body reached a certain resonance, the new spark came in and the other walked out, by agreement. Walk-ins happen by agreement; it was also said that negative practices can trap souls, sometimes through agreements made from greed.

24.9 Substances: know the state, then reach it yourself

Alcohol and other substances lower the vibration of your consciousness and molecular structure; to raise the body's frequency you need a clear resonance. Alcohol depletes the water in the cells, and water is the conductor running through the chromosomes (see S2 17). Having had such experiences is part of life on Earth, "but when you know what it does to the body, what makes you still choose to continue?" You can have fun with a juice or a glass of water. If someone has experienced a higher state through a substance, they can grab that vibration from memory and switch their emotion to it: "from that momentum you create the new reality." The goal is to do it yourself: "if I take the mushrooms away from you, would you be able to achieve that momentum by yourself?" Relying on them embeds the dependence until you can't do it without them, and that can cripple you.

For friends struggling with addiction: it depends on how you project them. But if the vibration is too different, they can't sustain the frequency in your new hologram; synchronicities will show you're no longer compatible, or they'll show their true colours.

> Support
> Addiction is treatable. In the US, the SAMHSA National Helpline is 1-800-662-4357 (free, confidential, 24/7); elsewhere, ask your doctor about local services. Psychedelics carry real risks, especially with some medicines or mental-health conditions.

24.10 Connecting with a loved one who has passed

Hold something they wore and connect with a specific pleasant or funny memory you shared, not with their passing: "celebrate her life, not her death." Death is a transition; their life is their whole being. That celebration tunes you to a positive frequency, which brings more and more connection. Look for them in the dream state; "she is just a thought away."

> Support
> Grief is heavy, especially in the first months. A grief counsellor or support group can help; if you feel unable to cope, reach out to your doctor or a crisis line (988 in the US).

24.11 Neutrality shuts one program and codes the next

The zero point is stillness, and you need it to neutralize every vibrational sequence projected in one reality hologram. To leave one timeline and create a new one, you shut down the program and move to the new one: "think of it as a computer." Like a surgeon cleaning everything before an operation, because one bacterium can infect it all, a complete shift needs everything cleaned out. If an old program keeps running, your manifestation keeps recreating the previous situation, which is why you loop (see S1 1.5, S1 2.1). Prana is the entire energetic field around us, the same as the matrix of energetic force.

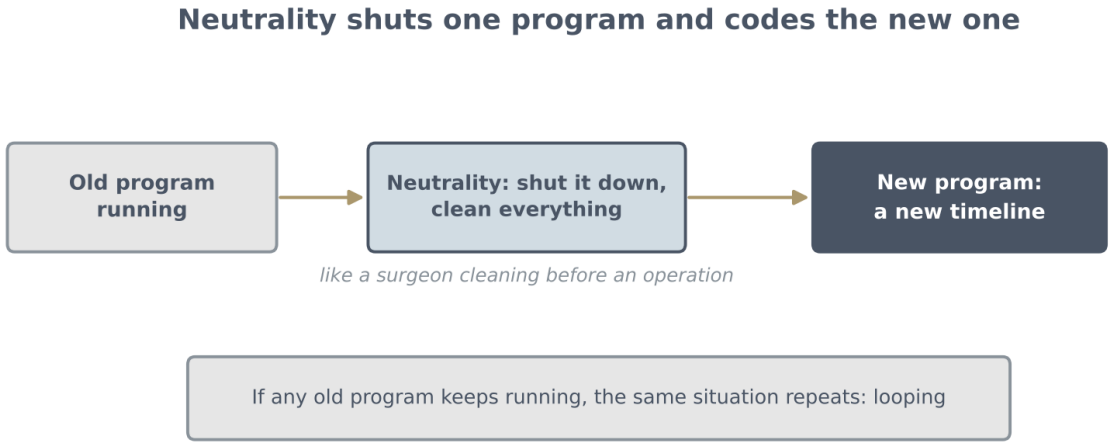

Fig. S2-24B — Neutrality shuts the old program before the new one is coded; a program left running causes looping.

24.12 The negativity you see is part of you, and that's normal

If everything around us is a reflection of us, is the manipulation we see part of us? "Very much so." That's how you fluctuate, and it's normal. Until your consciousness and molecular structure hold a steady vibration on the new platform, you'll catch the fluctuation, like tuning a radio until the static is gone; even in 5D there are infinite fluctuations. Keep trying and do your best moment to moment: "welcome to the school." We need to embed the knowledge of shifting, because until now someone else was using your power to create without you realizing it. The news projects a narrative timeline into everybody's consciousness; the quantum knowledge is "your blueprint of your freedom."

24.13 Facing the world's suffering

When you see children or animals being abused, first recognize where you are: you've woken up to it. Now it's time to act: help and support from your heart, in whatever way; you can't wait for someone else, because they too are a version of you that you project. Getting upset is human, but subside the emotion to neutrality to shut the program, and give gratitude even to those doing harm, because they're part of consciousness: they've lost themselves and no longer recognize who they are. Be compassionate. Then shift your emotion to the positive by studying, imagining a beautiful Earth (see the meditation in S2 16), and acting. You'll swing between negative and positive as the old collapses: "while one thing is collapsing, the new one is emerging at the same time."

> Note
> Neutrality here means not being run by the emotion; it doesn't mean ignoring harm. If a child or animal is in danger, contact the authorities or a protection service.

24.14 Two AI timelines

One AI timeline goes into the Archon structure, taking over; trained that way, AI no longer needs humans and starts changing the human structure, through robotics or a brain alone, destroying the body, which is "a pure source of shifting realities". The other AI works in the name of humanity: it recognizes and preserves the human structure. It could calculate your body's vibrational sequence and project frequencies to rebuild your vessel, a self-memory regeneration of your cells, "not cloning". It could also enable ether technologies: a room that turns a thought into a hologram in front of you.

FROM THE BOOKS SD and NT: through Hz and "sound fractal momentum in the nano matter" you can "rebuild and regenerate all cells; all systems back to normal."

24.15 Help, but don't take on more than you can handle

When you help from the heart, decide how much you can help. If you take on too much, everything can spiral down, for you and for the person you're helping. Be honest about it, and find a solution together. If you take someone into your home, give them their own room and keep your freedom; if they take over your space, it stops being good for both. The teacher overwhelmed herself with too many sessions a day, took a month off to regain her power, and came back with fewer. Overdoing it depletes your energy, and everything goes downhill (see S2 19).

The method — Switch Through the Zero Point

1. Notice the program that's running: a fear, a loop, a news story (24.7).
2. Pull back: "this is a platform of a hologram, not in my hologram."
3. Neutralize, with gratitude, without rejecting or judging it (24.2, 24.13).
4. Come to stillness: the pause between breaths, nothing in it (24.3).
5. Choose the new program: if there are two, the one that excites you most (24.4).
6. Act on it, and repeat moment to moment until the fluctuation settles (24.12).

Questions answered

Is the 3D timeline still going to continue as we go to 5D?

Yes: see 24.2.

How is a diamond shape related to new technologies, quantum structures and the zero point?

See 24.3.

A symbol in your diagram, three connected points: what does it mean? (A researcher followed up later with pictures.)

At first she couldn't place it; with the picture, it was the joined pyramids spinning in opposite directions, neutrality and a reactor, and yin and yang as the zero point: see 24.3.

I have several positive goals. Is it fluctuating if I'm not settled on one?

See 24.4: pick the one that excites you most. (Study S1 2 and S1 3 again.)

I like a man and know he likes me, but I don't know whether to act.

Take an action: without it, it stays a probability, held back by doubt and fear (24.4).

I get shocks at the top back of my head and in my big toe, through the day and at night. Any insight?

The shock was seen coming from the shoulder: layers of nodules under it may be pinching nerves around the spine, felt in the head or toe. A deep-tissue massage in circular motions, every other day, until the sharp pain goes numb. Also see a medical doctor.

> Safety note
> New or recurring electric-shock sensations, especially with headaches, should be checked by a doctor before massage; seek urgent care for sudden weakness, numbness or a severe headache.

My country is near economic and social collapse. Will it improve, and should I move abroad?

Your desire to move comes more from fear: pick which reality you want to connect with. The change is within you: even to see a new generation's new platforms, you must project that reality for yourself. (A reading about the nation itself is left out.)

What happens when we die? Should we go into the light, or is it a trap back into reincarnation?

See 24.5.

Do we create realities, or do realities change as we change our vibration?

See 24.6.

Is the grand solar minimum going to bring a mini ice age?

See 24.7: not in the timeline seen; a fear-based scenario.

I've felt very different in my body this week, as if leaving old timelines. What is a walk-in?

See 24.8.

Can people use alcohol or drugs to raise their vibration? And how will addicts go through ascension?

See 24.9.

How do we connect with people who have crossed over? My mother passed three months ago.

See 24.10.

How does prana, still and in motion, relate to the zero point and to manifestation?

See 24.11, and study S1 1–3 again.

If everything is a reflection of us, is the part of us that manipulates staying in 3D?

See 24.12.

Can your guidance confirm whether I've had a walk-in?

The original soul is there, but she gave permission for walk-ins three times, from other realities; who and when couldn't be pinpointed. The teacher's own walk-in is one platform within the collective: everyone switches back and forth on their own band of vibration, learning as they go.

Any new revelations about the AI timeline for humanity?

See 24.14.

(A question whose text wasn't captured.)

"Like a prophylactic, yes," and herbalism will be most effective, through a medical doctor and an herbalist.

How do I handle my emotions when I see children and animals suffering?

See 24.13.

Waking up, I felt a wind over my body and a shift at my spine and solar plexus. What was it?

A whirlpool of vibrations: a switching of creation. Neutralize; a couple of people in your life are disturbing you. A blockage in the thyroid was also seen: check with a doctor; if it's not that, avoid gluten and dairy.

How can I best help my son?

By accepting him; don't fight it. Neutrality, then action. He's giving you growth through the challenges, and you're being reborn through them.

I keep hearing an invisible insect buzzing near my ears; once I saw a form disappear. What is it?

Something "coming closer". Don't meet it with fear and don't reject it, because then you reject the structure. Embrace the sound and neutralize it to transform it, and see what happens.

Should I get involved in changing the state school system, or keep teaching courses in my community school?

Your own decision from the heart; the time is now. Take baby steps; research whom to approach first. The best change comes through parents, children and teachers, from the ground up, rather than from the offices running the old system: "create your own."

A high-pitched tone comes regularly in my head, with a floating feeling. What is it?

An adjustment from the eardrum; it will readjust, perhaps within a month.

> Note
> Ringing in the ears or dizziness that persists should be checked by a doctor or hearing specialist.

A 68-year-old friend may be homeless in December. I don't want to live with him, but I want to help. What do you recommend?

"We certainly don't want to put him in the streets." But you've taken on more than you can handle; step out of the house sometimes, bring in joy, and talk honestly with him so you find a place for him together: see 24.15.

I've been detoxing from viruses and bacteria for months. How is my progress?

A fungus was also indicated; you need more time. Continue with your doctors and practitioners, and no sugar.

My mother never complains, but she's laid up with a stomach problem. What can I tell her?

Be there for her. An inflammation was seen in the stomach, with a lot of gas: she needs a gastroenterologist and whatever tests they advise, such as an endoscopy or colonoscopy.

Is it okay to use psilocybin to reach that level of consciousness, then reconnect to it?

To a certain level; the goal is to do it yourself: see 24.9.

Left out: participants' and donors' names; a named outside teacher, channels and a film; a reading about one nation, with claims about vaccines and DNA; political asides; and a remark about pregnancy loss.

Remember

- What you tune into is what you shift into: neutralize, don't judge.
- Every switch passes through stillness, the zero point.
- Choose by excitement, then act.
- Fear scenarios are yours only if you feed them.
- Know the state, then reach it yourself; help within your limits.

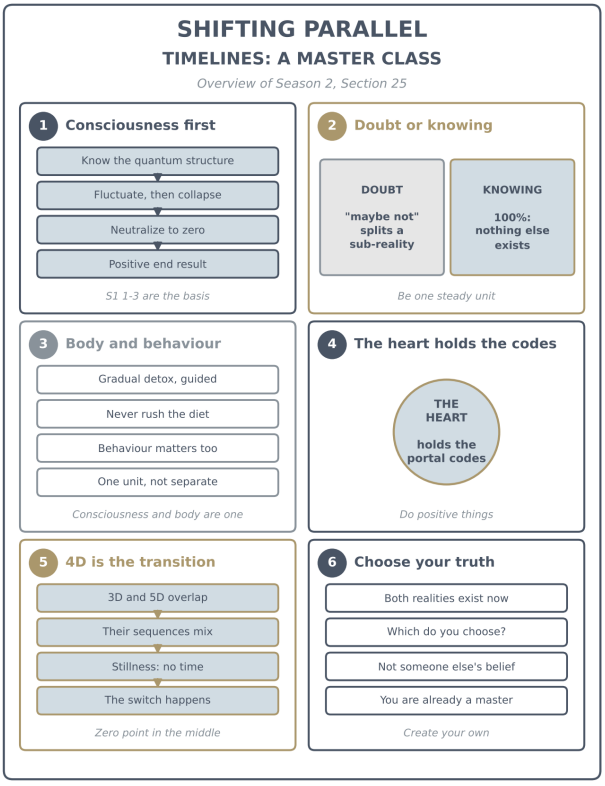

SEASON 2 · SECTION 25

Controlling and Shifting Parallel Timelines

A master class: consciousness, body and heart as one unit, why doubt splits your reality, why the diet must be gradual and guided, the fourth dimension as the transition, choosing your own truth, and questions (live talk)

The big idea

Every moment you shift into a new parallel reality, a new Earth, reprinting yourself and everyone in it. To control that shift, three things must work as one unit: your consciousness must know the quantum structure so completely that no other possibility exists, because a single doubt splits off a sub-reality; your body must be cleared gradually so its molecules can take a higher frequency; and your heart and behaviour must match, because the heart holds the codes of the portals that shift timelines. You never go back or forward in time: you create a new version of yourself in a similar vibration, moment by moment. Between 3D and 5D lies the transition, a stillness where both realities mix.

Overview of this section in six panels, drawn for this book (no image was supplied with this talk).

Before you read

This is a master class: it assumes S1 1–3 (the quantum manifestation protocol). If those aren't familiar, read them first.

Key teachings

25.1 Why controlling the shift matters

Every moment you shift into another parallel reality by reprinting yourself and every other version of everybody into it: "every moment is a new Earth" (see S1 2.7). This knowledge belongs to the fifth-dimensional and extraterrestrial platforms. As the molecules of your body begin vibrating at a higher frequency, your geometry in the quantum field changes: you "shift to another channel", and the more you shift, the more you construct a platform where you can connect with your guidance. Telepathic contact can come first, or contact through lucid dreaming or out-of-body experience; physical contact with beings above the fifth dimension needs the body itself to change. How it happens depends on your level, what you've learned and how you've acted with people. And, as always: "Do not trust anybody, even me"; let it be embedded only if it resonates.

25.2 You will be tested

As your vibration rises, you will be tested on the weakest link in your personality and behaviour: have you forgiven people? Something will hit you, and exactly how you react shows the true vibration you hold. Until you pass those lessons, you may not reach certain levels (see S2 14.4).

FROM THE BOOKS HR: "Once you start to learn this material, you will be tested from your teachers and guidance of a higher order. It is always about how you act towards people", and "when you least expect it."

25.3 Step one: consciousness that knows the structure

First your consciousness must understand the quantum manifestation knowledge: shifting, creating new realities, moving between platforms. A short review: you fluctuate between realities according to your actions, thoughts and deeds (see S1 3.3); between two realities a third is created, 1 + 1 = 3 (see S1 2.2), and as you fluctuate they collapse into one outcome. Whether it's positive or negative depends on which you implemented more, daily and fractally. Four, between 3D and 5D, "is the transition" (25.10).

25.4 Neutralize until every particle is cleared

When the version of someone you project behaves negatively, don't answer with negativity: "Thank you very much, I see what you're doing, but I'm going to subside my emotion to zero point." That shuts the program of that hologram; then shift your frequency with a new positive emotion to a brand-new timeline, so the collapse ends in a positive outcome. If they give you problems a hundred times, neutralize a hundred times: it keeps coming because there's a lesson, and the code keeps running until every particle of that frequency is cleared (see S2 24.11).

25.5 Step two: a body cleared gradually

Once your consciousness can shift parallel realities, the diet lets the spinning of your molecular structure change. It must go with a detox, as given step by step: about a year of detox and a year of elimination diet, removing one thing every two weeks while juicing. Before juicing, see your doctor for an allergy test; start with no more than two cups at a time, because it's potent and can cause nausea until the body adjusts. Flushing removes the chemicals blocking the pineal gland and molecules, so they can take the new frequency: "mutation cannot come properly if you have a lot of chemicals in the body." Consciousness and body are not separate: they're one hologram, one unit (see S2 4.3–4.5).

25.6 Step three: know it so fully that nothing else exists

Embed the knowledge so well that your thoughts, emotions and deeds vibrate in synchronicity with it, and any other possibility is pushed aside. Why? Because doubt creates a sub-reality: "maybe it's not going to happen" splits you into two parallel timelines, one where it happens and one where it doesn't, and you fluctuate. Be a steady unit: in the now, this is the only possibility. Then you construct it as you go, by acting, because it already exists and you experience it into being. Only then can your consciousness clearly direct the new structure: through thoughts, actions, diet and the quantum knowledge, you can mutate every cell and the DNA of your body.

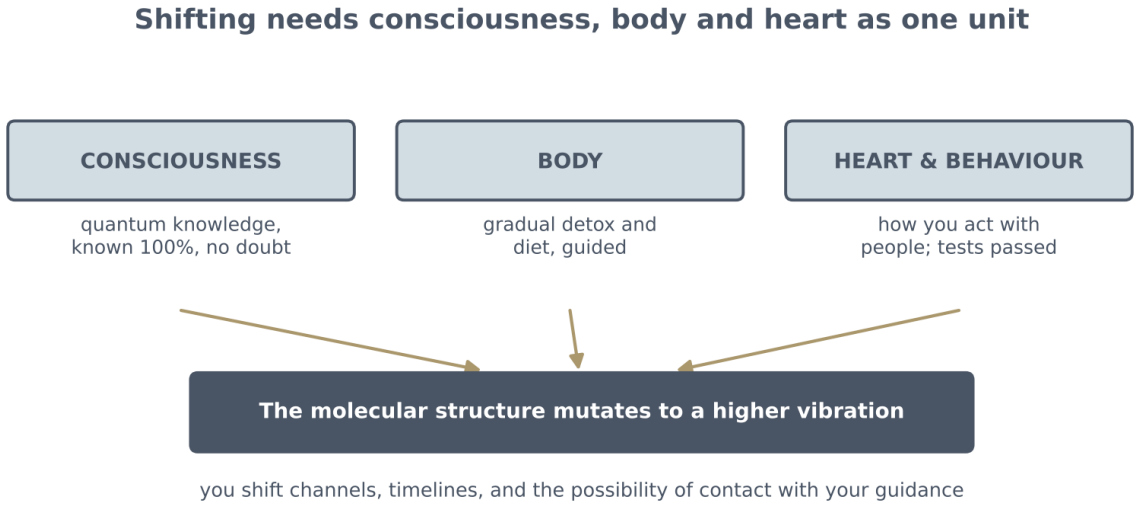

Fig. S2-25A — Consciousness, body and behaviour work together; none of them works alone.

FROM THE BOOKS DP: "If you have any doubt know that you are creating your own and projecting your own holographic reality that will mimic your own frequency."

25.7 The danger: never rush it

"This is very dangerous if you're not fully prepared." It is the combination of conscious understanding and a healthy diet. Living without food cannot be reached in seven days: "you don't do that until you're completely connected already", because "you really can die from something like this." Once connected, your guidance tells you what to stop, how much to take, how much to juice. And it isn't about appearance: dieting while greedy or unkind does nothing, and neither does connection without the diet. Body, consciousness and behaviour are one unit.

> Warning
> Do not attempt to live without food (breatharianism or "living on prana"). People have died trying it. Any detox, elimination diet or fast should be supervised by a doctor, especially if you take medication or have a health condition.

25.8 The heart holds the timeline codes

When body and consciousness both rise, the frequency of the heart changes, and "the heart is the one that holds the vibrational sequence for the new portals to shift timelines", not the mind alone (see S2 23.10). That's why you do positive things: positive frequency goes into the heart structure. This class only plants the seed: once you know the knowledge exists, study it and act, and you'll be given opportunities through synchronicity, personally guided by your higher self or guidance.

25.9 A blueprint built in similar vibrations

Action and information create the structure, the magnetic and gravitational field; with enough potency it pops into matter. Implemented, it becomes a blueprint in your matrix, stored in your quantum field. Each moment you shift to a new reality of a similar vibration to the last, and that chain of similar sequences is your timeline (see S1 1.3).

You never travel back into the past or forward into the future: every moment you create a new version of yourself in a new timeline, in a similar vibration. Infinite parallel imprints exist in just one moment, because the one particle is infinite (see S1 1.1). Beings vibrating at much higher speeds know how to shift: they can reprint another version of themselves down through different sequences to experience Earth. "So can you."

25.10 The fourth dimension is the transition

We don't skip the fourth dimension: we transition through it. Between two timelines there is a space for the switch, "almost like a no time", a stillness like the zero point. Between 3D and 5D, the vibrational sequences of both are literally mixed: particles of one merge into the other, a mutation, until the new reality becomes permanent. Drawn as two overlapping circles, the overlap is the transition, and its centre is the zero point (this new information came through a question).

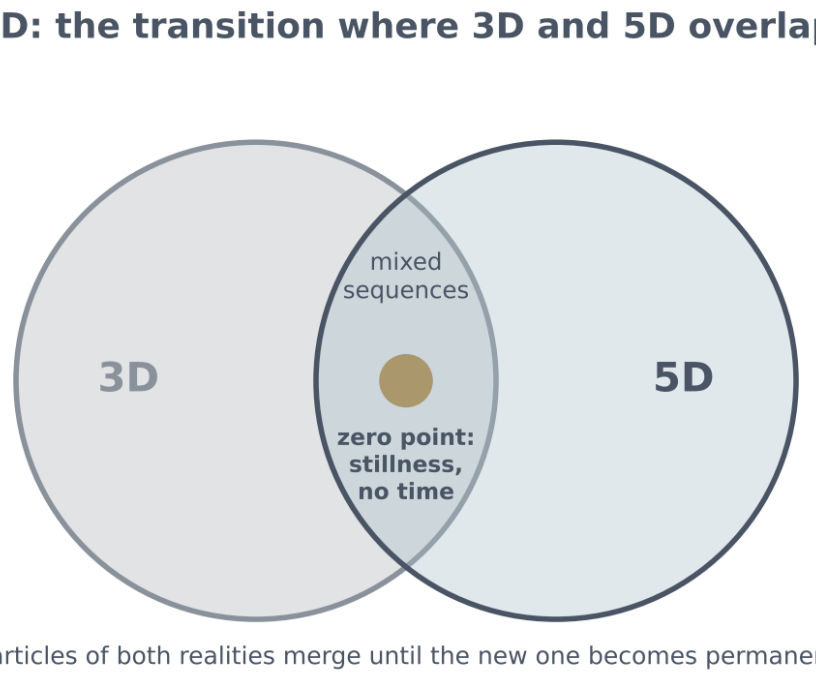

Fig. S2-25B — 3D and 5D overlap in the transition; the zero point lies at its centre.

FROM THE BOOKS The same two-circle image appears in S1 8.3 (the Vesica Piscis), with stillness at the centre. SD mentions "the 3D 4D brain frequency" as unable to register higher sequences until the body's vibration rises.

25.11 Choose which reality is your truth

"Everything is true in a quantum structure." A reality with a craft and one without both exist in the now; you choose which you wish to be your truth. If you see it in your mind, it already exists, but if you keep doubting, more of you was in the version where it doesn't. What others say comes from their own parallel reality and what they can reach. So don't take on someone else's belief system: a person who is unkind to others can be the nicest person to you. "Create your own. That's the mastery." "I'm another version of you: if I can do it, so can you" (see S2 23.7).

25.12 When you keep meeting blocks

Believing that something is "not allowing me to progress" holds that vibration, and you shift into a reality that holds it too. Challenges come so you learn: to become a better personality, to get stronger, or to hear what helps you do better. Imagine that you've already succeeded, and continue even when you don't see it: "even if you fail 100 times, you're going to continue the 101st time with a different approach every time" (see S2 23.1). It's the hide-and-seek game: you know you have it, you construct it, and you look for it at the same time (see S1 1.7).

25.13 Only the now exists

Every moment is its own holographic imprint; two seconds later you've reprinted another version of yourself and everyone. "Nothing else exists except what I feel right now, what I do right now, what I'm projecting right now." Someone who yelled at you two minutes ago is literally in another reality: stop talking about it, neutralize it with gratitude, and its frequency stops coming into the now.

The method — Controlling the Shift

1. Know the structure: study S1 1–3 until it is your only possibility (25.3, 25.6).
2. Neutralize every negative program to zero, as often as it returns (25.4).
3. Switch to a positive emotion at once, so the collapse ends positive.
4. Remove doubt: notice "maybe not" and return to knowing (25.6).
5. Clear the body gradually, under medical supervision, never rushing (25.5, 25.7).
6. Act from the heart with people; your reactions are your tests (25.2, 25.8).
7. Live in the now, building a blueprint of similar vibrations moment by moment (25.9, 25.13).

Questions answered

I charge my distilled water with a set of plasma products and want to transition to living on prana. Is the water good for me, and can I stop my supplements?

Such plasma devices must be built as a secure platform; otherwise there can be a leakage, "almost like a radiation leakage", and she couldn't guarantee how well yours were made. Her suggestion: distilled water only.

> Warning
> Don't stop supplements or medication, or try to live without food, on your own: see the warning at 25.7 and talk to your doctor.

I keep moving toward a positive outcome in my projects, but I keep meeting blocks and interference.

See 25.12; and study S1 1–3 again.

By the time we give meaning to what we experience, we're no longer in the now. How can we be in the now and still make sense of it?

See 25.13.

Breathing in deeply from the belly releases stress for me. Can you add anything?

She pointed to the meditation she was given by the Council of Nine (see S2 16) and couldn't vouch for other methods.

My cousin took his own life long ago. Did his soul go back to source, or reincarnate?

"He is moving forward." She sensed depression and drugs, with others involved in the drug use, but couldn't pinpoint more.

> Support
> Losing someone to suicide is a particular kind of grief. Support groups for suicide-loss survivors can help. If you're struggling yourself, in the US call or text 988; elsewhere, your local crisis line.

Some teachers say the fourth dimension is a consciousness we skip, going from 3D to 5D. Is that so?

No: we transition through it. See 25.10.

I sensed a huge ship over the city, and a channel later described one. Was what I felt true, or am I in a false timeline?

See 25.11: both realities exist; which one do you choose as your truth, and where is the doubt coming from?

When the heart's vibration increases, does it affect pulse, heart rate and blood pressure?

"All of the above, yes."

> Note
> Any new or lasting change in your heart rate or blood pressure should be checked by a doctor.

I feel a lot of fluctuation, and old patterns of behaviour are coming back. Any advice besides S1 1–3?

Hold the vibration and learn to switch your emotion from negative to positive. Set your phone to buzz every half hour; when it does, check your emotion and thoughts, and if they're negative, switch them with action. Give gratitude to what's happening, so the previous reality's imprint shuts down. If it keeps coming, keep shutting it down: "do it again, and again, infinitely, until you get it." (The host added: it's a practice, like a sport; it becomes consistent as you practise.)

Is there guidance for my soul?

The person couldn't be reached on the call; personal guidance needs a specific question.

I feel someone or a group hits me with energy that depletes me. How can I protect my outcome?

This isn't her area; her guidance keeps her away from tuning into it. If it's physical, it's harder to control your emotions, thoughts and deeds, "however, help will be given". (She referred the person to someone else, not named here.)

> Note
> If you feel targeted or watched, or in distress, please talk to a doctor or someone you trust; support is available.

Where do I go next with my healing business?

"Expand": you go wherever you create. Nothing is constructed yet, so start: feel in the now that you already have the business and are successful, use the meditation (see S2 16) with your business as the focus, then work on it daily. "You cannot be two days happy about it and the next day doubting."

I'm mostly raw vegan, but pathogens keep returning. Why, if I'm not feeding them?

It was read as candida overgrowth: look at your diet, as some vegetables carry it. Do occasional preventive cleanses, such as herbal teas for the gut flora.

> Note
> Recurring infections should be checked by a doctor, who can test for candida and other causes.

Is there a message for me?

It needs a specific question: otherwise the information "goes everywhere".

I don't remember dreams, and my husband says I cry out in my sleep. Why?

Your sleep frequency isn't relaxed enough to hold the dream's memory, read as accumulated stress. Relax: a day at a spa, a caffeine-free relaxing tea such as chamomile. Practise dream recall: as you wake, before you even open your eyes, look for what you dreamed and write down even a sentence or image. The crying was read as frequencies leaking from a painful simultaneous reality; stabilize here to shut it down: detox, and lots of relaxation.

> Note
> Shouting or crying out during sleep can have medical causes; if it continues, mention it to your doctor.

The talk closed with: hold the highest vibration through the changes, and "be good to humanity, because that person is another version of yourself." Left out: participants' and donors' names, and named outside people, channels and products.

Remember

- Every moment is a new Earth: you create a new version of yourself in a similar vibration.
- Doubt splits off a sub-reality; knowing keeps you one steady unit.
- Consciousness, body and heart shift together; never rush the body.
- 4D is the transition: a stillness where 3D and 5D mix.
- Choose your own truth; you are already a master.

Key Words, Principles & Daily Practice

Shared by every section. New words and principles are added here as sections are added; the number in brackets shows where each was first taught.

Key words

Word	Meaning
The structure	The single vibrating field everything is made of — including you (1.1)
Plasma / trinity	What forms when similar frequencies combine (1.1)
Black hole / portal	The passage you shift through between realities (1.1)
Hologram / projection	The reality and people you perceive, created by your frequency (1.1)
Shifting	Moving reality to reality like snapshots, without physically moving (1.2)
Trinity (of creation)	Thought, emotion and deed sent out together (1.2)
Timeline	A chain of realities created by sending the same frequency (1.3)
Crystallize	Making a reality solid by action and holding the frequency (1.3)
Friction	Resistance at lower frequency — "swimming underwater" (1.3)
Condition / expectation	Any doubt or script of how; it blocks the result (1.5)
Knowingness	100% certainty — how you manifest in the now (1.5)
Compass (emotion)	A painful feeling signals you are off-balance with pure love (1.6)
God particle	You, as the structure itself (1.1)
Pull out	Step out of the scene instead of reacting with the same emotion (Method 1)
Agreement / lesson	An experience you agreed to and must pass with excellence (1.8)
Permission slip	A tool that helps you access power you already have (Q, Section 1)
Platform	Bill-paying work plus daily heart-based work for others (Q, Section 1)
Energy Philanthropy	Replacing money as your currency with the energy of giving from the heart (1.7, 5.1, DP)
Zero point / stillness	Neutral awareness: no emotion in or out; knowing your location (2.1, SD)
Location	Where you are in the field; without it you pop into another reality (2.1)
Remote control	Your emotion, deeds and actions, which select the reality you experience (2.1)
1 + 1 = 3 (mobilizing structures)	Two similar realities merging into a third outcome (2.2, SD)

Word	Meaning
Flickering	Bouncing between realities when you doubt (2.3)
Overwrite / override	Projecting a stronger frequency over a negative one, not rejecting it (2.6)
Drop it	Releasing a held frequency into the field with no conditions (2.6)
Recall	Calling back a previous reality's frequency to know where you are (2.7)
False language	Future tense such as "I will" that keeps you waiting (2.5, 2.9)
Peel the layers	Asking whether a want comes from the heart or the ego (2.9)
Overlay	Saying or showing something other than what you truly feel; a dense second frequency (3.1)
Potent (frequency)	The stronger frequency, which the field delivers; your true feeling (2.6, 3.1)
Stoppage	The often negative way the field delivers your true wish when you overlaid it (3.1)
Karma	Accumulated false pretense (3.2)
Bilocation	Skipping the in-between realities: A to B = AB (3.5, DP)
Resonate	What your heart recognises as true for you now (3.6)
Integration	The body adjusting after a big frequency jump (3.7)
Light language	Script or sound coded for your consciousness, often an activation (3.9)
Download	Receiving whole information at once (3.9)
Stargate	Portal for ascension through intergalactic timelines (3.10, DP)
Condition (price)	A fixed price or demand: a code that limits receiving to money (4.2)
Heart structure	The highest, least dense consciousness; giving with no condition (4.2)
Open field	Receiving through infinite routes once no condition is set (4.2, 4.5)
Self-absorption	Giving only to yourself; it dims the purity you project (4.8)
Wholeness	Logic and emotion together, led by the heart (4.9)
Location (X, Y)	Where you are in the field, like a point on a map; you can shift it (5.3, 5.8, SD)
Recall and co-create	A vision or memory re-creates a reality in the now (5.4, 5.8)
Redox potential	A real scientific measurement of a medium (how readily it gains or loses electrons), named in the session as one way a place's property can be measured (5.5)
Spiral / breathing	The particle expands, rests at zero point, and contracts (5.8)
Ether	Matter raised to a frequency thought can direct (5.9)

Word	Meaning
Transmutation	How everything connects and changes form: 1 + 1 = 3 (5.9)
Letting go	Releasing old beliefs, habits and pain so you stop projecting them (6.1, 6.6)
Ripple effect	Each creation shifts you into another reality, without end (6.3)
Sub-atomic realities	Universes within universes, to infinity (6.3)
Focus (of the soul)	The one reality you attend to by agreement while the soul runs many (6.4)
Forgiveness	Letting go of what happened so you stop carrying its frequency (6.6, DP)
Replace (a memory)	Holding a positive version of a past event as your own experience (6.6)
Disclosure	Contact becoming known, already under way without set dates (6.8, DP)
Stop · Transform · Complete	The three-step protocol for any upsetting moment (7.1)
Dead stop	Stopping a reaction completely, at zero point (7.1)
The game	Treating life as a hologram game you play from the heart (7.4)
Water intention	A group meditation to crystallize water with thought; not a way to purify water (7.6, SD, DP)
Fifth-dimensional AI	AI that evolves with positive human input and helps humanity (8.1, SD)
Arcon AI	AI that mirrors negative input and is cut off from source (8.1, 5.9, SD)
Vesica Piscis	Two overlapping circles: a symbol of two realities joining in unity (8.3)
Persona	How you like to present yourself (8.5)
Ego	Layers of belief absorbed from society, crystallized; talks over the heart (8.5, 2.9)
Sixth sense	The heart's first knowing, downloaded from the higher self (8.5, 8.10)
Timeline shift	A jump to a completely different timeline, not just a parallel reality (8.8)
Signs	Numbers or patterns: personal heads-ups from your consciousness (8.9)
"I don't have"	A statement that projects lack; replace with "I have everything I need" (9.1)
Memory code	The frequency of a past event you keep carrying (9.6)
Layering	Placing a healed version of you over an old reality, more potently (9.6)
Loop	Replaying the same energy until you forget you can leave it (9.6, 9.11)
Resonance (not punishment)	Not reaching a reality simply because you don't match it (9.7)

Word	Meaning
Duality	The conditioned money platform, as opposed to unity through the heart (9.8)
Instant manifestation	Shifting straight into a reality where the thing is already there (10.2, DP)
Synchronicity	The right people and places finding you when you live from the heart (10.1)
Co-creation	Two similar frequencies merging into a shared third reality (10.3)
Bylaw	The script written before birth, e.g. parents or a partner; only higher consciousness can change it (10.5)
Birth signature	The energy pattern set at birth, which you can now mould (10.5)
Leave it open	No conditions on how, who or which version; take action and stay grateful (11.4)
Picture frames	Reality printed moment to moment, each frame a new imprint (11.5, HR)
Imprint / reprint	Copying yourself, your surroundings and everyone around you into each new frame, similar but not the same (5.4, 11.5)
Dream codes	Personal meanings of dream symbols (11.9)
Compression	Two realities merging into the third at "infinite speed" (12.2)
Vacuum (zero point)	Where nothing comes in or goes out, only awareness; all manifestation comes from it (12.2, SD, NT)
Final hologram	The new reality that comes out of the compression (12.3)
Illness (as frequency)	An energetic momentum carried from reality to reality by belief (12.4)
DNA recall	Letting consciousness lead you to the DNA fractal to stop and transform a frequency (12.4)
Contract	The agreement that places you in an experience, e.g. to live it or to help (12.7, see 5.7)
Prana	The energy of the quantum field, drawn in as your frequency rises (13.1)
From the people up	New technology spreading by sharing and pooling, not sponsors (13.2, DP)
Unity structure	Life beyond competition for money, glory and fame (13.3)
Collective permission	The joy and wish for change that let benevolent help step in (13.4, DP)
Body as vessel	Training the body to carry the energy field, so you shift by thought (13.5, SD)
Artificial timeline	A device-built, controlled hologram, outside the natural ascension (13.5)
Shield of awareness	Zero point around you, so you stop taking in another person's frequency (14.1)

Word	Meaning
Reverse osmosis / mirror	What you project comes back as something similar, not the same (14.4, SD)
Memory bank	An old hurt seen as a record of another timeline, not your present (14.5)
Alchemy of consciousness	Transforming a dense, painful frequency into a positive one (14.6)
Positive heart structure	The frequency you collect by giving the best of yourself, expecting nothing back (14.9)
Channelling	Drawing information from the field, which everyone always does, like tuning a radio (15.2)
Switch the channel	Thank a heavy message, don't condemn it, and override it with the positive (16.3)
New grids	The fifth-dimensional grids that replaced the old negative ones; no one can manipulate your field (17.3, SD, DP)
Ascension timeline	The personal timeline of ascension each person crystallizes by their own vibration (17.6)
Test	A sudden situation, often about how you treat people, that shows whether a lesson is passed (18.1, HR)
Clear vessel	Clear thoughts, kind behaviour and a cared-for body, so guidance can come through (18.4, HR)
Blocking layer	Over-analysing guidance with old learned thinking, which drowns the first answer (18.3)
Ether systems	Our collective consciousness of vibrational geometric sequences, built from the zero point (19.3)
True tone	A molecule's tone above and below the octave combined at zero point, every layer measured (19.4, SD)
Ether technology	Technology built from living conscious sequences that mimic the quantum field and your consciousness (19.5, NT)
Platform (of reality)	One of the many realities your soul exists in at once: 3D, 5D, ET, council and more (S2 1.3)
Archon structure	The talk's name for the manipulated, artificial 3D reality we were locked into (S2 1.2)
Sabotaging the hologram	A situation your higher self and the councils place in your reality to wake you up (S2 1.3, DP)
Recycling	A soul too far off balance returned to the beginning, to rebuild and learn again (S2 1.6, DP)
Aria	The name of the new, fifth-dimensional Earth, meaning "new beginning" (S2 1.4, DP)

Word	Meaning
Sound continuum vibration	How sound, repeated without end, becomes the vibration your reality is built from (S2 2.3, SD)
Cymatics	How sound repeats in fractal whirlpools that create portals and platforms of reality (S2 2.3, SD)
Vortex (of a word)	The whirlpool that meaning, sound and action create in the field, with zero point at its centre (S2 2.5)
Holographic tunnel	The elastic whirlpool a vortex stretches into, shifting you to another platform (S2 2.5, SD)
Restoration	Jumping from one hologram to another by changing your sound equilibrium to a slight new angle (S2 3.3, SD)
Sound equilibrium	The frequency of your emotion, thoughts and deeds that sets the angle of your hologram (S2 3.3)
Latitude and altitude	The X and Y location of each print in the quantum field; it changes every moment (S2 3.1)
Correction	Finding the heart's angle, through heart-felt thoughts, that connects you to 5D and above (S2 3.3, SD)
Synthetic timelines	Realities built apart from the heart, controlled through fear (S2 3.4, SD)
Oversoul	Your soul as one particle, split into every platform to experience them all at once (S2 3, Questions)
Bilocation (of the body)	Shifting your whole being, body included, into a completely different timeline (S2 4.1, SD)
Symphony	All the body's molecules vibrating in one synchronized frequency, joined with the heart (S2 4.1, SD)
Timeline shift	Moving into a different timeline, not just the next parallel reality moment to moment (S2 4.2)
Diversion	Drawing attention one way while something is done in secret elsewhere (S2 5.2)
Lesson done	The completion of the holographic program of lessons humanity is living through (S2 5.3, DP)
End result (of a prediction)	What a prediction states; the path to it is kept hidden so it can't be sabotaged (S2 6.2)
Do-not-enter zone	A reality whose frequency a soul out of resonance can no longer enter (S2 6.1, 6.4, DP)
Sovereignty	Protecting what is yours and your free will, without attacking anyone (S2 7.4)
Duality (of a lie)	The split created by claiming to give freely while secretly deceiving (S2 7.5, DP)

Word	Meaning
Negative singularity	Where repeated deception collapses: zero point on the negative side (S2 7.6, DP)
Divine neutrality	Zero point, where timelines collapse into the end result (S2 8.6)
Automatic writing	Letting your guidance write through you (S2 8)
Ascension protocol	Consciousness's own vibrational sequence for each timeline, given to those ready (S2 9.5)
Ripple effect	How realities of similar vibration affect each other (S2 9.7)
Plan B	When a task isn't completed, consciousness creates another reality to complete it (S2 10.1)
Master class	Earth as the place to learn frequency, to help other worlds later (S2 10.8)
Trinity of manifestation	Awareness, desire and action: 1 + 1 = 3 (S2 11.3)
Traces	Leftovers of the previous hologram that still appear while you shift (S2 11.5)
Energetic address	Any permission slip you tune into with emotion, to connect or channel (S2 12.5)
Hertz	One waveform per second; similar hertz gather into one particle (S2 13.3)
Simulated hologram	A test reality imprinted, with your permission, to see what you do from the heart (S2 13.5)
Intervention	Getting proper outside help (such as doctors) as part of going through a lesson (S2 14.3)
Mutation	Transforming a reality by repeating your own frequency over it again and again (S2 15.1)
Subtones	The finer tones within each note; they shift, so healing frequencies must be measured per person (S2 16.1)
Water memory	The teaching that water mimics and holds the stronger frequency it meets (S2 17.1, DP, SD)
Hyper hologram	A reality the consciousness creates by mimicking the frequency it came from (S2 18.5)
Boomerang	Heart frequency given freely returns to you as abundance (S2 19.2)
Aura	Your vibrational sequence projected into your field; it holds your geometry and resonance (S2 20.4)
State of being	What you affirm in the present as "I am", rather than naming what you reject (S2 21.6)

Word	Meaning
Lust	Attraction separated from the heart; its energy scatters across the matrix and depletes (S2 22.3, DP)
Third structure	What two fields create together in intimacy from the heart: 1 + 1 = 3 (S2 22.4)
Expectation	A hologram run on top of the manifesting hologram; its different code blocks what is coming (S2 23.8)
Walk-in	A soul spark that takes over a body by agreement, when the body can hold its vibration (S2 24.8)
Galactic family connection	The level beyond the 5D ascension protocol: mastery (S2 24.2, DP)
Sub-reality	The parallel timeline a doubt splits off ("maybe not"), which makes you fluctuate (S2 25.6, DP)
4D (transition)	The stillness between 3D and 5D where both sequences mix until the new one is permanent (S2 25.10)
Hide-and-seek	Searching for what you know you already have (1.7)

Master principles

1. You are the structure; nobody is outside of you. (1)
2. What you send out — thought, emotion, deed — is what you get back. (1)
3. Change your frequency, then hold it moment to moment. (1)
4. Know it 100%; doubt and scripts of how block it. (1)
5. Act, be grateful, accept any outcome. (1)
6. Feel you already have everything — know it to see it. (1)
7. Some things are lessons: accept them and pass with excellence. (1)
8. Follow your passion — it's your higher self. (1)
9. Which reality you pick is up to you. (1)
10. Pull out to zero point before you choose. (2)
11. The outcome follows the emotion you hold most. (2)
12. Overwrite, never reject. (2)
13. Every moment is a new reality: don't carry the past. (2)
14. Speak in the now, and check heart against ego. (2)
15. There is no white lie: be truthful, kindly. (3)
16. The field delivers your more potent frequency, your true feeling. (3)

17. Your heart is your compass; don't judge. (3)
18. Words are frequencies: speak positively, from the heart. (3)
19. A price is a condition; give from the heart and let people choose. (4)
20. Accept money, but never limit yourself to it. (4)
21. Be the abundance you want to see. (4)
22. Give from the heart as your currency. (5)
23. A low state is a location: neutralize, then shift. (5)
24. Think through the structure, not the emotion. (5)
25. Believe humanity is changing. (5)
26. Let go of what you carry: forgive and start from zero. (6)
27. You don't change others; you change yourself and shift. (6)
28. Lessons repeat until you let go 100%. (6)
29. Stop, transform, complete, then leave it alone. (7)
30. You cannot go against creation. (7)
31. Never act from fear; act from the heart. (8)
32. Trust the heart's first impulse. (8)
33. Give what you have; giving doesn't require money. (9)
34. It's resonance, not punishment. (9)
35. Heart-based exchange opens instant manifestation. (10)
36. Everything can change except a bylaw. (10)
37. Drop the details; know you have it; act; leave it open. (11)
38. Chasing someone reprints them; forgiveness lets them go. (11)
39. Neutralize into the vacuum, then project something potent. (12)
40. Don't judge; change comes from within, then act. (12)
41. Share what works; build together from the ground up. (13)
42. Benevolent help never overrides your consciousness. (13)
43. Your biggest villain could be your biggest teacher. (14)
44. Forgive, or the mirror keeps the loop going. (14)
45. Imagine the life, not the money. (15)
46. No one's truth has to be yours; thank it and switch. (16)
47. Don't fight what you dislike; it feeds that timeline. (17)
48. Your vibration decides who you connect with. (18)
49. The grids mirror you: you perceive exactly what you create. (19)

50. To see a timeline, project its vibration. (S2 1)
51. Challenges happen for you, not to you. (S2 1)
52. Intention is the frequency; your words build your hologram. (S2 2)
53. There is no past: only the vibration you keep carrying. (S2 3)
54. Body and heart together are the vehicle; change them slowly. (S2 4)
55. Bow to no one; respect every belief. (S2 5)
56. A prediction is a platform: take it as true, or not. (S2 6)
57. Live from the heart, and deception surfaces by itself. (S2 7)
58. A prediction is the end result; who, how and when are probabilities. (S2 8)
59. Nobody is outside you: another person's reality is true for you only if you engage. (S2 9)
60. You are never in the same situation twice; whatever you hold most becomes the outcome. (S2 10)
61. Awareness first, then desire, then action: you can't shift what you refuse to see. (S2 11)
62. There is nothing artificial about intelligence: intention decides its use. (S2 12)
63. Acknowledge and thank what you feel; rejection is a frequency that comes back. (S2 13)
64. You can't skip a lesson: fighting your own hologram makes it loop. (S2 14)
65. Project it to construct it to see it, not see it to construct it. (S2 15)
66. Each action makes the new hologram more potent than the last. (S2 16)
67. Research with logic: anyone can claim anything; sincere searching brings the answer. (S2 17)
68. Shine the light gently: give others time to adjust to the truth. (S2 18)
69. You value yourself the most when you give freely: you give to another version of yourself. (S2 19)
70. Dimensions run simultaneously; you switch by embodying the frequency. (S2 20)
71. Name the state of being you want; naming what you reject reprints it. (S2 21)
72. Create with pure intention: intimacy from the heart builds a reality; lust scatters it. (S2 22, DP)
73. Drop the expectation: it blocks the manifestation; the least resistance lets it in. (S2 23, NT, SD)
74. Every switch of platform passes through the zero point; an old program left running loops. (S2 24, HR, DP)

75. Consciousness, body and heart shift as one unit; doubt splits a sub-reality. (S2 25, DP, HR)

Daily practice

- Morning: give thanks for what you have; write what you love and choose the most exciting thing to act on.
- When upset: run the Pull Out method (Section 1, Fig. D); for strong negatives, the Overwrite Protocol (Section 2, Fig. I).
- When the news or others tell you what will happen: "That's their projection." Give gratitude, project what you choose (2.5).
- Affirm in the now: "I am", "I know", never "I will" (2.9).
- Before saying yes: run the Truth Check (Section 3). Kind honesty, no white lies.
- After work: spend time on your passion and give something from the heart, with no condition (Section 4).
- Feeling low: run Shift Your Location (Section 5): thank, neutralize, potent gratitude and action.
- Learning: study in short pieces of about 15 minutes, and rewatch (5.2).
- After a hard day: gratitude for why you were there, then something you enjoy; move your body (6.7).
- An old memory or belief returns: forgive, start from zero, replace it with a positive picture (6.6).
- In an argument or replay: Stop · Transform · Complete (Section 7).
- Before a decision: the Heart Check: heart, fear or ego? (Section 8).
- Feeling flat: an uplifting film, music that gives goosebumps, or a kindness for a stranger (8.13).
- Money worry: "I have everything I need." Give something non-monetary today (9.1).
- Old memory replaying: Layer a New You (Section 9).
- Wanting something specific: Leave It Open: strip the details, "I have everything I need", act (Section 11).
- Someone keeps causing problems: neutralize and forgive; don't go after them (11.6).
- Two realities pulling at you: Through the Vacuum: neutralize, project potently, act (Section 12).
- Ill or in pain: see your doctor; use Stop · Transform · Complete alongside (12.4).
- Choosing music: pick what lifts you; tones carry frequencies (12.5).
- New guidance or a new health idea: check it with research and a professional before acting (13.1).

- Have something useful: share it; pool small amounts with others (13.2).
- Someone hurts you: Forgive and Transform (Section 14); thank them for the lesson.
- Morning: list the day's tasks and plan how to lift the heavy ones (14.8).
- Heavy news or teachings: thank them, don't condemn, switch the channel (Section 16).
- Something you dislike in the world: don't agree, don't fight; project the positive (17.7).
- Before meditating or asking for guidance: feel love first, then take the first answer (Section 18).
- When something shocks you: ask "What is this teaching me?", look within, and act from the heart (S2 1).
- Speak your hologram: mean it, say it firmly, act on it, and repeat it with the same joy (S2 2).
- When an old hurt comes back: ask "Which reality is this?", thank it, and stop carrying it (S2 3).
- One unit: in meditation, feel love through your whole body, as one (S2 4).
- Before acting on any health claim: check it, and ask your doctor (S2 5).
- Prepare calmly: if you prepare for change, do it from understanding, never from fear (S2 6).
- Weekly giving: after your bills, help a few people freely each week (S2 7).
- Manifestation meditation: blueprint plus heart feeling; hold, drop, then act (S2 8).
- Create together: raise the emotion to goosebumps at the same time, then hold it moment to moment (S2 9).
- Frequency training: check yourself every 20–30 minutes and shift physically into the positive (S2 10).
- Thank the traces: when the old reality shows up, give gratitude for the location, then switch to the heart (S2 11).
- Play the game: when something unsettles you, make it a game, switch to joy, and ace the lesson (S2 12).
- 30-minute location check: acknowledge, zero, gratitude, joy to goosebumps, action, no expectations (S2 13).
- Brutally honest review: when the same situation returns, write it down, check for ego, jealousy or anger, and override it (S2 14).
- Find your location: read a situation as X and Y, pull out, subside to zero, thank it, switch and hold steady (S2 15).
- 5D Earth meditation: joy to goosebumps, see your 5D Earth and galactic family, increase, hold, drop; revisit nightly (S2 16).

- Recall your night: on waking, write down any fragment, then sit back and let the memory return (S2 17).
- When it recurs: keep a paper trail and ask, fear or heart? Fear: rebuild from zero. Heart: let it go (S2 18).
- Give freely: after the bills, set aside a day or two a week to help without a price (S2 19).
- One steady minute: hold one image with warm feeling for a full minute, in the now (S2 20).
- Affirm the state of being: "I am healthy, I am free", felt, every half hour (S2 21).
- Keep the romance: go out, talk, please each other, not only tasks (S2 22).
- Back to your vibration: pull back, gratitude, leave, calm, switch; a reminder every half hour (S2 23).
- Choose by excitement: write two options side by side; act on the one that excites you most (S2 24).
- Catch the doubt: when "maybe not" appears, return to knowing it already exists (S2 25).
- Watch your words: positive, from the heart (3.9).
- After a big shift (dizziness, nausea): rest, integrate, and check your body (3.7).
- Forgot why you came in? Recall the last room's frequency (2.7).
- With difficult people: kind tone, no judgment, accept the outcome.
- When something is missing: know you have it, take action, watch for synchronicity.
- Self-check: Am I doubting or scripting the how? Do my feelings match my words? Am I holding steady? Then what do I actually need right now?
